SOCIETY NOTES.

E. D. BENCAS, Editor.

Miss Waddell spent a few days at Bluff City this week.

Miss Minnie Kirkpatrick is spending a few days this week with home folks in Jonesboro.

Miss Jennie Kirkpatrick and Mr. Williams, of Jonesboro, came up to the wedding Saturday evening.

Be sure and attend the social Friday evening in the Y. M. A. Room, given by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. F. A. Stratton and Miss Stratton left Johnson City Tuesday for Philadelphia, Pa., where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crandall celebrated their fifth anniversary Saturday evening with a wooden wedding. There were about twenty-five invited guests present. A delightful supper was served. They received a number of nice presents.

The Bristol Dramatic Co. gave an entertainment in Jobe's Opera House Saturday evening. The boys did quite well, considering the time they had evidently spent upon it, but we could not help thinking of the old saying that "Actors, like poets, are born, and cannot be made," even from Bristol material. They played to a very fine house, and are to come again next month.

Friday evening Mrs. S. W. Wilson gave a birthday party complimentary to her niece, Miss Lula Smith, of Jonesboro. Below are the names of those who were present and enjoyed an elegant supper and pleasant evening.

H. W. Lyle and Miss Sallie Chandler, R. S. Boyd and Miss Mattie Chandler, J. D. Faucette and Miss Fornie Berkeley, Walter M. Martin and Miss Reeve, of Jonesboro, and E. D. Duncan.

Clara Louise Kellogg sang in Bristol Tuesday evening. A number of our young people took advantage of this opportunity to hear some good music, and went up. Below are the names of those who composed the party: Mrs. J. E. Crandall, Misses Mary Wilder, Nettie Shortridge, Carrie Summers, Martha Wilder, Fornie Berkeley, and Miss Broyles, of Broylesville; Messrs. J. F. Crumley, J. D. Faucette, R. S. Boyd, H. W. Lyle, Jos. P. Summers, Cy M. Lyle, Mr. Johnson and E. D. Duncan.
