LOOKOUT TRAMWAY ASSURED

Special From Lookout States the Conditions of the Tramway and Telephone Work—Summit Tramway Will Be Extended to Lookout.

LOOKOUT, July 20, (Special)—A canvass of the stock holders and directors of the Summit Tramway company has been made and there seems to be no doubt that the stock of the company will be enlarged in a few weeks and money secured from the sale of this new stock for the purpose of extending the Lenore tramway from Summit to Lookout. Two thirds of the stock of this corporation is owned by farmers of the Gifford country and they are unanimous in their approval of this scheme. Men living along the proposed line have even gone so far as to offer the right of way free of charge provided stations are established for the purpose of taking on and putting off goods for those people living in the adjacent country. The cost of this extension would not be more than $30,000 for the five miles of tram and equipments. The line would add between 500 and 800 feet to its elevation making the altitude from the base between 2300 and 2800 feet. This elevation would provide power for shipments of freight when the ascending cars were loaded and the company already has steam power enough at the top of the big hill to haul freight along the entire line.

Fletcher, Ilo, Dublin, Pine City, Winchester and Chesley are hauling their freight up the steep mountain road over almost an impassable rocky grade from Culesac. All this business will be given to the tramway as soon as it reaches Lookout. The conditions on Cold Spring prairie and the Il country are not understood by the people in the lower countries. The timothy crop will be cut next week and the wheat hay harvest will begin two weeks later and the grain harvest comes some time in September. By that time the fall rains will have set in and fall hauling will be impossible as the roads become impassable, some teams sticking in the deep mud going down hill. The last two weeks from forty to sixty teams have been hauling last year's crop from the mountains daily and this will continue six weeks longer. With the tramway extended to Lookout this grain can be hauled to market on sleighs in the winter when two and three tons can be moved by one team. There is also another expenditure to be counted in by these farmers. Under the present conditions a new wagon is to be bought after hauling two crops this will go away with all that. Parties from the mountain sections state that they can place enough stock in their country to insure the improvement. A conversation with W. E. Schnebly of this place president of the Lookout telephone company, it is learned that its inactivity in pushing the Kendrick Lookout line was caused by the impossibility of securing men to cut the poles. The country is in so prosperous condition that labor cannot be had at any price and the farmers are above such work. They are very independent. As soon as the Kendrick line can be built the connections will be made with the Inter-tate company, a farmers institution at Moscow. Connection is already made at Culesac with the Nezperce cooperative system that covers the Nezperce prairie. These systems expect to consolidate as soon as arrangements can be made. Messrs. Schnedley and Puntenny were in Lewiston yesterday looking after the telephone quarters there.

Work for the Willing.

No able-bodied, sober man in all the Pacific northwest need be without work at this season of the year. The only requisites are a willingness to work decently, steady habits and the ability to turn the hand to something useful. The hay harvest now on will be followed by the grain harvest, and that in turn by fruit gathering and hoppers. In another industrial line there is grading and clearing to do, ditches to dig and wood to chop, and the weather is favorable for it all. None of this work is to be found in the city.—Oregonian.

Harvesting 150 Acres a Day.

A. S. Thurber, agent for the Houser & Haines Mfg. Co. of Stockton, Cal., is in receipt of a letter from his company, giving a record run of one of the 42 foot cut combined harvesters. The machine was pulled by a sixty horse power traction engine, and on July 12th, near Tracy, California, in a twelve hour run, cut, threshed, re-cleaned and sacked 150 acres of grain. This certainly makes the record for rapid harvesting.

Died at the Poor Farm.

C. H. Hamlin died at the poor farm yesterday after an occupancy there of four years. The deceased was 84 years old and died of old age. For a number of years he mined on the Salmon river and is well known there.

INDIAN CAYUSE MUST GO

Indian Ponies Around Lapwai Have Become Infected With Scab and Mange—The Farmers Have Declared War Against the Beasts.

The Indian cayuse must go is the declaration of the reservation farmers and the law must be carried out. The noble Indian pony of the Nez Perce reservation will soon be a thing of the past under the law providing for the destruction of diseased stock in the state.

Bert Hulmes and Ira King were in the city last Saturday and consulted with Sheriff Schults as to the best ways of destroying between 2500 and 3000 Indian ponies infected with scab and mange that roam the ranges on Tom Beal and Lapwai creeks.

The sheriff deputized these young men to take the matter in hand and they will set about exterminating the pests. A large number of fine horses have caught the disease by exposure to these infected bronchos.

The three or four thousand ponies left on the reservation have been cut down by the advent of the settler to so small allowance of range that they have starved to death by the hundred during the winter. The present disease that has broken out among them would prove fatal to the herd that is left, if the law had not taken a hand in their extermination.

Peck Fair Association Sets Dates.

The Reservation Agricultural, Fruit and Stock Fair Association will hold its annual exposition at Peck October 5th to 10th inclusive. This is the announcement made from the office of the manager yesterday. The dates are set so as to not conflict with the dates of any other town, the dates for the Lewiston fair being October 26 31. After the fair here closes the exhibit will be taken to Boise, Walla Walla and then back to Lewiston to exhibit, and afterward it will be taken to St Louis, where it will be given a prominent place in the Idaho exhibit at the world's fair.

Thomas Kirby, the efficient manager, is now daily engaged in the arduous task of preparing for display the splendid samples that are being brought in. The interior of the fair building has the appearance of an agricultural bureau—a place where strangers may view with wonder samples of every product of this prolific country. As the season advances the display will be added to from all parts of the country. The premium list committee will complete their work in the near future.

There promises to be no lack of attractions at the fair this season. A number of applications for privileges have already been received. All together the outlook is most favorable that the coming fair will be the best ever held here.

Russell Ridge Is Prosperous.

George P. Edmonson, road overseer of Russell precinct, was in the city yesterday making his report to the county commissioners. While here he stated that the prospects for crops in his portion of the reservation was never better and the high prices of cereals made every farmer's face wear ripples of smiles. Haying is in its prime and a number of farmers, including himself, will put binders in their barley next week. The roads are in good condition but other interests seem to make heavy demands on the people's time and it is hard to get them to prepare the highways for the winter seasons when the roads are bound to be heavy. There are sixty-five men in the road district. Enugh & Gorman finished the season at their sawmill last week. They have 800,000 feet of lumber at the yards for the summer and fall trade. This company is busy putting in a large planer having on hand a plentiful supply of fine dry lumber that will be made in finishing stuff.

Will Go to His Home in Denmark.

In reply to a call from his mother, Theodore Miller will leave next week for his home near Copenhagen, Denmark. Mr. Miller has been away from home and the old country 15 years and the expected trip promises to be an enjoyable one. In speaking of his home Mr. Miller said: "There has been great changes in that country since my coming to the western continent especially in the news facilities. Reports from Danish people say that every little village is provided with daily news where fifteen years ago they were completely isolated from the outside world. The trip will extend over six month's time."

Permanently Located.

Dr. Leak, the veterinary surgeon and horse dentist, has returned to Lewiston, Idaho, and permanently located and can be found at his old stand at Mallory & Lydon's livery stable. All calls attended day or night. Residence on Eighth street, first door north of Fortin's photograph gallery.

WORK OF COMMISSIONERS

County Commissioners Have Closed Their Work as a Board of Equalization—They Will Now Listen Ten Days for Complaints.

The county commissioners put in their time today examining bills against the county. Yesterday they finished the tax equalization. They will be in session at least ten days longer in order that anyone dissatisfied with their tax raise may appear and register his complaint.

A donation of $99 for the purpose of improving the Kamiah grade was made. The board has awarded to J. H. Sprague a contract for the delivery of 50 cords of red fir wood to the county at $5.90 per cord. Other bids submitted were as follows: By Fred M. Manning, $6.25 per cord; G. W. Truman, $6.35.

Road overseers' reports were examined and approved yesterday as follows: Jesse E. Walker, district No. 28; T. J. S. Mabbott, No. 11; T. D. King, No. 12; F. M. Hartley, No. 14; L. J. Southwick, No. 10; G. P. Edmonson, No. 23; C. H. Webster No. 4.

R. L. Spiker, in behalf of the citizens of Nezperce, appeared before the board and asked assistance of the county in rebuilding the county road in Lawyer canyon, recently destroyed by flood. Mr. Spiker also petitioned for a raise of the assessment of the real estate in the town of Nezperce 20 to 25 per cent. The present assessed valuation of the town property is $29,800.

The board has received the following communication: "Hailey, Idaho, July 16, 1903—We would respectfully ask that you send one member of your board before the state board of equalization, August 10, to urge said board to raise the valuation on railroad, telegraph and telephone lines in this state. We should be very glad to receive an expression of your views in this matter. Respectfully, (Signed), Board of county commissioners, Blaine county, Idaho."

The commissioners sent the following reply to the communication: "In reply to your recent communication will say that while it will be impossible for our board to be represented before the state board of equalization. We are heartily with you in your efforts to have the railroads, telegraph and telephone lines placed on an equal basis of valuation with the balance of the property in the state and sincerely hope that your efforts may be successful."

Clarkston's Ball Team Defeats Lewiston.

The game Sunday between Clarkston and Lewiston at Clarkston was void of interest and a one-side affair. During no time in the game did the visitors show any possibility of winning. Clarkston found Hamlin for five scores in the first inning hitting him to all parts of the field. "Can Oleson" then took the box but he failed to check the heavy batting of Clarkston. Lewiston made five scores on errors in the first innings and then were completely shut out for the next seven innings to get a bit of the Clarkston twirler Clarkston found no trouble in getting one or more scores each time their turn came. In the ninth innings Clarkston fully confident of the outcome carelessly let three scores more stand to the favor of Lewiston before they convinced them of their defeat. Lewiston was in bad form from the beginning. It was a constant repetition of fanning at the bat and wretched playing all round on Lewiston's part. Clarkston out-classed Lewiston and amused themselves and the crowd by playing a boyish game and then defeating Lewiston's strong aggregation.

The score by inning was as follows—
Lewiston.....5 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—8
Clarkston.....5 2 2 0 1 0 1 1—12

Starts Combine in Tammany.

John Nelson started his Haynes-Houser combine harvester that he bought from A. S. Thurber & Co., of this city, near his home on Tammany. The field that the combine is working in is very soft and quite steep and the machine is doing fine work both in the heading and threshing department. These machines are very light and Mr. Nelson says that he can pull his harvester anywhere with 24 or 26 horses. At present he is only using 10 teams.

Preparing Threshers for Harvest.

Jack McCormack has been preparing his new Case engine and separator for the harvest fields on the depot grounds today. This is a large rig. The separator has a 36 in. cylinder and the engine is 24 horse power. A Cleveland self feeder is attached. The outfit will be started in Tammany.

Fight at Spalding Yesterday.

A fight between Steve Moran and Tony Andrews occurred in front of M. L. Goldsmith's store at Spalding yesterday. Bruised faces were the only results. Those who saw it state the affair was short and peppery. Moran was drinking and an old grudge was settled. No arrests have been made.

GRAND LARCENY IS CHARGED

Fred Godard Charges Walter Pixley and Guy Davenport with Grand Larceny of Calves from a Corral Near Waha.

The neighborhood quarrels of Waha prairie had a chapter in the probate court this morning when the preliminary hearing was held on the charge of grand larceny made by Fred Godard against Walter Pixley and Guy Davenport, two young men of the Waha neighborhood. Both of the defendants seemed by their actions to show a grave interest in all of the evidence produced against them.

The state's witnesses examined were Fred Godard, Mrs. Flynn, mother of Pixley, W. M. Williams, Frank Flynn and Orin Pixley.

The charge of the state alleged that the defendants took three calves from as many cows on the morning of the 16th of July and driving them to Lewiston sold them to Dill Brothers butcher shop. Godard testified that he went and got the cows from the Flynn corral which is 5 or 6 miles distance from his home on the morning of the 17th that he came to Lewiston and identified the three calves, one in the yards and two on the meat hooks at Dill Bros. meat market and that he took the live calf home and it was returned to its mother. He denied that the corral was a public affair but stated that the cows returned to the corral where he had found them shut up the next day. It appears from the testimony that there was water and shade at the corral that attracted neighboring cattle.

Mrs. Flynn stated that she had instructed her son to take four of her oldest calves to town that day to put on the market, that the boy had gone and that she had missed four of her milk cow's calves, that on the night of the 16th a band of cattle had broken into her wheat field and she instructed Guy Davenport to drive them out and to put them in the corral to prevent their breaking in during the night, and that Godard had taken his cattle out early the next morning.

The state rested its case and the defense refused to submit any evidence. Argument in the case will be made by County Attorney Johnson for the state and Judge J. B. Anderson for the defense Saturday.

Library Plans Were Accepted.

The plans of Galbraith & Jones of Spokane for the Carnegie library building, which were accepted by the city council Saturday night, provide for a building in the Italian renaissance, covering a space 22½ by 65½ feet, with an 8 foot basement, and a ceiling 14 feet in height on the main floor. This main floor will contain the library room, reading rooms and librarian's office and delivery room. The floor of the librarian's room will be of white marble, while there will be an improved system of hot water heating and ventilation. The reading room and library will be lighted from the dome, which is composed of bronze iron set with glass. The architects agreed that the building, the construction of which they are to superintend and for which all plans are to be drawn for three and a half per cent of the cost, shall not exceed in cost $10,000, and if the bids received are in excess of this amount, the architects are to draw new plans without extra expense to the city. Bid for the construction of the building are to be asked or at once.

Change in Mail Routes.

The Gregg postoffice across the river from Kamiah has been discontinued. The postoffices of Glover, Woodland and Harrisburg have been receiving their mail by stage from Gregg. The stage line has been changed so that those postoffices can secure their mail from Kamiah direct.

This Year's Greatest Clothing Sale.

THIS is something unusual for us to sell Hart, Shaffner & Marks and the Stein-Bloch Clothing at such reduced prices. The reason is just this: We have just received 1400 pounds of Fall Clothing and we realize that it is only a short time until this new lot will have to take the front place in our clothing department. You know how we are crowded; will you help us and take advantage of these prices? This sale is to turn merchandise into hard cash.
