FURNITURE UP-STAIRS

Major Swain will be here himself and he has combined Drama with Chautauqua offering the two highest branches of amusement along with the Swain all solo band.

Mrs. T. W. Sims and daughters, Misses Marie and Enid, left Wednesday for Washington after spending the summer in Lexington. Miss Enid, the younger daughter goes back to re-enter school. While with us Mrs. Sims and daughters have won warm places in the hearts of many of our people, who hope to see them come back to Lexington next summer.

Rev. Vergil Pafford, Mrs. Pafford and two daughters, Misses Mary and Helen, returned last Saturday from Tucson, Arizona, where they went last Spring for the benefit of Mr. Pafford's health. After giving the West a fair trial Bro. Pafford decided that he did no better there than here, hence returned to his home and people. The two boys, Otis and Clarence, have good jobs and remained at Phoenix and Tucson respectively.

We did not have the pleasure of hearing Judge Barham's charge to the grand jury, but those who did inform us that His Honor "read the riot act" to all who have or may violate the laws of the land. Judge Barham is a just and capable exponent of the law and in its enforcement he will have the co-operation of every man within the bounds of Henderson county who is worthy to be classed as a good citizen.

We notice that county Court Clerk Wesley Williams, of Carroll county, who was in Lexington last Monday, as chairman of the Republican congressional committee, consulting with local Republican leaders, reports that the facial paralytic stroke, which has prevented L. M. Rhodes from filling his first list of appointments is not permanent and Mr. Rhodes hopes to make speeches in the last two weeks before the election.

The speech made by Hon. T. W. Sims in the Circuit court room last Monday afternoon, was one on which the Congressman has been complimented as one of the best efforts ever made by him in addressing his constituents—in fact we have been told by Democrats and Republicans alike that Mr. Sims has never made a better speech. It is confidently expected that Mr. Sims' majority in the forthcoming election will be a handsome one, for no Democrat has either reason or excuse to support his Republican opponent.

You are cordially invited and urged to be present at all of these services.

Mrs. Mittie Frizzell, now residing in New York City, formerly well known here as Miss Mittie Moore, in the days when the late Prof. S. A. Mynders lived and taught school in Lexington, arrived here on Thursday of last week, when on her way to spend the winter in Los Angeles, California, and has been the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rozetta Blount. Mrs. Frizzell was preceded to California by her 21-years-old son, Charles, and is accompanied on the trip by her 19-years-old daughter, Miss Alice, who is with friends at French Lick, Indiana, while her mother visits here. Mrs. Frizzell was popular in her girlhood and her friends and relatives here are very glad to see that at forty five she is a well-kept intelligent, handsome woman.

According to the census of 1910, there was an urban population of 42,623,383, and a rural population of 49,318,883, so that there were more people living outside of cities and towns than in them. The urban population, however, has shown a greater rate of increase than the rural. From 1900 to 1910 the urban population increased 34.9 per cent, while the rural percentage of increase was 11.1.

It has been asserted that the sun is moving towards the star Vega, in the constellation Lyrae, and that this star is drawing the solar system to it at the rate of about 12 miles per second. More recent researches show, however, that the universe is composed of two streams of stars, the members of each moving in regular courses. There seems to be no exact knowledge of the matter. A complete revolution of the sun on its axis is made in 25 days, eight hours.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 5.—Eight southern states were represented in a conference here which resulted today in the organization of the Southern Song Book Publishing Co-operative association. Will M. Ramsey, Little Rock, Ark., was elected president; J. W. Gaines, Memphis, secretary-treasurer, and S. J. Oslin, Stigler, Okla., first vice-president. A resolution was adopted inviting the Southern Song Writers' association to meet with the publisher's organizations in Memphis next fall.

Judge Thomas E. Matthews, of the circuit court, Friday handed down his decision in the case of Mrs. Ella Lea et al. vs. Lewisburg & Northern, in which he refused to grant the petition to dissolve the charter of the road. The plaintiffs, however, were awarded $1 for each foot over which a pipe line is to be run by the defendant road through the plaintiff's property.

The suit was filed several months ago, asking that the Lewisburg & Northern be enjoined from laying a pipe line across the plaintiff's property in the Radnor yards. It also asked that the road's charter be revoked—Tennessean and American.

Coffins at cost. Will explain why next week.

W. L. RULY.

The most experienced sons of the sea are apt to have very exaggerated ideas of the size of towering waves which break over the vessels during sea storms, and frequently waves are reported as having reached an almost impossible height.

As a matter of fact it is extraordinary for a wave to attain a height of seventy feet, while the average size of great waves is considerably less. The mountainous seas often encountered by liners in the North Atlantic usually measure about forty feet, though the upward-shooting, quick falling water attains a greater altitude. The big waves of the North Pacific rarely measure more than thirty feet, while the highest wave ever met by an Australian-bound steamer in the South Pacific reached fifty feet.

The big waves of mid-ocean are much larger than those encountered elsewhere, and it is very rare that a height of even twenty feet is reached by a wave in the Mediterranean.

If Candidate Hughes could burn the record! The Louisville Times, investigating it and not desiring the farmers to vote blindly, presents the following facts and figures:

While governor of New York the republican nominee knocked out by vetoes $11,000 for investigation and extermination of contagious diseases of plants and San Juan scale and other dangerous insect pests; $8,000 for farmers' institute work; $700 or investigation of insecticides and fungicides; $2,500 for a specialist to fight insect pests; $8,000 for dissemination information concerning cheap farms in New York; $2,000 for collecting and disseminating information relative to agricultural labor with the State College of Agriculture; $10,000 for completing enlargement of the State Veterinary College; $5,000 for the maintenance of the department of veterinary science in the state university, and $250 designed to make up a deficiency in the salary of the commissioner of agriculture.

If the result of this campaign shouldn't squelch the judge's ambition, we suggest that in case his record cannot be disposed of otherwise, he could hide any remaining documents that might gladden democrats in the depths of his hirsute jungle—Tennessean and American.

Short Lent.

Those have a short Lent, wrote Ben Franklin, who owe money to be paid at Easter.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Is Dangerous In Lexington

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Plenty of Lexington evidence of their worth.

Mrs. R. E. Hopper, Hinson Street, Lexington, says: "I suffered terribly from kidney complaint and it was about all that I could do to keep up. My back ached so badly I often thought it was breaking. My feet and ankles were swollen and puffy spots appeared beneath my eyes. I couldn't rest well and had to get up in the night and walk the floor for relief. In spite of the doctoring I did, I found no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon fixed me up in good shape. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills since then when I have felt in need of a kidney tonic and they have always brought me good results."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hopper had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
