M'LEMORESVILLE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

This Splendid School Had a Fine Opening Last Monday—New History Suggested

The McLeMoresville Collegiate Institute opened its thirty-third session Monday, August 18, with, perhaps, the largest enrollment in its history. The enrollment is now 135, which is 35 per cent greater than it was last year at the end of the first month.

Prof. J. H. Bayer and Prof. C. H. Moody, of Paris; Supt. D. T. Barnhill, of Huntingdon, and Hon. C. W. Brooks, of Atwood, delivered able addresses at the opening. Rev. W. L. Hart, pastor of the Methodist church, led the devotions, and Mr. H. L. Carter, president of the board of trustees, and Dr. G. C. Bryant, chairman of the special district board, delivered the welcome addresses.

The faculty is composed of the following teachers: Prof. E. H. Harrell, principal and teacher of history and English; Prof. G. E. Freeman, agriculture and science; Prof. Warren S. Gardner, mathematics and science; Miss Ellen Warner, language and English; Misses Maude Mitchell and Bessie Owen, elementary department; Miss Lillian McKinney, music department.

Prof. Freeman has organized two classes in agriculture and devotes his entire time to that work. He is planning a series of community activities. The federal government will pay one-half of his salary and the state one-fourth. More than $50 worth of apparatus has been ordered to better equip this department.

Principal Harrell announces that the Board of Education of the M. E. church has recognized further the merits of the school and recommended the addition of the department of home economics and pedagogy and will appropriate $1,000 as salary for that teacher and $300 to equip the department. This appropriation is to be in addition to that already allowed by that board for current expenses. This department will be opened January 1. This will then, no doubt, be the best equipped department of home economic in any rural town in Tennessee.

Much interest is being taken in good roads. An effort is being made to have a highway from Huntingdon to Trenton through McLeMoresville and Atwood. Every one should show his interest by his willingness to work when called upon, even more than required by law.

A large crowd from this place attended the ball game at Trezevant Monday, between Trezevant and Milan. The score was 4 to 2 in favor of Trezevant. Warren Gardner played with Trezevant and got the only three-bagger of the game.

John Dunn and wife were here Monday and entered their son and daughter, Clarence and Miss Cleo, in our school.

W. H. Woodall, of Atwood, was here Monday looking for a place to buy or rent.

The high school students will prepare the news items again this year.

An Interesting Service
An interesting demobilization service was held at the Baptist church last Sunday morning at the close of the Sunday school hour. Of the seventeen who enlisted in the war, who had formerly been members of this Sunday school, all returned safe and sound. The speech was made by J. Sam Johnson, which was ably delivered and greatly appreciated. America was sung and the service flag folded away. The service closed with an appropriate prayer for the young men represented by the stars and the service flag.

Building Dredge

A special from Camden says: The work of building a large dredge boat to open the channel of Big Sandy river is progressing nicely, an will be ready to begin operation by September 1.

A contract has already been let to clear the right of way for the main ditch and most of the work has been done. The parties in charge of the project hope to reach Big Sandy on the Louisville & Nashville railway by next spring.

A Good Meeting

Rev. D. B. Raulins, who assisted the pastor, Rev. J. E. Jones, in conducting a meeting at the Methodist church in Hollow Rock last week, reports a very fine meeting. There were five or six professions and additions to the church and a fine religious revival among the people. Bro. Raulins spoke very complimentary of the fine christian fellowship and cooperation that existed between the Methodists and Baptists, the leading churches of the town.

HUNTINGDON MAN'S LUCKY FIND

Will interest the Readers of the Democrat

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Huntingdon man: G. W. Tucker, farmer, Harrison avenue, Huntingdon, says: "Some time ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and kidney irregularities and they proved just what I needed. I also suffered a lot with rheumatic pains. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time all these troubles entirely disappeared."

The above statement was given December 21, 1914, and on May 25, 1918, Mr. Tucker said: "I still have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's cured me of rheumatic pains and kidney trouble and gave me more strength and better health generally. I can still do a good day's work."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Tucker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

CITY HAS DISPOSED OF SCHOOL PROPERTY

The I. T. S. Property Sold to Trustees of Huntingdon High School District

The board of mayor and alderman have sold the I. T. S. property to the trustees of the Huntingdon High School district. The deal was closed this week and the consideration was $12,000.

This valuable and attractive school property goes out of the hands of the city authorities and become the property of the new school district recently created by the Tennessee legislature.

We understand the $12,000 is to be paid at the rate of $1,000 a year, with interest. This deal ought to give satisfaction, for the same board that controls the school should have control of the buildings.

Gets Twenty Years

Jim Wilson, who was charged with killing Geo. Ayler, a brakeman on the N. C. & St. L. railway, at Martin in Ayler's room, last spring, was tried at Dresden last week. Each side was represented by quite an array of legal talent, and the case was hotly contested. After devoting several days to the trial, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of second degree murder, fixing the punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary. The case was appealed to the supreme court.

A GOOD HAUL

MONDAY NIGHT

Four Weakley County Men Incepted With Six Gallons of Illicit Liquor

Four men giving their names as A. B. Bass, W. H. Dinwiddie, Homer Hawks and T. P. Beasley, living near Gleason, were intercepted by Sheriff Aden, Connie Boyd and Cas McMillin last Monday night as they were passing through with quite a large quantity of whisky. They were in a car and six gallons of whisky were found in their possession. They were caught about 1 o'clock at night, and were carried before Squire Hurt, who bound them over to court.

It is claimed that they bought the booze from some illicit distillers in the eastern portion of this county where it is said a number of stills are being operated, and where they sell their output to people from all over the county.

Opening of School

Huntingdon High School will open Monday, September 1. All pupils are urged to attend the opening day and receive list of books for the year's work. The law requires that all children between the ages of seven and sixteen attend school for the full term. Patrons and friends of the school are invited to encourage the faculty and students by attending the opening at 8:30.

D. M. MOODY, Supt.

Fesmire—Waller

Prof. Cecil A. Fesmire, of Union Cross, Henderson county, and Miss Flossie Waller, of Juno, were united in marriage Saturday at the home of the bride's parents, Elder J. F. Chambers of the Christian church, officiating. The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. A. L. Waller, and is one of the county's most successful teachers. The groom is also a teacher, the son of Isaac Fesmire. They will locate at once in Trezevant, where Mr. Fesmire becomes superintendent of the high school.

Land Sale

Martha Louise Gwin et ux vs. John Paul Argo et al In the County Court of Carroll County, Tennessee.

Pursuant to a decree of sale pronounced in said cause at the August Term, 1919, I will on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1919, between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m., expose to public sale to the highest and best bidder, at the east door of the court house in Huntingdon, Tennessee, a tract of land in Obion river bottom, containing 331 1/2 acres, more or less, lying partly in Carroll and partly in Weakley counties, Tennessee, and being the land set apart to the widow of J. H. Argo as homestead, Chancery Minutes "K," pages 472-3, but the sale will be free of homestead. The purchaser will be required to pay one-fourth the purchase price cash on day of sale, and to execute his interest-bearing notes for the residue falling due at one, two and three years, with approved personal security, and lien retained on land as additional security. The purchaser will be required to assume state, county and drainage taxes on said land for the year 1919 and ensuing years. Mrs. Ettoile F. Argo is to retain the uses, rents and profits of the land for the year 1919. No bid of less than $3,750.00 will be entertained.

This August 14, 1919:
J. W. JARRETT,
County Court Clerk.
J. W. MURPHY, 31-4t
Solicitor for Complainants.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And ho just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, whera more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

More Than Figure of Speech.

New Jersey reports the scientific discovery that insanity is sometimes traceable to unsound teeth. "Going crazy with the toothache" may turn out to be more than a figure of speech after all.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.
