Paragraphically Cold

J. C. Peterson, editor of the Peck Press, was a caller at this office Tuesday.

Harve Foresman is out again after being confined to his home for four days.

Miss Inez Baird is among her many friends after a long absence in Spokane.

Col. Dewey has just invested $100,000 in a mine in the Thunder Mountain district.

L. A. Porter has shipped 60 car loads of fruit from the Potlatch country this season.

There were four births in Lewiston last month—three girls and one boy and no deaths.

One of the Miller brothers residing on Sixth street, is on the sick list this week with fever.

Mrs. Bert Younkman who was reported as suffering from typhoid fever is out of danger.

The Western Union Telegraph company is soon to put in a city office here. It is badly needed.

W. M. Blair is constructing a large livery barn at 110, a thing that has long been needed there.

Wilbur Leland and Capt. Ed Martinson, who have been out all summer looking after Uncle Sam's domain, are in the city for the winter.

B. F. Lyford has established a paper at 110 called the News Wave. The first number was issued Nov. 1.

The marriage of Miss Barbara E. Unzicker and Robert Huxaby was a social event at Nezperce this week.

For several days during the past week Lewiston people have been troubled with some sort of a low grade fever.

Billy Schult is all right as city marshal. Fifty violators of city law were handled by his office the past month.

L. Dibek, manufacturing jeweler located on East Main street in the Jones block, has an ad in this paper. Read it.

The little son of Dr. Lapard, who has been ill ten days with fever, is nearly strong enough to resume work with his toys.

During the week ending over 500 house-seekers have arrived in Lewiston and are now scattered over the country looking for locations.

Nezperce is growing. It has added a number of residences and business buildings this season. The number of births has exceeded the deaths.

Rev. J. D. McConkey was the officiating minister at the wedding of Albert Segard and Elsie Taylor, in this city Friday evening. The contracting parties reside at Culesac.

Dick McElroy was knocked off a bridge at Potlatch Monday and suffered severe injury to his spine. He was brought to this city for treatment. This emphasizes the need of a hospital here.

The car famine, unless relieved soon, will result in stopping grain buying for a time. About all the spare money in this section is tied up, while more than a million bushels of grain is at stations ready for shipment.

Friday was a busy day in the Police court in Spokane. All the women of white chapel and all the gamblers paid their monthly fine. The sum total was $435. This licenses these persons to conduct their business until Dec. 1.

The Idaho county board of commissioners have awarded the contract for building a bridge over the Clearwater river at Harpater to A. J. Turner. Work upon the structure is going ahead. When completed this will be of great benefit to all who travel over that section.

Ab Anderson and Sam Singletary opened their Horse Shoe saloon Saturday night. There was a splendid lunch and of the 500 persons who called none went away without their share of turkey and other good things. The proprietors announced a pleasant evening for all, and that is just what they gave.

The following are the new officers of the District Union C. E.: President J. F. Collins, Kendrick; vice-president, Byron Hunter, Lewiston; secretary, D. T. A. McIntosh, of Kendrick; treasurer, Dr. W. F. Galbraith, Lewiston; trustees, Thomas H. Brewer, Genesee; Rev. J. A. Dineen, Lewiston; Rev. E. P. Giboney, Lewiston.

There are 500 members of the Western Federation of Miners in Owyhee county. The court there under Judge Stewart closed its term. There was not a case before the grand jury, nor even one for the petit jury, and in the only criminal case a plea of guilty was entered and $6 covered the cost. This should cause some people to reflect over charges made against the Miners' Union.

A Methodist minister at Spokane last Sunday held services in the Coeur d'Alene theater and gambling house. Dutch Jake closed his bar on the theater floor but kept the rest of the house wide open. It was a novel sight to see ladies and gentlemen who perhaps never had been in such a place before, going in the front door through a great saloon and up into another to hold a religious service. But Dutch Jake is a liberal minded man, fully believing that if good can be done for the human family he will not stand in the road.

The people on East C street ought to feel grateful to the present council. It has placed lights at two of the darkest corners. Now a sidewalk is to be constructed on both sides of the street from Fifth to Seventh, relieving them from the necessity of wading mud knee deep for four months of every year. The cost of this improvement will add to the appearance of the city and also make that section more desirable as a residence district and help the landlords to keep their houses filled with paying tenants, as two-thirds of the buildings are not owned by those who live in them.

Was 87 Years Old.

The funeral of James Davis at Alpowa Tuesday was largely attended. In his death the community lost an estimable citizen. For a long time he was a sufferer from asthma. He was 87 years of age.

Foot Ball Game.

The Cheney Normal school is to engage the Lewiston Normal in a game November 15. The Washington boys are hard and fast kickers and a game worth seeing will be on that day.

Teachers' Examinations.

Mrs. Robnett, county school superintendent, has announced that the quarterly examination of teachers will be held at the court house, Nov. 21, 22 and 23. Questions on state constitution will be taken from Article 3, and in school law from Chapter 33.

Defended His Home.

Frank Simmons, who was arrested for pouring cold lead into the anatomy of a man named Burke while he and two others were destroying his cabin near Culesac, was acquitted. Simmons was defended by John Green and the state was represented by Prosecutor Miles S. Johnson.

No Use for Scalpers.

The O. R. & N. has determined to end the scalpers' business over their lines. A ticket exchanger is now on the trains between Spokane and Portland. He will take up all tickets that have been tampered with. The company claims this is to protect the company and its patrons. Just the same if one has a scalper's ticket the chances are he will not ride far over that line.

A New Opera House.

Plans are being talked over among some leading citizens with reference to a first class opera house. During the past week the agent of a syndicate owning several amusement houses in the west was here looking over the ground. A joint stock company will do the work. The lot owned by R. Grossman and the county lot and the Means' property were looked at by the visitor. But just what was done could not be learned.

Clarkston's Bank.

F. M. Hinkley has resigned his place with the Idaho National bank of this city and will engage in the banking business in Clarkston. He has purchased a four-ton burglar proof safe from the Security Bank at Palouse City. His brother, Dr. Hinkley, is associated with him in the conduct of the business. He will practice his profession in Lewiston. E. D. Thomas, who has been keeping books for McGilvery & Boston will go to the Idaho Bank and take the place of Mr. Dibble, who has been advanced to cashier.

Secret Societies.

There are many good people who abhor secret societies. But every day some of their good work is made manifest. They offer a protection more safe and sure than gold. Gold deserts the possessors. The secret society never deserts one worthy, who possesses its truths. One may fall in sickness or accident or death who is outside their organization—may be miles from home and friends, but the one who is a member is always in the home of friends. This work is Christ-like, and it is always at hand—when need of help is greatest. Money invested returns itself a hundred fold, if not to the possessor direct, to one who is his brother in need.

Board Election Officers.

The following persons have been elected to serve at the special election Nov. 19:
 First Ward—J. Q. Moxley, B. F. Morris, C. H. Garby, judges; C. P. Coburn, E. L. Wiggins, clerks.
 Second Ward—J. D. McConkey, T. D. Barton, F. J. Boston, judges; D. J. McGilvery, Mrs. F. J. Edwards, clerks.
 Third Ward—K. T. Thompson, T. B. Cooper, C. W. Robnett, judges; H. W. Reamer, J. P. Roos, clerks.
 Polling places were selected as follows: First ward, city hall; Second ward, nose house No. 2; Third ward, Small & Emery's mill.

Poor Man.

The matrimonial agency fake gathers in the usual number of suckers each year. The man or woman who has to resort to such methods is usually no good. If so, they could find in the community where they are best known, suitable life partners. Occasionally Uncle Sam figures in these cases, and then some one goes in for a long term of prison life. An Oregon lady won three Idaho bachelors last week. Each sent her money to come, but she differed from the Black Cat—remained in Oregon. One Idaho bachelor was made mad and had her arrested for using the mails to obtain money by fraud. That man is the one who should be given a term along with the lady. But as Idaho has no home for the feeble minded he doubtless will be left alone for the purpose of feeding some other fakir.

K. of P. Resolutions.

Castle Hall, Excelsior Lodge No. 2 K. of P., Lewiston, Idaho, Nov. 6, 1901.

Whereas, in the mysterious councils of the All Wise Supreme Chancellor of the Universe, it has seemed fit to remove from our midst our beloved and esteemed brother, Claude T. Evans,

Resolved, that by his removal we have lost a true and loyal knight, one whose integrity, honorable conduct and industry commanded the respect of all, and who exemplified in his large heartedness and sympathy a true man such as is embodied in the principles of Pythianism—Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

Resolved, that the bereaved relatives of the deceased have, by this tribute to his memory and testimony to his character, an expression of our profound sympathy.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the records, a page set apart to his memory, a copy transmitted to his relatives, and publication thereof be made in the local papers.

The Red Headed Boy.

She had held the job of teaching the infant class for many years and had heard many interesting replies to her questions concerning the Bible. But the red headed boy, who sat always at the end of the seat nearest the door, gave her some thing entirely different Sunday morning. The Sunday school lessons are now confined to the old testament. He had told her all he knew concerning Joseph and his coat of many colors. When she asked them who was the strongest man mentioned in the old scriptures. Then the class shouted as a unit, "Samson!" Then she asked, "What did Samson do?" A little one said, "He took down the gate from Geza's walls." "Why did he take down the gate?" she asked. The red headed boy rose up and placed one hand on the door knob and yelled in triumph: "Because it was Hallow'een!"
