

School Books, Paper, Pens, Ink, Envelopes in large quantities at Savage & Emerson's.

Ice Cream favors very cheap at Hudson's.

The town authorities are giving old sidewalks a general tear-up, and are laying in their stead new ones.

Nice line of all kinds of Novels at Savage & Emerson's.

Mr. Austin Miller and family left this morning for St. Louis to attend the convention.

Mr. Jno. Coleman, traveling salesman of Colyar, White Lead & Oil Co. St. Louis, left this morning. He has been visiting his mother on Market st.

All the School Books used in this County, for sale at Hudson's Drug Store.

Wall Paper just received at Hudson's Cheap.

Have you seen the white rabbits and guinea-pigs at Calahan's, Photo Gallery?

Miss Ella Hornsby, the handsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. K. E. Hornsby, of Crainsville, returned home last week from a protracted visit to friends and relatives in Bolivar.

Don't forget the teacher's meeting at Middleton, Grand Junction, Hickory Valley, and Whitesville. Able teachers will be present.

Enterprise Cherry Stoner for sale at Hudson's.

Mason's Fruit Jars, also the Lightning, all sizes, cheap at Hudson's. Rubbers and Taps for Jars separate if desired.

Miss Amelia Dugan, of Jackson Tenn is visiting friends and relatives in town this week.

What young couple from this town was it that got lost across Hatchie river last Sunday, and enquired the way to Toone?

The four duels who went to Mt. Comfort last Sunday, wearing kid gloves, smoking cigars, cigarettes and chewing tobacco returned with heads up and dusting flying.

Fine Perfumes, Toilet Soaps, Tooth and Hair Brushes, Stationery and very cheap at Hudson's.

If you want Pure Drugs, Paints Oils &c go to Savage & Emerson's.

Mrs. Barrett has been visiting her two sons, Messrs Joe and Alex Barrett of this town, for the past ten days. She left yesterday for Bartlettville, Ark., where she will spend several weeks with her son and relatives. Mrs. Barrett is one of the pioneer ladies of this county and has nobly borne her part as one of the heroines of our civilization.

Our handsome dentist, Dr. Harris, of the firm of Johnson & Harris, left for North Carolina Wednesday evening. Dr. Harris will be absent several months. The Star wishes him a pleasant and profitable trip.

Buy your drugs, Paints, Oil, Lamps, Fishing Tackle, Millet Seed, etc. at Hudson's Drug Store and you will get them cheap.

The man who expects to rise in fame and wealth by rushing style will find himself at the end lower down than he started. Smoking cigars, drinking whiskey, buggy riding, and dressing fine neither increases your purse, nor builds up your reputation. It takes work and fair dealing, not style.

Fruit Jars of all kinds at Savage & Emerson's.

The Star kindly asks those who send letters to be published to make them as brief as possible and give live news. Our space is valuable, and we have no time for reviving. It will be a great help to the editors if you will thus prepare your manuscripts.

A large variety of Lamps, Lamp Goods, Chimneys &c at Savage & Emerson's.

If you expect to put up Fru it, go to Savage & Emerson's for your Fruit Jars they have a large stock.

A serial story, entitled "Son of a Witch" has been going the rounds of the press. A small typographical error in the last word of the title would make it quite ludicrous if not a little vulgar.

An intelligent and educated mind will bring you honors and happiness, in a far greater degree than either wealth or beauty or both. Intelligence commands strong and lasting friends, while beauty and wealth only bring you admirers.

The oat crop has been seriously shortened by drought. The same may be said of clover and grasses. The percentage of condition, however, has been greatly improved by the recent rains.

The wheat crop in most sections promises well. In a few sections it was cut short by dry weather and is heading low.

Rev. W. C. Alexander, will preach at Shandy, Sunday, June 3d. 1888, at 11 o'clock A. M., and at Presbyterian church in Bolivar at 8 o'clock P. M. the same day.

Our Sabbath schools are all well attended, and splendidly officered. The school at the M. E. church is as well organized and disciplined as any school in the South.

Capt. J. D. Casselberry has announced his intention to be a candidate for representative from this county. The captain is well qualified to be a member of the legislature, and will be in all probability very acceptable to the people of this county. He is a farmer boy, has educated himself and acquainted with the various interests of our state.

DIED.
Jehanie Sain, of whooping cough on Thursday, May, the 24th inst., and Frank Sain, of fever, on Saturday, the 26th, inst. Both boys were sons of William Sain. This is a severe stroke to Mr. and Mrs. Sain and the Star tenders its heartfelt sympathies to the grief stricken father and mother.

The dear boy and the sweet girl can be seen every Sabbath evening seated in a glittering buggy, dashing along lanes, through grassy dells, and among woody bowers. Often he glances at eyes that sparkle and cheeks that smile. She, at each glance and each word of love, blushes a crimson hue, and twitches a pair of rosy lips. Finally as the last flashes of sunset pale and die, they slowly return.

Miss Laura Hudson, sister of our druggist, B. V. Hudson, returned last evening from Nashville where she has been attending the State Normal College since the beginning of the term last September. The Star gladly welcomes her back, and feels sure that her friends are delighted to have her in their midst. Miss Laura was a faithful student, and returns with eyes sparkling with brilliancy.

Reports come in from all parts of the country that the leaves of trees in certain localities have a sticky coat of honey-dew on them that has been noticed for many years. This accounts for the bees filling gums so early.

In this issue will be found the announcement of W. H. Carruth, of our town, for tax assessor. There is not a more deserving or competent man in the county for the place. He is clever, honest, industrious, and in every way fully qualified. His age and experience most especially recommend him to the voters of our county. If he is elected, he will make the people a faithful, able, and impartial assessor.

The gardens, truck farms and orchards in and around Bolivar are in splendid condition and promise rich returns for the care and labor bestowed on them by intelligent and industrious husbandry.

Letters have been received at this office for publication this week with no signature except the Nom de plume. Your real name must accompany the manuscript, or it falls in the waste basket.

The Commencement Exercises of St. James Hall, will take place on Thursday, June 7th at 10 o'clock A. M. Rev. E. S. Burford of Calvary Church, Memphis, will make the address. The public are cordially invited to attend. A musical and dramatic entertainment will be given by the young ladies on the evening of the same day, at 8 o'clock.

A father should never swear where his son can hear him, and the son, especially, should never swear where his father can hear him.

Some of our young men were sitting on a bench at Dunlap Springs a few evenings since, when a young lady happened to approach. One of the number, a real swell dude, fixed his eyes upon her as she neared him, and said to her: "Well Miss, do you want to eat me?" "No," she replied, "I never eat greens."

Last Thursday evening Mr. J. A. Matthews and family, in district 20 were standing on their piazza when the lightning struck a large tree near them, bursting it into splinters, then following a wire which was attached to it to the smoke house, at the other end, about one hundred and fifty feet distant, where it made splinters of the walls, jumped on the meat box, cooking and scattering muddings, hams, and shoulders in every direction. Splinters and pieces of timbers showered around the family as they watched with breathless fear its wonderful power and the danger to which they were exposed.

Over 3,000 horses have trotted a mile in 2:30 within the past twenty-five years.

The sweet girl graduate is again loose in the land.

A large crowd of our boys and girls went to Antioch, near Clover-Park, Sunday to witness the annual foot-washing and celebration of Christ's supper.

One of LeRoy's Yearlings
William Alexander Thompson, of Fayette county, sold a year old colt last week, one of LeRoy, the celebrated stallion, owned by Judge Fentress, for $200. He has another colt sired by the same stallion which is 11 months old, and is driven to a buggy by his daughter daily. These facts show the benefits to be derived by breeding from superior stock. Judge Fentress has done incalculable good to West Tennessee by importing fine stock as breeders. On behalf of the people, The Star desires to thank him for the interest he takes in improving and bettering the country.

Big Reduction.
The West Tennessee Star
6 Months for 40c.

As this promise to be the hottest and most exciting political year since the war, we have decided to put The West Tennessee Star to every one who will subscribe during the next sixty days at 40 cents for the next 6 months. Now is your time

Harrison's Wild Ride.
Jim Harrison, salesman at Barrett Bros, drove a double team to Antioch, near Clover-Park last Sunday to witness the foot washing. After he had returned and bade her good bye at the gate, he drove out to West End. On returning, at a point near the railroad a barrel hoop flew up, striking one of the horses, causing him to leap and kick, and get a hind leg over the tongue. The wheel of the other horse, and finally both dashed a way for a mad run up Market street. Jim pulled hard on the reins, but there was no stopping them. On they came to Savage & Emerson's livery stable, where they made a whirl to enter, this threw Jim from the vehicle, and "done him up" on hard earth. Jim picked himself up, brushed the sticks and dust from his linen, and stumbled toward his seat. The horses rushed through the stable at a reckless speed, the wheels of the vehicle cut several holes as they went through, and came near killing Mr. Emerson's little boy and burst the door to pieces at the rear end of the stable.

Well, well Jim, we thought you could hold down a team better than that up grade with one of the horse's hindmost legs cross-wise the tongue.

FROM NEELYVILLE.
Editor The Star:
Mar. 30, 1888.—I see letters in the Star from almost every town in the county. I thought a few lines from Neelyville would not be out of place. Farming is moving on nicely, around our little village, but we need more rain, and more work. The candidates come around and chat the farmers most every day. For Sheriff, we are divided and cant tell who to bet on yet. For trustee some says Mr. Savage has been there long enough, others say he must stay there two years longer. Our Bob must also sit at least two years longer as governor. Mr. James Phelan seems to be the ladies favorite as he has scattered so many garden seed in this section and they were good ones. The ladies will work hard to put him in for two more years. Neelyville is located about one half mile North-east of Dunlap Springs on the Bolivar and Middleton road, and just found its way into existence this spring. It has grown up like a butter weed. Gen. R. P. Neely is its founder.

A Happy Evening.
A member of The Star staff, by invitation, attended a social gathering at the residence of Mrs. M. L. Dunbar, near Grand Junction, Friday evening last. Those who gathered in were acquaintances and relatives of the hostess. Among the relatives were Mrs. Dr. W. P. Dunbar, wife of Dr. W. P. Dunbar, son of our hostess and Mrs. B. Cox, daughter of our hostess, all from Hunt County, Texas. The evening was spent most delightfully in gaming and social chat. The ladies from Texas expressed themselves as being completely enamored with our state and its people. We hope they will give up their habit in the West, and come among us to remain. Tennessee is the greatest state in the south, and those seeking homes cannot do better than to locate among us.

A Colt Show.
According to appointment, the citizens for several miles around Pocahontas met there last Saturday to witness a colt show. About 25 colts were put on exhibition, and about 300 people were spectators. A few races were run at Tipler's track. In one of the races a horse fell, throwing the rider, a brother of Dr. Nethery, bruising and shaking him up considerably, but did not hurt him seriously. The wheel trade committee met at Pocahontas the same day, and closed a contract with G. W. Garrett for the ensuing year.

From West End.
Correspondence to The Star:
West End, Tenn., May 29, 1888.—By your permission, I will give a few jobs from West End, Civil District No. 6.

Rains are needed, and should we have them soon, the outlook for crops is good.

This neck or tail or end of the woods has been too long neglected. Think of it, the West Tennessee Hospital for the Insane is located in West End. The grand structure is being pushed to completion with a vim.

Is a mixed question whether the success of the commissionaires and their co-workers has been caused by the pledge they made or that the pledge made the success. Doubtless the parties will be frank to tell how this is.

Be it as it may, they should be lauded for the great work done, from the highest in authority, all along down the line to the sand heaver and mortar bearer.

There are many causes to make this locality prosperous. Some of them are: Good lands, plenty of wood and water; well drained healthfully suited for homesteads with small farms attached, convenient to town, to a railroad, to churches and schools; to grist and saw mills, and many others could be added. Those waiting homes in this end would do well to come soon, for the season is here. Col. Frank Fentress, like a skillful purchaser, has taken time by the forelock. He lately bought the Fitchburg place which lies three and a half miles west of Bolivar, through which West End creek, a beautiful, little, rippling and limpid stream, runs. He got it dirt cheap and by the free use of the shovel, plow, and scowp, the Col. can make it a fine place.

WEST ENDRÉ.

Hickory Valley Twinkling.
The local editor spent several days at the above named place this and last week. Hickory Valley is one of the most prosperous towns in the county. It is surrounded by a very productive territory, which is controlled by systematic farmers. Among the merchants, the first to be mentioned are McAnulty Bros, and Messers Scott and May. Both firms carry an immense stock of dry goods and groceries, and furnish, with a few exceptions, all those who buy on a credit. The Star can say that those who deal with these firms will find them accommodating, fair, square, and honest in all things. McAnulty Bros, have the Wheel contract, and furnish a large number of Wheelers in that section, but we learn that some Wheelers have not fulfilled their vows. Messers Scott and May are alive in their work and get a large share of all the trade which goes to that place. Our friend Mr. C. M. Black, grocer, still holds on, and his labor has not been in vain. The Star congratulates Mr. Black on his success as a farmer and merchant. The boys say one of the young merchants spends much of his time gazing at his girl. We missed him several evenings, while there, and the report came: "He went across the road." The Star expects to hear of him looking up the preacher or many sun shall have fallen behind the Western hills. We haven't anything to say. Elder U. A. West pastor of the Baptist church, preached an able and touching sermon, at the Presbyterian church, Sunday evening last to a large and attentive audience. Mr. West deserves unlimited credit for his ministerial success. He has been preaching ten years and labored manually on his farm all the while. Our best wishes are that the evening of his labors may be abundantly rewarded, thus securing him a bright and peaceful twilight in which to cease to do good. Mr. J. M. Woodson has the "boss" field of oats in that vicinity, besides a promising prospect for a corn and cotton crop. Mr. W. O. West and Ben Spinks, a negro, who is in his employ, got into a little fuss Saturday and pelted one another over the head with clubs. The trouble accrued about some work which Mr. West wanted done and the negro refused to do it. —Hon. Jesse Norment has many warm friends in this section of the country who will stick to him through thick and thin, and are in high spirits that he will be our next congressman. Mr. Norment's ability and influence over a jury together with what he did while a member of the legislature and his past record is sufficient to insure an almost unanimous vote of this country. It is now that animating to hear Dr. P. H. McKinnis, R. M. Lax and Esq. J. E. McCaskill argue politics. The latter is in favor of public schools, the others from their arguments, are not. Mr. Lax says, the democrats are getting to be too democratic. Crowds gather around them to hear their windy ideas.—The operator watches and waits for every mail with almost breathless anxiety to receive a bullet donz from his affianced. He is sad and waiting yet! —Prof. Edmond A. Fusch, returned Monday morning from Nashville where he attended the Nashville Military Drill, also visiting the family of Mr. Geo. Thomas, at Columbia, Tenn., who desires his service to instruct his only child. He reports a grand time.—An entertainment was given at the residence of Mr. R. A. McAnulty, Monday evening to Misses Emma Dedson, of Collierville who is visiting the family, and Lillie McClarty of Grand Junction who is visiting Mr. D' W. McAnulty's family this week. Both of these young ladies are accomplished and amiable, and there are more sad hearts than one since they returned. The entertainment was the occasion of many blissful moments to all present.—The fruit crop in that section is immense. The Star was the recipient of a delicious peach, from Mr. F. O. Lake while there.

A Woman's Discovery.
"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle had been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Haasick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at Savage & Emerson's Drug Store.
