THE BATTALION A Service Suit

We say service because since sport styles for men stepped into a sound popularity these novelty models have been considered good for most all occasions.

Men like the carefree air they convey; they have a tendency to make men feel always at ease in their clothes.

The Battalion--illustrated above--is one of the best in sport types. The high needle points lapels--the accentuated waist; the pockets and the linked cuffs show a smart vigorous air. Young men will like the Battalion.
