

Decoration Day

This is one day in the year when we not only honor the Nation's dead, but also strew flowers upon the graves of our own departed loved ones who sleep in God's acre. It is a beautiful custom, started by the G.A.R. The line of old soldiers is growing smaller every year, a thin, wavering line, a remnant of what was once the Nation's gallant defenders. This Bank is proud to help in honoring the departed heroes and also those who are still with us. The old soldiers have always been good friends of our Bank and we are glad to look after their pension papers and any other business they may entrust to our care.

Bal! Bal! Sheepman, have you any wool? Yes, Mr. Harding, three bags full. One to pay the herder, one to pay the rent; One to feed my family, but it isn't worth a cent. We have hollered for protection till we're all out of breath; We have worn cotton underwear till we're almost froze to death. Now the sheriff's got our wools, The tariff's got our goats, The banker's got to hold the sack, For he has got our notes. —Allegheny County Farm Bureau News.
