

To the Democrats of Smith County:

After the solicitation of my many friends through the county, and their many expressions of confidence and good will, for which I shall ever be grateful, I have entered the contest seeking the nomination of the Democratic party as your Representative in the coming General Assembly. I am struggling for the front; I am asking for promotion; my hopes are in you. I have always been a Democrat. I was taught from infancy to love my party, the South and its glorious traditions. If I am elected to this high and important position I shall seek at all times to know the will of my party and to safeguard its interests. I am for education, but am opposed to centralization and taxation without representation. I am for better district schools and longer terms and each district governing its own affairs. I am for the system which will reach and benefit the common people. I am opposed to the bond issue and if elected will do all in my power to have the Enabling Act repealed. I am for prohibition and all that it means, and shall favor any bill for its more rigid enforcement.

I ask an investigation of my public and private character. If, after a strict examination, I am found worthy of your support I shall ever be grateful. I am in the race to fight to the last ditch, but it will be done in the open and above cheap politics, or anything that is illegitimate or ungentlemanly. I remain,
Yours most truly,
W. C. WILSON.

Miss Myer Hostess.

On Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 Miss Annie Lee Myer was hostess of a beautifully planned hospitality given in compliment to Mrs. Rhea Garrett of Dixon Springs, a charming bride of the month, and the Book Lovers' Club. For this pretty affair a wealth of June flowers were used in the reception rooms, the appointments of which are unusually handsome and so well suited to entertaining. On the spacious veranda, where the guests were received, palms, ferns and potted plants were used.

A pretty diversion from the usual place cards were the delicate corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas and ferns, to which were attached questions pertaining to courtship and marriage, and in finding the answers, in pretty June flowers, partners were drawn for an interesting game of rook. After the game the guests were conducted into the dining room where buffet lunch refreshments of two courses were served. In this room sweet peas were used in profusion. The table was veiled with a cover of exquisite cluny and the centerpiece was a basket filled with the various shades of pink sweet peas. To the handle of the basket was tied a graceful bow of pink tulle. From this table Mrs. Sam Pickering dispensed the salad and Mrs. Luther Flippen the ices, the latter being rose shapes in pink. While refreshments were being served Mrs. Dixon Ward and Miss Alice Read gave a beautiful musical program on the piano. These two finished pianists are always a happy acquisition to any gathering. The trophy for the game, which was a pretty rose sketch in oil, done by Miss Willette McMillin of Troy, Ala., went to Mrs. Garrett.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. W. E. Myer, and Mrs. Dixon Ward. Those present besides the honor guests were Misses Agnes Garrett of Dixon Springs, Frances Young of Asheville, Ala., Minnie Fisher, recently home after spending the winter in Montgomery, Ala., Rebekah Ward, Alice Read, Elizabeth Van Horn, Jennie McKee, Ollie McGinness, Mesdames Alice Read, Thos. Fisher and A. P. Moore.

THEY POINT US OUT

as the tailors who blend the fabric in a manner most artistic with each personality. We fit the form most fashionably and have an eye to accentuating the finer points of individuality. Do you not know by this time that tailoring is an art? Our cloths are lasting and will stand wear and tear long after poorly tailored cloths have been consigned to the rag picker. Not so with the Sawyer Weathers.

POTTER, the Tailor.

Attention--Farmers

I have perfected arrangements whereby I am in a position to make loans on farms from 1 to 20 years at a low rate of interest.
