NO TRUTH IN CHARGES.

Editor News:
 Will you please give me a little space in your valuable paper to make correction of some reports prevalent regarding the shooting of John Vanhoosier. It was announced that he was waylaid and shot—leaving open the supposition that the union was to blame. He received his wound from the hands of a non-union man, one of their own men. Malicious parties have spread reports that the union promised this man $700 to kill Vanhoosier, but that is not so, and the report has evidently been started to injure us in our fight for our rights.
 The union would be glad if the company would put on more guards, as they seem to have plenty of money, more than they know what to do with, and the sooner they get rid of it the better. I think, too, if they had more guards some of them would stay sober, and us union men would not be accused of every crime that is done.
 Union men here are standing firm, and having plenty to eat and wear, and are in no wise associating with the non-union miners.
 Best wishes to the News and unions everywhere. COALMONT MINER.

LETTER FROM BOWDEN.

Whitwell, Tenn., May 31, 1905.
 Now, Mr. Editor, as I have seen and read a good deal of late about the strike and conditions at Whitwell through the columns of your paper, though it is not my wish to burden you with the full details of the lookout and strike at Whitwell, but will say as we are going to have a public meeting here at Whitwell on the 9th of June, we ask everybody to come out to said meeting, and then they can hear for themselves the cause of the strike without reading it from the papers. But for fear some one who is now at work might not be able to attend the meeting, I will try to show him what he is doing for himself.
 It has been said that the boys now at work in the Whitwell mines are paid more for their work than we were under the union scale. Let us see if they are or not. The last scale of wages was agreed on by the union miners and fixed by arbitration. Judge George Gray of Delaware, was the umpire in the case. Now it will be remembered that the Whitwell miners have for years based their claims on what was done in the settlement with the Alabama miners that work for the T. C. I. & R. R. Co., with a 5c per ton less, and because the miners failed to agree on a scale of wages in Alabama the Company shut the Whitwell mines down, but did not discharge one of the men, as some writer would make it appear. Some of our men went and asked for their pay for June, but were told that they would have to wait till the pay day, as it was thought by all that the company and men in Alabama would reach a settlement before pay day in July. But what was the scale they offered in Alabama? 75c a ton less than the old scale. That would mean for the Whitwell miner, had it been accepted, 35c and 40c per ton on 9-dollar iron, and 57c and 53c on 13-dollar iron. But the Alabama miner would not make a scale on that base, but the company was after the union. They knew the miners would not take such a reduction. Now the scale that we worked at last year, ending June, 1904, was as follows: When iron was $8 per ton, the price of mining coal was 40c and 45c per ton; iron at $9, 42c-10c and 47c-12c; iron at $9.50, 45c and 50c; iron at $10.50, 47c-50c and 52c-12c; iron at $11.50, 50c and 55c. Drivers of one mule received $1.47 per day when iron was $11.50 per ton, and trackmen, $2.37, and other labor was paid according to the scale of wages agreed on, and this scale was printed and posted where every man and boy could see what his wages were. Now I would like for the boys that are now at work to have the scale that they are now working under printed and posted, and let us see if it would not read something like this. When iron sold at $9 per ton the price of coal would be 37c-2c and 42c-2c; with iron at $10, 40c and 45c; iron at $11, 43c-3c and 47c-2c; iron at $12, 45c and 50c; iron at $13, 47c-1c and 52c-2c; iron at $13.50, 50c and 55c.

Now you can see you are not getting more than the union men got because if iron was to go down in the market you would go below where the union miner was, as we got 50c and 55c per ton for our coal when iron reached $11.50, but you did not get to 50c and 55c per ton till iron reached $13.50 per ton. And if iron was to go down to $9 per ton you would just receive 37c-2c and 42c-2c a ton for your coal.
 Then again we got our pay twice a month, now you get your pay once a month. So I think you will see that you are not as well off as some of the writers to the News would make you believe you are.
 Now I will agree with some of the writers that a man has a right to work for any price for whom he pleases, but then it is a right that every man should belong to the union of his craft, as in union there is strength. It would be a bad thing for the labor of this country if the labor union was whipped, as we would have to take just what the other fellow would give us.
 Now as I said there will be a public meeting here on the 9th of June, and we would like to have every man, woman and child in and around Whitwell to be out on that day, as Bro. Price Evans, business agent for John Mitchell, will be here on that day, and other national officers will address the people. So come one and all and hear and see for yourself.
 With best wishes for the News and its readers,
 J. F. BOWDEN,
 President Dist. 19, U. M. W. of A.

can be obtained FOR A FEW CENTS
 "The Three Most Beautiful Roses,"
 By Paul de Longpre.
 At the urgent solicitation of the Woman's Home Companion, Mr. Paul de Longpre, who is the greatest painter of flowers in the world, consented to make a painting of what he considered "The Three Most Beautiful Roses," and the painting is without doubt one of the master pieces of this great artist. This magnificent picture is reproduced in all its original grandeur on the cover of the Woman's Home Companion for June. Although this cover is an accurate reproduction of a painting worth hundreds of dollars, yet the June number, which has this exquisite cover, may be obtained at any first-class news-stand or direct from the publishers for the trivial sum of only ten cents.
 Mr. Paul de Longpre is justly styled the "King of Flower Painters." He not only paints roses, but every flower that grows, and is the highest authority on flowers. His paintings are found in the most select homes. Some have sold for as much as seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00).
 Artists, art critics and competent judges all agree that the covers of the Woman's Home Companion far excel those of any other magazine.
 The Woman's Home Companion is a magazine which in beauty and excellence, art, stories, illustrations and fashions, etc., excels all other home and family magazines. The Woman's Home Companion is published by The Crowell Publishing Company, New York City, also Chicago, Ill., at $1.00 a year, and is the favorite magazine in nearly half a million homes, where it is read each and every issue by three million people.
