The action of greatest importance taken by the triennial Episcopal convention was the adoption by the house of bishops, by a vote of 37 to 21, of canon 36, which relates to the solemnization of matrimony. All of its provisions had provisionally been agreed to except those contained in Section 4, which forbade the marriage of persons divorced for any cause not existing before marriage.

The Cape Town Gazette has proclaimed martial law in the districts of Cape Town, Wynberg, Port Elizabeth and East London. The proclamation is the outcome of the recent visit of the premier of Cape Colony, Sir John Gordon, and the under secretary of native affairs in South Africa, J. Ross Innes, to the British high commissioner, Lord Milner. It places under military control the few points in Cape Colony hitherto exempted and the constitution is therefore suspended over the entire colony. This action probably foreshadows the commencement of vigorous measures which those on the spot are understood to believe necessary to end the war. Martial law will be modified in its application to the ports by leaving the docks, railroads and harbors under the control of the civil authorities. Military rule will be mitigated in some other respects.

Leadville, Col., is wild with excitement over the killing of one boy and the fatal wounding of two others this afternoon by Jesse Sherman, a prominent ranchman, residing near Leadville, and who, with his family, are among the most respected residents of the place. He caught a crowd of boys supposedly poaching on his rabbit preserve, and, jumping from his buggy, he started after them with a heavily loaded shotgun in his hand. Sherman claims it was accidentally discharged while he was running. Ed Dorrington, 16 years of age, was instantly killed; Earl King, aged 17, is shot through the right lung and is dying, and James Considine, 14 years, is shot through the back and hips.

"Within nine days that fine mare will die, the colt that you value will die, your lasting hunting dog will disappear, then you will die." This was the prophecy made by an unknown, mysterious woman to Dr. Alfred G. Lemberger, and it came true to the letter, for Dr. Lemberger fell over dead from heart failure on the evening of the ninth day. Other conditions of the prophecy had already been fulfilled. Now every detective on the Louisville force and every police officer and every newspaper reporter are looking for the strange woman who made that prediction. Physicians say that she probably caused the man's death by the psychic effect upon him.

REPORT ON TRADE.

Bradstreet's report on trade for last week is as follows:

Some quieting down in the general demand for merchandise was noted last week, partly the result of weather conditions—rain in the northwest and warmer weather at the west, while at the south the restricted movement of cotton delayed collections at several markets. The lull in the demand for dry goods, clothing and shoes from western jobbers is, however, not unexpected, being accounted for by the advanced stage of the season.

Hardware is steady at nearly all markets, and supplies are generally limited. Some weakness in nails is noted at the east, notwithstanding active demand, but at the west wire mills are behind on orders. Special activity in lead and zinc is noted at western primary points. Copper is in hand to mouth demand here, but it is to be noted that spot prices have advanced at London. Tin is higher here, in sympathy with the speculative advance at the same market.

Among cereal products the feature is the active demand for flour at higher prices. Wheat is a fraction higher on the week, on a belief that following the recent decline caused by the heavily increased movement at the northwest and the gain in visible supply reaction is due.

Wheat, including flour, exports for textile mills were built, of which 147 wheat exports, July 1 to date (14 weeks), aggregate $9,968,178 bushels, as against 50,458,240 last season.

The boot, shoe, leather and kindred industries are all active, and eastern shoe shipments are 14 per cent larger for the season than a year ago. The strength of hides and recent advance in leather have been still further narrowing the margin of profit in shoe manufacturing.

Two Burned, One Dies, Other Insane.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 14.—As a result of a quarrel at a dance in Lane, a little town in Potawatomi county, two men were burned to death, one lies at the point of death and another is hopelessly insane.

A dance was held which was attended by a large number of the rougher young men of the community. About 1 o'clock in the morning a general fight started. When it was over it was found that John Teehan had been struck in the head and fatally injured.

When it became known how seriously Teehan was hurt the other dancers scattered. One of them, Eugene Cronan, a real estate agent, went to his office to sleep and was accompanied by J. McDonald. During the early hours of the morning the office was set on fire by some of the dancers, and the two men were burned to death. The accumulated events of the night proved to much for the father of Cronan, and he has gone hopelessly and violently insane.

Rhodes Denies It.

Cape Town, Oct. 13.—Sensational developments are expected from a case which was heard in the supreme court today, in which Thomas Louw obtained judgment for 1150 pounds against Princess Radziwill. The money was advanced on a promissory note for 2000 pounds drawn by the princess and purporting to have been indorsed by Cecil Rhodes. Mr. Rhodes repudiated the indorsement and all knowledge of the affair. The court allowed the case against Mr. Rhodes to stand over until November, pending the arrival of Mr. Rhodes' affidavits. PAT CROWE IS HEARD FROM

KIDNAPER OF CUDAHY, JR.

He Sent a Letter Stating He Is Willing to Surrender, and Names the Terms—Wants a Square Deal—He Has Been in South Africa, Fighting With the Boers—Sent a Draft to His Attorney.

Omaha, Neb., 15.—Chief of Police Donahue has received a letter from Pat Crowe, naming the terms on which he will surrender. The letter came in care of an Omaha newspaper, in which it is published, and covers 15 closely written pages of manuscript. The postmark is illegible, but the letter was mailed at 8 o'clock in the morning and reached this city at 8 in the evening of the same day, indicating that it had not traveled a long distance. In the letter Crowe agrees to give himself up at once and stand trial for the kidnapping of Eddie Cudahy, providing he is not locked up until a jury shall adjudge him guilty. He says he is unable to furnish bond in excess of $500 and demands that bail be fixed in that sum.

Chief Donahue expresses himself as satisfied that the letter came from Crowe. Donahue has known Crowe for several years, is acquainted with his manner, handwriting and style of speech. The chief also received today a letter from Crowe's uncle at Manchester, Iowa, submitting similar terms for Crowe's surrender, which leads the police to believe that they are dealing with the right man.

Crowe, in his letter, takes the detectives to task, defying them to affect his arrest, and continues:

"Now, Mr. Donahue, let me tell you all I ask is justice, a fair trial by 12 men, citizens of Douglass county, Nebraska. Not by Herod or any of his kind. There gold is gold, and with that power they rule the world.

"Donahue, all I ask is a fair deal. Grant my request and I will give myself up.

"Mr. Cudahy has known me for 13 years. He now believes me guilty, nevertheless I think he will grant me a fair trial, as all he wants is the public to know the truth."

Crowe says he has known Governor Savage ever since he was a barefooted boy on the farm in Iowa, expresses regret that he has fallen into ill repute and then lays down the conditions of his surrender as follows:

"Now, Mr. Donahue, I will give myself up to you if you will promise me upon your word of honor that I will not be locked up until the jury says guilty. If the jury says that, I will take my punishment like a man, without a murmur.

"I can give a bond for $500 and that is all. If the court will not accept that, I will remain a fugitive from justice.

"Your answer to this must bear the signatures of Edward Cudahy, Governor Savage, Sheriff John Power, Attorney Shields, Chief Donahue and the judge that fixes the bond.

"Mr. Donahue, I want you to understand that I am not afraid of the combined wealth of all the Cudahys on earth, and the services of all the detectives they can hire. Their efforts to pinch me will bite the dust, for I am ready to die in the mix. I will not be kangarooed.

"Chief, I ask but I do not expect to get justice. There is some one who wants to put me away and I know the god of gold."

Crowe says that he has been in South Africa, fighting with the Boers, recites reminiscences relative to the contests. He decides that Chief Donahue's reply be made through a local paper, and says if his offer is not accepted he will return to South Africa again, from where he will probably never return again.

Chief Donahue said tonight that he would request the city and Mr. Cudahy to withdraw the rewards for Crowe, with the provision that Crowe surrenders himself. He said that if Crowe gave himself up he will be given all the privileges the law allows.

Edward Cudahy said recently: "I am opposed to entering into any special negotiations of the arrest of Crowe. It is only a matter of time when he will be apprehended. However, I will withdraw the reward offered for his arrest and conviction."

Several months ago a prominent attorney of this city, who had formerly been employed by Pat Crowe, received a draft from Crowe from South Africa for legal services rendered.

Shot McCaine in the Back.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 14.—William J. McCaine, a miner, while on his way to work this evening was shot in the heart and instantly killed by Patrick Hayes, also a miner, just as he was leaving his boarding house. Hayes stood in the doorway and shot through a screen door as McCaine approached him.

Hayes started the row by striking a girl who worked at the place. After his release from jail he came back and accosted the girl, daring her to put her head out of a window. Then, still filled with a thirst for revenge, he asked for McCaine, who had befriended the girl during the trouble earlier in the day.

Hayes remained in and about the house during the day, and in the evening when McCaine was going to work in the mine, where he was employed, Hayes shot him in the back as he was passing out of the door.

Hayes is about 30 years of age and unmarried.

Hayes is still at large and the entire police force and a posse of sheriff's deputies are searching for him.
