TREZEVANT DOINGS RAIN HELPS CROPS

Marriage of Prominent Young People—Stores Opening—Crops Improved

Crops in this section are showing signs of improvement since the recent rains. Forward corn, which needed rain perhaps worse than any of the growing crops, is greatly helped. Crops in most sections have had the advantage of good cultivation and have been kept pretty well freed from weeds and grass which has helped them stand up under the drouth.

There is some signs of improvement in the way of opening up business concerns;

W. H. Gallaway Jr., has put up a temporary building for his grocery business on South Atwood street near the Collins office building, and will open a new stock of groceries within the next few days.

Plans are being made for the erection of a number of brick business buildings to begin soon. The Farmers and Merchants Bank will build on the corner lot bought of Mrs. Willie Holt on Atwood and Main streets. This site was occupied before the recent fire here by R. Y. Denton & Son, dry goods and shoes.

Jeff J. Blanks is planning the erection of five two-story brick buildings on Main street, the upper stories to be cut up into office rooms. I. G. Hurt has purchased the A. J. Smith lot on Front street. B. H. Hillsman will likely rebuild some brick buildings in the near future on Main street. A. J. Smith has bought the stock and fixtures of the J. C. Brown cafe and will run his cafe in the office room of the Pinson & Quinn garage on North Front street temporarily.

Farmers of this section are realizing some good money from the shipping of beans this season. They are getting prices for this crop, but the yield is very short and the acreage is also short this year. However, there have been enough of this product placed on the local market some days to justify carload shipments.

The tomato crop will begin to move on the market within the next few days. The acreage in this crop has been increased this year and the yield promises to be normal, but in many fields the worms are destroying a big per cent of the crop and growers are using sprays to check this pest.

Many people at this place were interested in the recent marriage of C. B. McAuley and Miss Brooxie Nalle Ware, which occurred at the home of the bride's mother in Memphis, the Rev. H. P. Hurt performing the ceremony. The bride was reared here, as was the groom, and she was the daughter of the late W. G. Ware, former depot agent and bank cashier at this place. The groom is a well known young business man, now of Blytheville, Ark., and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McAuley of this place.

Coleman—Jones

Merritt Coleman, a young farmer of near Lavinia, and Miss Allie D. Jones, of Lessenberry Chapel, four miles south of Milan motored to Jackson, Tenn., accompanied by Mr. Bud Garner and Mr. Cleve Hammons, stopping at the Southern Hotel, where they were married, Rev. Alvin West performing the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones. The groom is one of Milan's young men who served in the world war. He enlisted in May, 1918, went to France, fought in the battle of Alsac-Lorraine and Argonne Forest, and was twice wounded with machine gun bullets, once with bayonet, gassed twice and lay for months in a hospital.

Zach T. Jolly Dead

News was received here early Wednesday of the death of Zach T. Jolly, which occurred the night before at about 10:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's hospital in Memphis, where he was taken several days before, suffering from gallstones. We understand an operation was performed Thursday of last week.

Mr. Jolly was claim agent for the Illinois Central and Y. & M. N. railroads, with headquarters at Clarksdale, Miss. His Memphis residence was at 1960 Central avenue. He spent the earlier portion of his life in Huntingdon and was well and favorably known here.

The deceased was 43 years old, a member of the Methodist church and is survived by his wife and three brothers, L. H. and J. F. Jolly, of Huntingdon, and Homer Jolly, of Memphis, and five sisters, Mrs. W. B. Fry, of Nashville; Mrs. J. M. Watts, of Memphis; Mrs. Edgar Warbritton, of near McKenzie; Mrs. Lillie Groce, and Mrs. Leonard Reeves, both of Memphis.

The burial occurred yesterday in Oak Hill cemetery, in the family plot, but when the forms of the Democrat were closed arrangements for the burial had not been perfected.

Orman—Stephens

The Rev. Thomas A. Orman, pastor of the Liberty All church, and Mrs. Mamie Stephens of Sevier N. C., formerly of Lexington, Tenn., were married recently at Marion, N. C. The wedding was a surprise to the groom's friends here, as no announcement of his plans had been made when he left for North Carolina. He arrived in Huntingdon with his bride last Friday and they are at home west of town receiving the congratulations of Bro. Orman's many friends.

Berryhill—Harwood

A beautiful marriage occurred in the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Atwood last Monday night when Miss Thelma Harwood became the wife of Dr. G. H. Berryhill, the ceremony being said by Rev. Dishman, pastor of the C. P. church in Milan. Mrs. W. G. Leach, of Huntingdon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, Mr. Warren Gardner, of Chattanooga, best man, little Miss Carolyn Bryant candle lighter, and George Roach Keaton and Robert Brooks, ushers. Preceding the ceremony a musical program was rendered by Miss Effie Jones, of Jackson, and Mr. George Roach Keaton, of Atwood, vocalists, and Miss Nannie Payne, of Huntingdon, organist.

The bride was becomingly gowned with gray georgette and lace and carried a shower bouquet, while her matron of honor wore a honeydew organdy with corsage of sweet peas.

The groom is the son of Dr. A. D. Berryhill of McKenzie, and has just graduated in the medical course of Vanderbilt University with honors. The bride is an attractive young lady with many lovable traits of character, the daughter of Mrs. Ola Harwood, of Atwood. For the past six or eight months she has been with her sister, Mrs. W. G. GIBSON COUNTY BOY MAKES NICE PROFIT

Boy Taking Vocational Agriculture Clears $314.52 From one Acre

Hubert Nelson, of Gibson county, made a clear profit of $314.52 from his project of one acre of tomatoes grown as a part of his instruction in vocational agriculture under the Smith-Hughes Act.

The land had been in beans the year before. It was a clay loam soil and was broken about eight inches deep early in the spring. It had been disliked and was allowed to lay until about the middle of April when it was again thoroughly disked. After disking about three times the fertilizer was distributed on April 15th. On April 22nd the plants were set in the field. The plants were grown by the boy. About 800 pounds of 8-2-2 were used. One ton of barnyard manure was also applied. As soon as the plants were set, cultivation, staking, tying and pruning began. Cultivation was shallow and frequent. About June 10th the cultivation was over and on June 29th marketing began.

There were harvested 176 bushels of green tomatoes and 63 bushels of ripe tomatoes. These sold for a total of $438.35. There was a total of 108½ hours in man labor, and 64½ hours in horse labor devoted to the project.

MEMPHIS-TO-BRISTOL IN BENTON COUNTY

Work on Benton County Link in Highway Begins July 1, to Push to Completion

Dunn & Woodall, contractors of Atlanta, Ga., who were the successful bidders last week on the Memphis-to-Bristol Highway from Trotter's Landing, on the Tennessee River, to Camden, Tenn., are making their arrangements to commence work upon the highway by July 1.

A good deal of the machinery has been shipped already, and they are buying the lumber with which to build the shacks along the route. This section is about 7.02 miles long, and as soon as it is built a contract will be let to finish it through to the Carroll county line, which will complete the link through Benton County.

When these two sections are completed it will give a fine road from Huntingdon to Nashville, as contractors are already finishing up the few sections between Waverly and Nashville that have been hanging fire so long.
