

THE BOLIVAR PULPIT.

VOL. XXXVIII—NO. 23.

BOLIVAR, TENNESSEE, FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1903.

SUBSCRIPTION: $1.00 Per Year

Tennessee State News

Whipping of Convicts.

The joint legislative committee on penitentiary has returned to Nashville from the State mines at Brushy Mountain, and will at once enter upon the work of preparing their report. Five hundred and forty-seven pages of evidence were taken and this will be submitted to the legislature. Several sensational features will add zest to the finding of the committee. Warden Blewins filed charges of mismanagement, extravagance and kindred allegations against Prison Commissioner Murray, who has charge of the mines, and Mr. Murray countered by charging Blewins with being unmercifully cruel in his punishment of convicts. Murray claims he brought the matter to Gov. McMillin's attention several months ago, but no official action was taken. A number of the whipped convicts were examined and their bodies showed evidence of heavy blows. The whipping was done with a heavy leather strap about two feet long. An inquiry was also made regarding the contract for furnishing beef to the State mines now held by ex-State Senator John M. Davis. A Mr. Daniel, of the Emory Mining Company, made the complaint and the evidence was conflicting. It was found that Senator Davis had been cutting timber off the State lands, but he agreed to pay for this. Davis, as senator two years ago, was a member of the penitentiary committee, and it is claimed that he knew the State line and there was no excuse for him infringing upon the State's property. There may be a majority and a minority report on this particular question.

Tipton County Road Bill.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Tipton county farmers' institute to consider and report on a road bill, which was submitted to the institute, met in Covington last week. The bill, as amended by the committee, provides for the appointment of two county road commissioners who, with the chairman of the County Court, shall constitute a county road commission. This commission will have entire control of the public highways of the county, letting contracts for working and improving public roads, building and repairing bridges, and also expending the road and bridge tax. The compensating of the road commissioners is fixed at $2 per day for each, excepting the chairman of the court, for the time employed, which shall not exceed 100 days. The bill is local in its nature and will only apply to Tipton county in case it is enacted into law.

Bankrupt Coal Company.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed in the Federal Court at Chattanooga last week by the Central Manufacturing Company and others against the Cumberland Coal and Coke Company, whose mines are at Crossville. The company was capitalized under the laws of New Jersey. A receiver was appointed for the company in November, 1902, to wind up the affairs of the company, but the creditors who filed the petition last week claim that no progress had been made toward that end. The petitioners also complain that the receiver appointed in 1902 took charge without giving notice to the company's creditors.

Tennessee Central Through Trains.

President Baxter of the Tennessee Central last week received a telegram from Geo. A. Clark, in which the latter stated that the Southern Railway had signified its willingness to operate through service in connection with the Tennessee Central from Nashville to the East. The arrangements will be brought to a conclusion at once and Col. Baxter said that it would be a matter of only about ten days before the service would be in operation. The contract has been closed with the Pullman people.

New Electric Line.

The Chattanooga Electric Railway Company will in a few days begin a new line to Chickamauga Park and the army post. The Central of Georgia is now surveying a route and will build. These are in addition to the line of the Rapid Transit Company and the present route of the Central of Georgia, and are occasioned by the immense traffic to the army post.

Consumptive Pardoned.

Because George Taylor, a five-year convict from Smith county, with six months more to serve, is dying of consumption, Gov. Frazier pardoned him last week.

Damage Suits Continued.

In Circuit Court at Knoxville last week all the damage suits involving a total of over $1,000,000, resulting from the deaths of two hundred miners in Fraterville mine, at Coal Creek, on May 19, last, were continued to the next term of court.

Three Iowa Monuments.

The Iowa monument commission has advised the Chickamauga Park commission that the contracts for three Iowa monuments, to cost $32,000, have been awarded to the Van Amring Granite Company of Boston. The monuments will be erected at the following points in the Chickamauga Park reservation: One at Rossville Gap, on Missionary Ridge, to the memory of Ostolaha's brigade; one near the Moon place, on Missionary Ridge, and the other at the Cravens place on Lookout Mountain.

Noted Prisoner Has Measles.

Mrs. Belle Carter, the noted prisoner, who has been in jail at Union City for several years for poisoning her husband, has the measles. Sheriff Chiles has had her taken downstairs, where she can be properly and carefully attended to.

Pump Works for Chattanooga.

Articles of incorporation for the Herron-Brady pump and foundry works, with a capital stock of $100,000, were filed at Chattanooga last week. The company will immediately begin the erection of a plant in South Chattanooga for the manufacture of steam pumps.

Valuable Barn Burned.

The barn of Alfred Epperson, a prominent farmer in the Tenth district of Madison county, was destroyed by fire last week. Two fine mules, a hundred barrels of corn and a large amount of hay were destroyed. Epperson places his loss at over $2,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Small Boy in a Blaze.

The small son of Henry T. Grizzard of Clarksville while at play last week started a fire in the yard. His clothes ignited and were nearly burned off before help could reach him. The flesh was horribly burned also, but it is thought he may recover.

Bridge Gangs Work Overtime.

Bridge and grading work on the Tennessee Central railroad is being pushed as fast as the weather will permit, and the bridge gangs are working overtime. One set of men worked all day Sunday in order to push the construction of a bridge over one of the turnpikes leading into Clarksville.

Biles Elected Mayor.

C. E. Biles was elected mayor of the town of Sharon over Squire G. M. Terry by a majority of twelve votes last week, after a hotly contested campaign. The Biles party celebrated their victory with cannon and fireworks for an hour and a half, burning all the powder in town.

No Fence Law Petitions.

A petition against the "no fence" law was circulated at Dresden last week and signed by about 300 of Weakley county's citizens. Several other petitions against the law were sent up from several different districts of the county.

Smallpox Dumping Ground.

Knoxville is being made the dumping ground for negroes suffering with smallpox. During the past month fifteen negroes afflicted with the disease have been shipped in from the camps of contractors on the new Knoxville, La Follette & Jellico road. At present there are seventeen cases in the smallpox camp and only five are residents of Knoxville.

Increased Earnings.

For the fourth week of February the gross earnings of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway show an increase of $29,889.49 over the same week last year. The gross earnings for February show an increase over last year of $137,633.34.

Child Burned to Crisp.

E. E. Traugher's infant child, near Springfield, fell into the fire last week and was burned to a crisp before other children in the room could pull the little body from the flames. The parents were not in the house at the time.

Daughters of Confederacy.

The Tennessee association, Daughters of the Confederacy, will hold their annual session in Clarksville during May. It is expected that there will be a large attendance of delegates, and elaborate arrangements are already being made for their entertainment.

Branden Tenders Resignation.

W. N. Branden has tendered his resignation as deputy warden of the State penitentiary, and will go into his previous business. His successor has not been appointed.

Kinney Case Postponed.

The case of Willie A. Kinney vs. E. M. Downing for breach of promise was postponed at Covington last week until the July term of the Circuit Court on account of the illness of the plaintiff's sister-in-law.

SOME OF REMINGTON'S WORK.

Gigantic Group of Statuary Designed by Fred Remington to Adorn World's Fair Grounds.

St. Louis, March 7.—Frederic Remington, the artist of wild western life, will do a gigantic group of statuary for the entrance to the concessions street of the World's fair, representing four cowboys astride of bronchos, in the act of "shooting up a town."

Chief Sculptor Bitter, who is now in New York, has already closed the contract with Remington, and has notified the director of works that the sketch of the group has been completed and cast in bronze. The group will be modeled in a plaster cast of heroic dimensions.

Mr. Remington has given to his work the name, "Comin' Through the Rye," and it is composed of four cowboys in conventional cowboy costume, all mounted on fiery bronchos, riding at full gallop. The four figures are represented as riding at such close quarters that their boots touch. In the right hand of each is flourished a large Colt's revolver, which he is represented as discharging as fast as he can pull the trigger. The mouth of each figure is represented as wide open, giving vent to the wild whoop which strikes terror to the citizens of the town that is being "shot up," while the faces express all the reckless daring of the festive cowboy out on a "jamboree."

The group, stationed as it will be at the entrance to the concessions street, will harmonize beautifully with the festive character of that locality. The exuberance of spirit, which actuates the cowboy to perpetrate his reckless ride, and the shout and clatter symbolized in the group are the concrete embodiment of the sentiment of the street.

HE MAY SUCCEED HIMSELF.

Decision Rendered by Judge Cantrell in Circuit Court in Favor of Kentucky's Governor.

Versailles, Ky., March 7.—Judge Cantrell, in the Woodford circuit court, Friday afternoon, overruled the demurrer of Allie Young, chairman of the democratic state committee, to the petition of Gov. Beckham for a mandamus to compel Young and the democratic committee to place his name on the ballot to be voted for at the democratic state primary on May 9 as a candidate for governor. Young had refused to place Gov. Beckham's name on the ballot because of the question raised by the eligibility of the attorney for the defendant immediately entered exceptions, and an appeal was granted to the court of appeals. The purpose of the procedure is to establish Gov. Beckham's eligibility to succeed himself as governor.

DEWEY'S RELATIVE DEAD.

Cancer Ends the Life of Capt. William A. Winder, a Prominent Government Official.

Omaha, Neb., March 7.—Capt. William A. Winder, one of the most prominent government officials in the west, died of cancer at his apartment here at the Millard hotel, aged 80. Capt. Winder won fame on the battle fields of the Mexican and civil wars, and for the question raised by the eligibility of the land department at Rosebud Agency, S. D. He was a brother-in-law of Admiral George Dewey, and has a son, William Winder, who is commander of the Michigan, now stationed at Erie, Pa. The body will be taken to Portsmouth, N. H., for interment.

FEELING ADDRESS DELIVERED.

Miss Helen Keller, Through an Attendant, Speaks to Legislative Committee.

Boston, Mass., March 7.—Miss Helen Keller, who, although deaf, dumb and blind, and who is a student at Radcliffe college, addressed, through an attendant, the legislative committee on education, Friday, in behalf of the blind, for the relief of the adult blind. Her message to the committee was a feeling one, and she urged all possible aid to her fellow unfortunates. She said that the blind did not need the higher education, but did require help in order to take their places in the industrial world.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP TO TOPEKA.

He Will Be a Guest at the International Convention of the Railway Y. M. C. A.

Topeka, Kas., March 7.—President Roosevelt will be present at the international convention of the Railway Y. M. C. A., which will be held in this city from April 30 to May 3. He has not designated the date of his visit. An effort will be made to have him officiate at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Railway Y. M. C. A. building, the money for which was largely furnished by President Ripley of the Santa Fe. Miss Helen Gould, of New York, and other well known people will attend the conference.

ILLINOIS MINISTER INSANE.

Former Presiding Elder Caldwell, of Chicago, Will Be Taken to a Private Sanitarium.

Chicago, March 7.—Rev. J. M. Caldwell, at one time presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church, has been declared insane by a jury in Judge Carter's court. He will be taken, it is said, to a private sanitarium. The hearing was the outcome of an alleged attempt by Rev. Caldwell to commit suicide after having been arrested for disorderly conduct.

THE MAN IN PRISON.

He Is the One Whom Christ Came to Set at Liberty.

Sin Bars Hideous Walls Around the Soul Which Only Jesus Can Break Down—Sermon by "Highway and Byway" Preacher.

(Copyright, 1903, by A. N. Kellogg News-paper Co.)

Chicago, March 8, 1903.

Text.—"If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed."—John, 8:36.

Grim, high walls, with massive iron doors and grated windows rise before us as we speak of prison, and behind these strong walls and barred windows in the dingy, bare cell, with its low, hard bunk and its single wooden chair, we find the despondent, desperate, hopeless man. The Man in Prison, ah, what a sad, sad sight. Dead to the world, shut into a living tomb, the narrow confines of the prison walls, his eyes are dim, his cramped, dark cell his home; oh, what a miserable, distressing condition. This is the picture you draw as we speak to you of the Man in Prison, and it is the picture of a condition which the eye of man may behold in any state or large city of this land. But all prisoners are not found locked in narrow cells. Let the eye of the soul look in the direction which God points, and it will behold prison walls rising which are more awful than any which state or nation can rear, and behind which there are more hopelessness, and despair, more blackness and suffering than were ever able to crowd into a man-made prison. Sin has builded walls over which the soul cannot climb, it has roofed over those walls so that the sun is shut out, and has bolted the great iron gates and given Satan the key. The Man in Prison whom we wish to talk about is the man whose soul is shut within the prisonhouse of sin, and whom only Jesus Christ can set free.

This text is Christ's own words. He had just finished in conversation with the Jews, who were abraham's seed, and had never been in bondage to any man. His reply was: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever commiteth sin is the servant (bond slave) of sin. And he that is sold by sin declares that, 'if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.'" Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when he formally began His ministry, and He said: "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." And then he set to work breaking down the prison walls of the Man in Prison. He went on to declare that, "if the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." Isaiah, the prophet, in foretelling the coming of Christ, plainly said that the Lord was to anoint Him at His coming "to proclaim liberty to the captive." And in turn we wish to tell the Man in Prison that he is bound. And this word of Isaiah Jesus used as His text when