

ROYAL Baking Powder

The strongest, purest, most efficient and wholesome of leavening agents. Not lowest in price, yet the most economical; indispensable to all who appreciate the best and most healthful food.

Our country is enjoying prosperity almost unsurpassed in its history.

For every one there is money enough to buy that to eat which is pure, sound, good, wholesome.

Why should we use cheap, impure, unhealthful articles of food? There is no economy in them; they endanger the health, they may cost life. There are reported almost daily cases of sickness caused by eating cake, puddings or biscuit made with the cheap, alum baking powders.

In all articles for food buy and use only the best. The good health of the family is of first consideration.

Alum is used in many baking powders because it makes them cheap. It costs less than two cents a pound. Alum is a corrosive poison. Think of feeding it to children! Yet the manufacturers of well-known alum powders are actually denying that their goods contain it.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Tammany Budget.

Matt Dowd left Friday for Cottonwood on a business trip. The venerable Mr. Wells has built a new barn on his little Tammany farm.

George Smith has gone into the cattle business quite extensively. Mr. Smith informs us that he has now about 175 head, mostly calves, which were bought during the fall and winter.

A gentle chinook, accompanied by considerable rain, swept over this locality last Friday. The heavy snow was soon reduced to water, leaving the roads in a bad condition.

The fall grain shows up nicely since the snow disappeared. It shows no sign of injury.

Obituary.

Mrs. Jane Russell Parks, wife of J. R. Parks, died at her home on Chestnut street, at 3 o'clock p. m., Thursday, after an illness of only a few hours. While Mrs. Parks has been more or less of an invalid for several years, she was in her usual health until about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, when she was taken severely ill and rapidly grew worse until the end. The news of her death was a great surprise and shock to her many friends in Vineland, where she has lived for the past four years. Mrs. Parks was the daughter of J. D. Russell and was born in Baker county, Oregon, in 1862, and later moved to Whitman county, Wash., where she was married in 1882. Mr. and Mrs. Parks lived in Whitman county until 1897, when they moved to Vineland. The funeral services were held at her late residence at 3 p. m. today, and was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Laing, pastor of the Christian church, of which Mrs. Parks had long been a member. She leaves a husband and two children, Ella May and Roy J., to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. Mrs. Park was of a retiring disposition and did not push herself into prominence, and was highly esteemed by the entire community. She was always a good neighbor, and one who considered her first duty was to her family, and was a type of woman who have made the name "mother" sacred to every American heart.—Clarkston Republican.

Remenyi's Pupil.

Mr. Elmore Rice, the violin artist, who gave the recital last evening at the opera house, was one of the few pupils ever instructed by the master artist, Remenyi. Mr. Rice studied with him while in New York several years ago, and tells many interesting things about his master. Remenyi was a master of technique and a born lover of the violin with the soul and temperament of a great artist. All the proceeds of his concert tours were invested in a collection of violins which were valued at $700,000. His favorite instrument was a Guarnerius, which cost him $7,000, but Mr. Rice saw him a few months before his death, when he was getting a new purchase, a Stradivarius, for which he had just paid $4,500, and which for the time was dividing honors with the old favorite.

The violin used by Mr. Rice is one of the famous Amati instruments. It is over 200 years old and is worth twice its age in coin of the realm. Mr. Rice is a young artist of great promise. He is a San Francisco boy by birth, spent five years in New York studying under the best masters and has been now six years touring the country giving recitals. Next year he will again go to study under the great Belgian violinist, Ovide Musin. He hopes to spend two years in Europe rounding out his musical studies.

Slightly Mixed.

During the recent convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in this city members of the reception committee were on duty at the railroad passenger stations for the purpose of according a proper welcome to the incoming delegates. Among those assigned to the work at the Pennsylvania depot was a particularly attractive young woman, who was as ambitious as she was inexperienced as regards the work of greeting strangers.

A train rolled in, and as the passengers alighted therefrom the attractive young woman was all in a flutter. She scanned the stream of humanity as it filed through the big gate, and at length espied a well dressed gentleman, who not only wore a silk hat, but also a white ribbon attached to the lapel of his coat.

The attractive young woman rushed to meet the well dressed gentleman as eagerly as though he were her long lost brother.

"So glad to see you," she exclaimed, "Come right along and I will conduct you to comfortable quarters."

The wearer of the silk hat and the white ribbon was rendered speechless for a moment. He finally managed to gasp: "Beg pardon, Miss, but isn't this a mistake?"

"Can't be a mistake," the attractive young woman hurriedly declared. "You see, we both wear the white ribbon."

"And what does yours represent?" the stranger then wanted to know.

"Why, it's the badge of the W. C. T. U., of course."

"Well, mine is the color of the winning horse in the last race at the Benning race track this afternoon," the well dressed gentleman smilingly explained. Consternation and apologies followed.—Washington Star.
