

I ought to know I grow tobacco

You can't beat a Camel, because you can't beat the tobacco that goes into Camels.

That's why Camels are the choice of men who know and love fine tobacco. They know what makes Camels so smooth, so fragrant and mellow-mild.

They'll tell you that the expert Camel blend of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos makes a cigarette smoke you can't equal—no matter what you pay.

But it doesn't take an expert to tell Camel quality. You'll spot it the very first puff. Try Camels yourself.

TRYING TO EQUALIZE TAXES OF COUNTY

Board Finds Many Perplexing Problems in Adjusting the County Assessment

To equalize the taxes of the county and do justice to all parties is no easy task, and the county equalization board will verify this statement.

The board has been in session now several weeks and the task is not finished. The board is composed of honest men who want to do the clean thing, meeting out justice to the taxpayer as well as to the county, but they are more or less handicapped by divergency of opinions of those who appear before it. It is hard to get at the real facts.

As a rule there is a vast difference in the value of a price of property when placed on the market for sale and when listed for taxes. How some people's property does dwindle in value when the tax assessor is making his investigations. But let a real estate agent come along and value advances rapidly.

If everybody would give in his property at its cash value, the rate would be lowered, everybody would be benefitted, except the tax-dodger, and a burden would be raised from the honest taxpayers of the county, and the obligations of the county could be met.

Fast Game

Big Buck defeated the fast Cherrywood ball team in a nicely played game at Big Buck Saturday, July 23, the score being 9 to 5. The pitching by Barker, who struck out nine men, and the batting of Olof Hall, who got a single, double and triple, featured. Batteries for Big Buck, Barker and P. Coleman; Cherrywood, Brashier and L. Thompson. Umpires, M. Barker and E. Coleman.

Burial of Mr. Herron

The remains of John T. Herron, an account of whose death we had in our last week's issue, reached McKenzie last Monday night on the 11 o'clock train, having left Tampa, Fla., on Saturday. The funeral was conducted Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Presbyterian church in McKenzie, the church in which he was an active member for a number of years until his removal to Tampa. Services were conducted by Rev. George L. Johnson and a talk was also made by Mayor Burkhalter. A large number of friends were in attendance. The remains were accompanied to McKenzie, by the widow, and his son, who joined her from New Mexico. Those attending the funeral from Huntingdon were R. F. Dilday and son, Robert, Jr., Joe McCrackin and Miss Annie Fowler.

Capital's Humble Beginning.
At the time of Monroe's inauguration, in 1817, Washington was a village of 8,000 inhabitants, living mostly in huts scattered over an extensive area. The so-called "Federal city" was a joke, and was more frequently called "The Mudhole" and "Washington's City in the Potomac."

TREZEVANT DEPOT NEARLY COMPLETED

The New L. & N. Station is an Attractive Building and Pride of the Town

The new Louisville & Nashville Railroad at Trezevant has been completed and Local Agent R. P. Jobe and his force began Monday to move into the new building, which is pronounced one of the best stations in the state. This station was erected at a cost of more than $30,000 and is built on the most up-to-date and convenient plans for both the public and the railroad. Concrete platforms have been laid around the building. A large crew of hands has been at work on this building since early spring and the people of Trezevant are loud in their praise to the officials of the Louisville & Nashville for their interest in the town shown in building such a nice station.

Trezevant is one of the largest shipping points in the county and the railroad company planned the splendid depot largely because of this fact. The big fire will hinder the prosperity of the community for a while, but the town will rebuild and all lines of business will then assume their usual large proportions.

Found Dead

Varnell Rich, the four months old child of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rich was found dead in bed Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Rich and baby were visiting Mrs. Rich's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Cash, that night and the baby was in perfect health, seemingly, on retiring. But upon waking about three o'clock in the night they found the baby dead. Heart trouble was thought to be the cause. The burial occurred Friday.

GOOD WEATHER HELPS THE COTTON OUTLOOK

Fields as a Rule Are Clean and Plant is Fruiting Well—Shows Improvement

Reports to The Commercial Appeal of the average date of July 21 indicates that the cotton crop has, because of boll weevil, failed to make that response which might have been expected from favorable weather conditions, but on the whole is better than it was a month ago.

There are some scattered complaints of shedding due to causes other than boll weevil, but weevil constitute not only the chief drawbacks in so far as development since June is concerned, but is also the principal menace to the future of the crop.

Weevil have made new invasions in North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Oklahoma, but nowhere has damage been proportionate to infestation, which is reported to be very heavy.

Nearly all sections received plenty of rain during the month, and many, particularly in Texas, in view of boll weevil, would probably have been better off without so much. While here and there drouthy tendencies prevailed, too much rain was the most prominent reason for complaints that weather was unfavorable.

In Tennessee the weather was mostly favorable, except too dry northward, one or two Tennessee river counties and scattered localities of the southwest. Plant is fruiting fairly well and the condition averages satisfactory. Plant healthy and fields clean and well cultivated. Crop has held its own or improved since June. Boll weevil in a number of southern and Tennessee river counties, but little damage reported so far.

Confederate Reunion

The Stonewall Jackson camp, Confederate Veterans, held their annual reunion picnic Thursday of last week at Shiloh and had the usual good time. There was a large number of people in attendance, an interesting program, and a delicious dinner. The speakers of the day were Poe Maddox, Capt. Gordon Browning, Huntingdon, Rev. Charlie Davis, California, and Prof. J. A. Robbins, of McKenzie. Maj. J. M. J. Moore was on hand with his bugle and took charge of the ceremonies. The old fiddlers were there and entertained after the good old way. Prof. C. H. Presson and his class furnished vocal music for the occasion.

Thomason—Arnold

Mr. Hubert Thomason and Miss Virla Arnold, both living on route four from Huntingdon, were recently married in Huntingdon at the home of Squire L. A. Hurt who said the ceremony. The young couple took people by surprise, slipping away to Huntingdon and being married before their friends knew anything about it. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thomason and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold. Their friends wish them a happy married life.

Harris Phone Appraiser

The state railroad and public utilities commission last Tuesday appointed Ross W. Harris as its appraiser of the property of the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company in Tennessee. The citizens and the company will each name their appraisers later. Mr. Harris will also have charge of the audit of the company's books. He is at present engaged in a traffic survey of the cities of Nashville and Memphis.

Birthday Party

On last Saturday Gordon Wilder, Jr., entertained a number of his young friends in a delightful manner in the grove near his home. Games of various kinds were enjoyed and a delicious two-course menu was served. The birthday cake was decorated with four candles, suggestive of the number of years he was old. He was presented with a number of souvenirs of the occasion by the guests.

UNION S. S. PICNIC DRAWS BIG CROWD

Trezevant Enjoys Great Day—Revival Season to Open Soon—Other News

The biggest Sunday school picnic ever held at Trezevant was given in the church grove Thursday of last week. Fully 1,000 people attended. At the noon hour barbecued meats were served, together with crackers, pies, pickles and other good eatables, and after the crowd had been served there was much meat left, and it was sold, and the proceeds appropriated to the City Cemetery Association. Twelve lambs and five large hogs were barbecued.

After lunch the people listened to Sunday school talks by the Rev. T. H. Davis, of the Methodist church, and S. L. Barger, of Atwood, and J. J. Ryan, Will Fesmire, and J. R. M. Rucker and E. T. Ethridge, of Trezevant. The crowd was also entertained with gospel singing by a number of local singers. The picnic was arranged by a committee from the four local churches, the Baptist, Methodist, Cumberland Presbyterian and Christian.

The first revival services to be held here this season will begin at the Baptist church on the fifth Sunday in this month. The pastor, Rev. L. R. Riley, will do the preaching, but he will be assisted in the meeting by Mr. Hughes and wife, of Kentucky, who are prominent singers and musicians. The meetings at the other churches in town will be announced later. The meeting at the Baptist church will likely continue about three weeks.

The watermelon season has opened in the Trezevant section and farmers are placing the melons on the local markets. The acreage is much increased this year and the farmers are getting good prices for their melons. There are some framers in the Nineteenth district of the county who have several acres in melons, and some of the best and biggest melons of the county are grown in that section.

John Teague, of Campbell, Mo., is negotiating for a lot in the business section of Trezevant for the purpose of erecting a modern business house for the purpose of putting in a general line of dry goods, shoes, etc. Mr. Teague is an experienced and successful business man, having been in the mercantile business for many years, and says that he never sold a dollar's worth of merchandise on time. He runs a strictly cash business. He has under consideration the lots on the corner of Atwood and Main streets here which were occupied before the fire some two months ago by R. Y. Denton & Son, dry goods and shoes, and the Peoples Bank. If Mr. Teague buys these lots he will begin the construction of a brick building on the same site soon and will occupy the building this fall.

Picnic at Milam's

There is to be a picnic at Milam's store in the Ninth district, Thursday, August 4. Capt. Gordon Browning will speak in the morning and ex-Gov. Tom C. Rye in the afternoon. Miss Beulah Oliver, of Paris, will also deliver an address, and there will be several recitations by young ladies. After the literary program there will be a foot race and wrestling contest, a prize of $200 to be awarded the winner in each contest. An egg throwing is also to be featured and the closing amusement will be a ball game.

Revival Services

Evangelistic services have been in progress at the Buena Vista church since Wednesday of last week and it is expected they will continue through this week. The pastor, Rev. T. M. Boyd, is being assisted by Rev. S. H. Allen, of Huntingdon. Prof. Smith, of Jackson, is leading the music. Much interest is being manifested in the meeting, large crowds being in attendance. By Tuesday of this week there were already 20 conversions and 10 additions to the church by baptism.

J. SAM JOHNSON AND CLERKSHIP REPORT

The Arrival of Judge Ross a J. Sam Johnson in Memphis Cause Talk

Wednesday's Commercial Appeal contained the following interest here:

Judge J. W. Ross of the United States court arrived in the city last yesterday from Jackson, Tenn. Beyond stating that he did not have any time in mind for the re-convening of court in this city Judge Ross did not have anything to say as to business in Memphis.

J. Sam Johnson, of Huntingdon, Tenn., also arrived in the city yesterday. Both the judge and Mr. Johnson were at the office of A. G. Matthews, clerk of the federal court, just before the closing hour yesterday.

The presence of the latter revived the general report that Mr. Johnson would succeed Mr. Matthews as clerk of the court on August 1. On this point Mr. Johnson was uncommunicative. He would not deny nor would he affirm the report.

The same attitude was maintained by Judge Ross. A few days ago when it was suggested to Judge Ross that Mr. Johnson had resigned recently as clerk and master, which office he held under Judge Ross when the latter was chancellor, and he was asked if the resignation did not give added color to the report Mr. Johnson would be the new clerk, the judge again reiterated he had nothing to say.
