Senator Worley had been United States marshal for East Tennessee, and, under a ruling from Attorney-General Frank M. Thompson, he was declared ineligible to hold his seat in the senate during the extra session of the legislature last year when the suffrage bill was under consideration. He was returned to the Sixty-second session, however, by a majority of only a few hundred from a county which usually goes republican.

Helping the Needy

J. Edwin Black, who was appointed by the Baptist Sunday school to raise money to help save the starving children in Europe, has raised $44.50, and forwarded same to headquarters by a check on the Farmers State Bank. If there are others who want to have a part in this splendid charitable contribution, they should see Mr. Black at once.

COLORED SCHOOL TO RECEIVE HELP

Wingo's Chapel, Near Trezevant, Will Erect an Up-to-School Building

Patrons of the negro school at Wingo's Chapel near Trezevant have succeeded in procuring funds from the Rosenthal school fund enabling them to erect one of the best county school buildings in the county.

The new building will consist of several departments and the regular up-to-date methods, including vocational training, will be instituted when the building is completed. Work on the new structure will begin soon.

Colored citizens and patrons of the school will furnish half the means for the improvements and the building when completed will not only be modern, but will be furnished with modern equipment for doing first-class educational work.

The colored people of that community are to be congratulated upon this progressive movement.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Watson returned from Martin Sunday, where they visited Mrs. Watson's parents.

HARDING OBJECTS INAUGURAL PROGRAM

Elaborate Plans for Inaugural Celebration are Stopped by President-elect Harding

Abandonment immediately of all plans for a celebration in connection with the inauguration of President-elect Harding was announced Monday night by E. B. McLean, chairman of Washington inaugural committee, in accordance with the desire of Mr. Harding.

In the interest of national thrift, President-elect Harding requested officials arranging his inauguration to abandon all plans for an inaugural ceremony.

In a telegram to W. B. McLean, chairman of the inaugural committee at Washington, Mr. Harding declared he preferred to simply take the oath of office, deliver a brief address and then take up the duties of his office. He said it would make his position a very unhappy one if the outlay for an elaborate inaugural created the impression of extravagance.

It had been planned to make this the most elaborate and costly inauguration in the history of the country. It was to cost millions of dollars and the tax payers were to foot most of the bill. The president-elect did the correct thing when he entered his protest.

TENNESSEE WILL GET NO CABINET PLACE

President-elect Harding Will Award Plum to Kentucky Leader Tells Sells

It is definitely settled that Tennessee will receive no recognition in the Harding cabinet. This is the word brought back by Representatives Taylor and Sells after their conference at Marion. The president-elect told the Tennesseans, who discussed the appointment of James A. Fowler, of Knoxville, for attorney-general that he had settled upon A. Tobias Herr, of Kentucky for his cabinet, although he had not determined the particular post that would be assigned to the national committee-man from the Blue Grass State. It is believed, however, that he will be assigned to the war or navy department. The president-elect is said to have made the argument that it would be better for the party in Tennessee to receive a number of lesser appointments than for one individual to receive a big plum at the expense of the rank and file. He thought this recognition was all the south could expect in the cabinet.

It now behooves the numerous republicans in Tennessee who believe they will fit into the Harding administrative family so well to get busy and make the president see the situation as they do.

Cotton Picking

For ten days or two weeks prior to last Tuesday, with the exception of one or two days the weather was almost spring-like, and much farm work was done. Quite a lot of cotton was picked, many fields being cleaned up. Many farmer also finished gathering in their corn and killing their meat.

Telephone Change

There was a change in the managers of the local telephone exchange last Wednesday. Mr. Phillips, of Arlington, but recently of an employe of the McKenzie exchange, is the new manager. Mr. Moore will continue with the company, but will be located at McKenzie. Mr. Moore and his splendid wife have made many friends while here, who will wish them well in their new location.

TOTAL OF VOTES FOR PRESIDENT

Official Figures Show 26,759,708 Ballots Were Cast in the 1920 Election

Interesting comparisons of the popular vote for president in 1920 and 1916 are made possible by official figures of various state election canvassing boards, compiled by the Associated Press and made public here today. They show a total popular vote of 26,759,708 for the candidate of seven parties as compared with a total popular vote of 18,515,340 for the candidates of five parties in 1916. The returns from Tennessee alone are unofficial.

Harding's plurality over Cox was 7,001,763. Four years ago President Wilson's plurality over Charles Evans Hughes was 591,385. New York State gave Harding a vote of 1,868,411, his largest return in any one State, as compared with 780,744 for Cox. Ohio, the state of both the republican and democratic candidates: gave Harding 1,182,022 and Cox 780,037 Illinois gave them respectively 1,420,480 and 534,394, and Pennsylvania 1,218,215 and 503,202.

In Tennessee Harding received 219,770 to Cox's 209,099.

THE MASONIC LODGE SERVED BIG BARBECUE

The Huntingdon Lodge Had a Large Number of Invited Friends as Guests

The members of the local Masonic Lodge served a fine barbecue to a large number of members and friends at their large departments last Friday night. The meats were well cooked and well served. Pork, chicken and rabbit were splendidly barbecued and served with all the necessary accompaniments to make the feast first-class in every particular.

Before and after the serving an interesting program was rendered in the lodge hall. A. E. Hall, worshipful master, presided and kept something doing all the time. The address of welcome was made by Capt. Gordon Browning and responded to by Prof. A. S. Weston.

During the evening J. Sam Johnson and John T. Peeler, were the principal speakers, but short talks were made by a number of members and visitors.

The local lodge has fitted up elegant and conveniently arranged apartments, the best the lodge ever had, and a lodge home in which the members and their friends as well as the entire town should take special pride.

Lindsey Messenger

Judge H. D. Lindsey was elected messenger to carry Tennessee's electoral vote to Washington at the meeting of the republican electors Monday in the office of the state librarian at the capitol. Judge Lindsey, who is one of the electors, was chosen on the thirtieth ballot.

The Hotel Change

Ed Taylor gave up the management of Hotel Olive last Monday and has taken rooms in the Eason house near the jail. Mr. W. E. Medearis, the new owner of the property, has taken charge. Mr. Medearis' father, who is a very fine carpenter and all round mechanic, is here and will have charge of the repairs and improvements to be made on the property. We understand all the rooms are to be repainted and repapered and quite a large sum is to be spent on improvements.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC STRUCK M'KENZIE

Forty or More Cases Have Been Reported, but in a Very Mild Form

Quite a number of cases of smallpox have developed in McKenzie. We understood more than forty cases have been reported. The malady is in a rather mild form, it is said, but still the patients are quite sick for a few days. It has entered some of the best families of the town and is rather a nauseating visitor.

Schools have been closed, church services called in and all public gatherings have been tabooed for the time being. We understand the disease has spread to a few communities near town.

So far there have been no deaths and no serious sickness, and it is truly hoped that the disease will be gotten under control and confined to those who now have it.

Cotton Ginned

The census bureau last Monday announced the amount of cotton ginned prior to January 1 at 11,559,230 running bales. Last year to January 1 ginning aggregated 10,008,920 bales. The number ginned in Tennessee is 261,416.

REMAINS OF OVERSEAS BOYS BROUGHT HOME

James Norwood Rosser and Wallace Hubert Grooms are Buried at Home

The remains of James Norwood Rosser, who died overseas October 22, 1918, reached here last Saturday and was carried out to the home of his mother near Clarksburg and was buried Sunday in the Petty graveyard in the presence of a large crowd. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. M. Boyd.

Young Rosser was born December 25, 1895, joined the Baptist church in 1916 and entered the army July 8, 1918, landed in France October 4, 1918, and died October 22, 1918, aged 22 years and nine months.

The remains of Wallace Hubert Grooms, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Grooms, out on route two, arrived at Hollow Rock last Saturday and was taken out to his father's home. Young Grooms was a member of the army when the United States entered the world war. He saw service in France and died there. The burial occurred at Hebron Sunday.

Miss Polly Cherry, of Nashville, was called to Huntingdon last week by the illness and death of her brother, Joe Cherry.

BUSINESS CHANGE WILLIAMS SELLS OUT

John W. and George B. McCormick Enter the Grocery Business in Huntingdon

J. Wesley Williams, who has been in the grocery business for some time, sold his stock of groceries and business last Tuesday to John W. and George B. McCormick, and they commenced taking an invoice Wednesday morning. The new business will be conducted under the firm name of McCormick Brothers, and are now in charge of the business.

Messrs. McCormick Brothers were reared just north of Huntingdon. Since returning from army service John has been working in Cleveland, Ohio. George has been located in the west for several years, but returned to his old home a few weeks ago.

Mr. Williams has not given out what his plans are for the future.

ELECT NEW MAYOR FOR TREZEVANT

H. C. Smith Takes Place of Mayor Ryan - Telephone Officials are Elected

H. C. Smith has been elected mayor of Trezevant to succeed former Mayor J. J. Ryan, who resigned when he removed to Milan, where he is agent for the Louisville and Nashville railroad company.

Mr. Smith was a member of the board of alderman and when he was elevated to the office of mayor a vacancy was caused on the board and Walter Atkins was selected to fill Mr. Smith's unexpired term on board.

Stock holders of the Trezevant Telephone Company held their annual meeting last week. A board of directors and other officials were elected. The selection of officers resulted as follows: President, R. L. Bryant; secretary-treasurer, A. A. Argo, and managers Dock Foster. Six other members were selected to serve with the officials in constituting the executive board, as follows: Albert Bryant, T. E. Ethridge, William Cloyd, J. E. Bryant, H. L. Weatherforr and W. H. Hames. Bell Brown was selected as bineman and chief operator.

The annual chicken broil feast was held by Beech Camp Woodmen of the world Friday night. There was a good attendance of the members and a feast was spread after the business session and installation ceremony, when new officers were inducted into office for the ensuing year. This annual gathering is always an enjoyable event and looked forward to with much interest.

A Good Showing

The fourteenth annual meeting of the Farmers Mutual Insurance Company of Carroll County was held in the directors' room of the Bank of McKenzie, Saturday, January 1, 1921. The report of the secretary showed that $522,494 insurance had been written the past year, and levied one assessment of 30c on the $100, and paid to the members for losses during the year $3,028. The old board of directors were re-elected with B. S. Thomas, president, and J. W. Thomas, secretary-treasurer. This company had at the close of business, December 31, $1,697,038 insurance on their books.
