The Condition of Business Throughout the Country as Shown by R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review-On the Whole There is Not Much to Complain of-Business Fall-

NEW YORK, March 26.-R. G. Dun & With unusually conflicting signs, the confldence which prevailed in business circles is still on. Commodities as a whole have declined three-quarters of one per cent. during the New York on the 23d, and J. Coleman Drayton and Hallett A. Borrowe were found to have made the voyage without an effort to slaughter each other.

three-quarters of one per cent. during the week and are now one-eighth per cent. lower than a year ago at this time. At Boston bad weather affects the dry goods trade, which is yet quite satisfactory. Cotton machinery is well employed, the boot and shoe factories are busy with a large number of buyers in the market, rubber goods very active with works employed overtime, and sales of wool fair in amount, though the market favors buyers. At Bridgeport hardware is flourishing, the output of rubber goods light, and building material ac-tive. At Hartford the wool trade is fair, hardware quiet, and there is no impro in groceries or dry goods. At Philadelphia sales of dry goods are smaller than of late, though equal to last year's, wool quiet, trade in hemicals steady, and in oils fairly active, but other trades are quiet, with plate-glass extremely low in price. At Baltimore manufacturers of cotton duck and architectural iron are busy with abundance of orders. At Cincinnati machinery is brisk, surpassing the trade of former years, and retail business brighter. At Cleveland rolling mills are full of work al-though at prices 10 to 15 per cent. lower than ever before, business in dry goods and hard-ware is good, and in other branches fair. At Detroit trade is equal to last year's, but has no snap. At Chicago increase is seen in receipts of breadstuffs, dressed beef, cheese and butter, but decrease in provisions, cattle, hides, and wool. Merchandise sales are equal to last year's. Milwaukee, and seriously hampers trade at St. Louis, though the feeling is hopeful. At Minneapolis trade is good, though flour is very dull and at St. Paul business is brisk, at Omaha very active, and at Kansas City, improving in retail business, although receipts of cattle and hogs are light. Improvement is seen at Denver and also at Louisville, but Memphis reports no improvement, Montgomery a moderate trade, and Savannah some decline. At New Orleans business is quiet, though there is a better movement of cotton and sugar is active. The iron trade shows a better tone, in spite of very low prices. Larger sales of pig are re-steady at $14.50 at Pittsburgh. Structual iron is fairly active at better prospects, bar iron is more active, and there is improved demand for plates. The stronger market for copper here and abroad is counted proof that a combi-nation has been formed. Tin is stronger and lead fairly active at 4.15 cents.
