Deering Mower Assets

A THOROUGHLY dependable mower is a big asset at haying time. A good mower should be able to cut grass in any condition satisfactorily, and in this respect the Deering New Model is a pronounced leader.
Note the flexible movement of the cutter bar which permits close cutting over rough ground, the one-piece main frame with all holes drilled in one operation to secure perfect alignment of parts, the covered gears and the special quality steel ball and roller bearings, etc.
Still another point—the ledger plate on the Deering mower extends the full length of the cutting surface of the guard, giving the advantage of a complete shear cut, whether the knife section is old or new. This does away with all clogging of the grass between the knife section and the rear end of the ledger plate.

Drop in and see us and we will show you the mower in detail.

BODY OF DROWNED WOMAN FOUND.
The body of Mrs. Josie Meadows, who drowned herself in the Cumberland river near the mouth of Hensley creek, four miles west of Gainesboro, Monday night, May 12, was found at an early hour Friday morning two miles below the scene of the tragedy.

The body was discovered by Harlin Lawless, a member of the searching party. It was lodged behind a large drift of logs near the lower end of Cub island, and was so covered with mud that it was hard to recognize, the shoes sticking out of the mud, being the only portion of the body that was visible. The body had been out of the water for a day or more when found, but was in a good state of preservation.

As soon as the body was discovered Mr. Lawless notified the relatives, and after securing help carried it in a skiff to Brook's Ferry, where it was taken in charge by several women.
Later the body was brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Luke Dennis, in Gainesboro, and prepared for burial. Funeral service was held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, conducted by Elder J. A. Craighead, with interment in the Pharris cemetery south of Gainesboro.

Mrs. Meadows was a member of the Christian Church, and one of the most highly respected women of the county. Why she took her own life is a mystery, as there was no cause whatever.
The bereaved children have the deep sympathy of a host of friends in this sad hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Brown and family, of Celina, were the guests of T. L. Gist and wife Thursday. They were en route to Nashville, for a short visit.

W. A. Gentry and W. A. Wolf, of R-4, were in office early this morning (Friday) and added their names to our mailing list.
