WINE OF CARDUI, a Tonic for Women.

BLACK-DRAUGHT for Dyspepsia.

Joe A. East is at home this week.

All the schools will give a holiday recess.

Edgar Cherry came in from Nashville Monday.

Dr. J. W. Lee, of Walnut Grove, was in Savannah Monday.

H. E. Williams went to Clifton Friday and returned Sunday.

J. C. and A. B. Mitchell, of Sallito, were in Savannah Monday.

Heating and cooking stoves for sale cheap at W. H. Carrington's.

Miss Ella DeFord is at home after a lengthy stay at Cerro Gordo.

Do not forget the COURIER'S mammoth edition that will appear next week.

G. W. Harbert and family have moved into the Walker residence on West Main.

The Iron Age passed up Tuesday to Sheffield with a tow of five barges after pig metal.

The St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Co. have all their boats in this trade again, giving us two a week.

Col. C. S. Broyles, of Cerro Gordo, lost a mule in October that he would like to have returned to him.

The steamer Herbert, on her way from Chattanooga to St. Louis, sank just above Florence Monday morning.

We are promised three weddings for the holidays. If they do not occur we will probably give our authority.

Capt. L. S. Doolittle, formerly superintendent of the cemetery at Pittsburg Landing, but now of Nashville was here this week.

Caleb C. McGee and Miss Ella L. Baird were married Dec. 16th. The bride is the eldest daughter of ex-county register, R. K. Baird, and well known in Savannah.

Joe Cooper was playing a new role yesterday—that of butcher. We accused him of coming up town the back way to keep his girl from seeing him but he denied the charge.

The colored people will have entertainments at the school house in Newtown on the nights of the 22nd and 23rd. Their program indicates spice for those who attend.

The Savannah Amateur Theatrical Club will present "The Danger Signal," a drama in two acts during the holidays. This drama should draw a large crowd as it will be the best thing they have yet given us.

To see two large and elegant steamers like the City of Paducah and Clyde at our wharf at one time, like they were Monday, helps one to forget for a time that he is in a small village, and to believe that he is on the brink of a large city.

New and fresh goods continue to come—the loveliest evaporated fruits, Prunes, Apricots, Peaches, Pears, Oranges and Apples, and an endless variety of Staple and Fancy Groceries for sale at about cost for the next 30 days. Teachers' Institute.

The Hardin County Teachers' Institute met in pursuance to the call of the Executive Committee at Pilgrims Rest the 11th inst. The first day's proceedings were characterized by the usual banal shaking of the fellow teachers. Quite a number being present at the roll call and others falling in along through the day, swelled the list to some eighteen teachers who seemed to be very much interested in the work mapped out for them. After the opening formalities the regular programme was taken up and the business of the Institute was dispatched with a spirit of fairness to every shade of an opinion. Among the teachers doing credit to the work assigned them were J. W. DeBerry, A. S. Grigg, T. T. and H. E. Watson, besides Misses Ida and Jesse Ross and Miss M. Ellen Brown always make their presence felt and their usefulness known.

The Institute was favored with a number of lectures and with music that has the effect of "soothing the stirring souls of the savage."

Had a number of well rendered recitations from the pupils of J. T. Hardin, besides the young ladies of Savannah favored us with some choice selections, delivered in the most excellent style and among those whom we wish to thank are Miss May Carter, Fannie Broyles, Ida Callens and little Irene Hardin. The business of the Institute having been completed, the Executive Committee reported in favor of Olive Hill having the next Institute, and set the time for the 11th and 12th of March 1892.

After the Committee on Resolutions had reported, tendering thanks to the people for their most hospitable courtesies, to the choir for the most excellent music rendered us, and to our most worthy County Superintendent, Miss Bessie Moore, for the able and dignified manner in which she conducted the proceedings of the work, the house adjourned to meet at Olive Hill March 11 at 9 o'clock.

JOHN T. HARDIN, Sec. P. S. We would suggest to the teachers of the county that it would be well for us all to take the COURIER and by this means we could all keep abreast of what is doing in our ranks and never miss the outlay.

No use running around asking Smith Brown and Jones what to do for your chills. Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic will cure you, cure you quickly and completely. Give it a trial. Price 50 and 75 cents. Guaranteed by J. K. Barlow.

CORRESPONDENCE.

PICKWICK.

Dr. Cox, of Hamburg, was in our midst last week. The school Directors of our district met at Atkins' store Saturday to consult about the changes necessary in the different districts, but failed to accomplish anything and adjourned until the 19th. The writer would rather have the President's office than a director's any how.

G. M. Martin is quite low yet. He had a close call.

J. S. Jenkins is on the sick list. He is afflicted with spinal affection brought on, he says, by laughing at Dick Baird's sub-treasury joke.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Rev. J. M. Pickens, wife and baby left for their home in Decatur County last week. Esq. David Pickens is very sick this week.

There will be a prayer meeting at New Hope on Christmas day. Mal Smith is still very low with the fever.

R. T. Blanton is all smiles—it's a girl; and there is another boy at Lee McLemore's.

J. L. Jagers has moved to the old home place of Mrs. E. A. McDaniel deceased.

Rev. D. L. Hines preached at New Hope last Sunday.

Prof. Jesse Pickens and wife, of Mt. Zion, visited their parents last Sunday.

Mrs. Bettie Billings was visiting here last Sunday. FLORA.

NIXON.

Mr. Harmon's child was buried at Bethel Sunday evening.

Lenora Howell and Billie Williams, two of our school boys, went out on the creek Friday, returning Sunday.

Prof. Grigg attended the institute below Savannah Friday and Saturday.

E. P. Shull and Miss Lucy Bunn were married one night last week, and C. C. Gammill and Miss Ora Sisson were joined by the same rite Sunday evening; J. L. Baker Esq. officiating in both instances.

The Christmas holidays are close at hand, and Christmas trees are being talked of.

Horace Hinkle was the guest of Andy Blevins Sunday.

Prof. Stanley, our band teacher, has gone home to spend Christmas, after which he will come back and teach for the boys, three more weeks; m-k-ing out the two months. GUESS WHO.

Cheatham's Tasteless Chill Tonic is put up in 50 and 75 cent sizes, you pay your money and take your choice. But whatever size you buy, you can rest assured that you are getting the worth of your money. It never fails to cure chills; it is guaranteed to do so by J. K. Barlow.

Feminine Philosophy.

Nature never endowed or afflicted me with oocathese scribendi, nor do I wield a willing or a facile pen, but one driven by stern necessity. But I have often thought were it not for this same taskmaster, this struggle for sustenance, that the brightest gems that have ever been given to the literary world would now be lying unpolished in the great minds from whence they sprang, whose only diversions would be lolling in the halls of ease and luxury. But who would not be incited to bolder flights and grander efforts, with such encouraging words as these: "Why don't you write more for your paper? You should not let the talent remain dormant. There is a sparkle in your writings that reminds one of Champagne or a draught of sparkling Catawba."

Did you ever notice in an evening's conversation how one subject led to another, how one thought brought up a successor? What a charm-string of mind-beads you will have! and were you to go back and count them over you would be surprised at the number of years you had covered the great distance you have traveled. From my earliest girlhood I possessed the trait, whether good or bad you may decide for yourself, of believing all that was told me, having implicit faith and confidence in mankind and woman-kind and this simple faith has always been a pleasure to me and has never proved me false; for is it not better to accept even flattery as if it were praise, than to doubt for once the kindly interest of a friend? The idea I wish to convey is beautifully expressed in the following brain-waif of unknown parentage:

"I will not search the eyes that meet my own With love's dear light for treacherous deceit; I will not question if the tender tone That falls upon my ear in cadence sweet Is but a voice of falsehood; better trust And be betrayed, than not to give its due To honest truth; worse is the eating rust Of cold and dark suspicion, than to find, After long years a cherished friend untrue: Let others croak who will I trust my kind!"

The question uppermost in the mind of woman fair is not "what can my hands find to do?" but "what is it that I cannot do?" Apropos of this comes a little incident picked up while out on a discharge of social duties one afternoon recently gone by. It so happened that the legal limb, who gets the cream of practice in our would-be law-abiding village was absent distributing justice in the courts of an adjoining town, and by a little strategy (and what bright woman will not use a little now and then to serve a purpose or carry a point) his wife having gained possession of his keys, repaired to his office with tuck-hammer, scissors and paste-brush, and an assistant of course, and with her own fair hands canvassed, and papered and otherwise tied up the office for a pleasant surprise to her liege lord on his return. Now I will wager a year's subscription to the COURIER that this same lawyer will never say that "marriage is a failure."

And surely marriage cannot be a failure, where the husband who has the highest sense of honor, is ever diligent in providing means, careful in the collecting of debts, and mindful of home-comforts; while the wife who is supposed to have an eye for the beautiful, is allowed to gratify her tastes in making home beautiful and attractive. To prove that marriage is a success, the husband and wife should be of one accord; when the wife expresses a desire for a new carpet, a handsome rug or two to brighten up the home-alter where the holiest, happiest and most sacred hours of their lives are passed, she should have her way, and receive all assistance and encouragement and never be told that she is always wanting to buy things that are of no actual service.

McEree's WINE OF CARDUI for female diseases

Hornbeake, Tenn., Nov. 20, 1890.

I take great pleasure in recommending your most wonderful Lemon Chill Tonic to all who may have cause to use medicine of that nature. My daughter had the chills for twelve months and had tried many remedies, and all to no purpose until she tried your Lemon Tonic, of which one third of a bottle cured her, and now she is well and healthy. Would say I hear it often spoken of, and have yet to hear of a single case it has not cured. J. W. Hays. For sale and guaranteed by J. K. Barlow.

What Shall We Do With Our Boys? "Whose Boys?" "Your boys: your neighbor's boys." Boys will be boys, but not everyone knows how to manage them; but if you wish some practical, common sense suggestions, read the article on the subject published in the January number of Demorest's Family Magazine, that ideal publication which bears out to the full the promise of its name. The January number contains a genuine holiday treat. The subject of the beautiful water-color "A Shippy Spot" appeals to every parent who has little ones, and the subtle sentiment of the exquisite full-page engraving, "Eloquent Silence" (after a painting by Alma Tatter), will be appreciated by young men and maidens. The artistic illustrations include besides, over 200 other pictures, illustrating "Barma and the Barmae," by a resident of Barma; "Evolution of Modern Costume," interesting alike to men and women; "Intelligence Offices in Paris," which will strike a responsive chord in every house-keeper's heart; "Home Art and Home Comfort," which besides some novel ideas for fancy-work, includes a paper on "Amusements for Sick Children"; "Correct Styles in Table Silver," an appropriate sequel to "A Course Dinner," given in the previous number; and several especially fine stories. The departments, "Our Girls," "Samaritanian," "Artistic Notes," "World's Progress," "Chat," "What Women are Doing," "Household," "Correspondence Club," and "Mirror of Fashions," each have special attractions this month, and this splendid menu, for a year, is furnished twelve times a year, for the subscription price of $2. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York City.

Lockhart, Tex., Oct. 15, 1889. Messrs. Paris Med. Co., Paris, Tenn. Dear Sirs:—Ship us as soon as possible 2 gross Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. My customers want Grove's and will have no other. In our experience of over 20 years in the drug business, we have never sold any medicine which gave such universal satisfaction. Yours respectfully, J. S. BROWNE & Co.

Nearly all diseases in the Southern States are produced by malaria. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic removes all malaria from the system. It is as pleasant to the taste as lemon syrup. 50c. To get the genuine, ask for Grove's.

FOR COLDS AND LAGRIPE

Use King's Royal Germetuer.

Wherever the test has been made there is no questioning the fact that Germetuer will cure LaGrippe in all forms and at all stages. Taken on the first symptoms it will prevent a severe attack when the disease has you fast in its clutches it will break its grasp taken after the disease has left you disabled it will remove the effects.

"An almost fatal attack of LaGrippe, last winter, left me with nasal catarrh and such susceptibility to bronchial irritation that the slightest exposure would develop it, and a very little effort in public speaking would result in a distressing hoarseness, so that I had serious fears of permanent disability."

"I suffered with dyspeptic troubles notably what is popularly known as 'heart burn' from which I found it difficult to obtain relief I was induced by a friend to try King's Royal Germetuer, and it gives me great pleasure to say that its effect has been as magical as 'Koch's Lymph' is reported to be, which is also a 'germ destroyer,' though taken in a different way."

"Catarrh, bronchial irritation and dyspepsia have all disappeared before one bottle of Germetuer has been used."

"One of my sons, who has long been a sufferer from catarrh, has received like signal relief from his old enemy."

A prominent physician of Atlanta Ga., after giving it a thorough trial on attack of cold almost equal to LaGrippe, said that he did not believe that Germetuer would cure every thing but he knew that it would cure a bad cold.

In cases of fevers attending colds it will remove the cause. If your druggist cannot furnish you, send direct to King's Royal Germetuer Co., Atlanta, Ga., and the medicine will be sent freight or express prepaid. Price $1.00 per bottle. If a preparation claiming to be Germetuer is offered to you for less, you have reason to suspect that it is a cheat. Every family should keep a bottle of Germetuer on hand for immediate use on the first symptoms of disease.
