Bunker Hill,

Special to the News.

As "Uncle Blue" can't get around he wants to show "School Boy" that he needs a dose of medicine and I am going to apply it partly, and his brain can apply the rest.

First, I want to say to "School Boy" have you thought much on stopping the sale of whiskey and the results that would follow? No, you have not. The result is this. Cities have to have a tax and it will be placed on all factories and merchants and these factories will cut labor and raise on the material they produce, and the manufacturer when he sells to the wholesale man has to add on enough to cover that tax. The wholesale man selling to the retailer has to add on enough to pay his tax and the factory's both, and then the retail man adds it all on and the poor class has it all to pay, even on the widows of our country. It looks mighty nice with the rose on top but tarrn him over and look at both sides and you will see that the devil's work has got us and not the cities. Then you will have to pay a higher price for everything you consume. You are like the men that make such laws, who look at one side, not noticing where it leads. Look what they did for the railroads—passed a law giving them three cents per mile, and what made them pass that law? Because the railroad companies gave them a thousand-mile ticket. Some will cry out anarchism against socialism. If the republican leaders are not anarchists I do not know the reason. Any company can pass any kind of a law that they want passed but you just let the laboring class try to get a law passed to protect labor and see the results. It would not be constitutional. Try and see for yourself. So "School Boy," I think you had better take another course in school.

Mrs. S. P. Samply and little folks were visiting Mrs. L. P. Brewer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White were visiting at Dunlap last week.

"Uncle Tom" is chilling again. Hope he will soon be up again.

I heard that a young lady kissed a young fellow sometime back and it started his monstache to growing.

He will kiss him again he will have to go to shaving at once.

L. P. Brewer is still "cussing" the hog thieves for killing his hogs and marking them over. Hog thieves are plentiful out here. Some men that did not have any hogs have got meat to sell and some who did have only seven or eight have got meat to sell, and where did they get them? Just by marking other people's hogs and killing them. A certain fellow said "Uncle Blue" did not have any hogs. I want to say that I have twenty-one shoats, one male, seven sows and thirteen pigs and I raised them all. I have never marked any hogs except my own as some have done mine. I know what are mine and what are some one else's. I am sure not to bother.

S. B. Brown is repairing the fence around the old apple orchard, setting the fence in about twenty feet around next to the spring and cutting off one half of the field on the north end, putting the rails around the south end, giving the north end of the field up to the briars and bushes.

I am glad that "Representative" has come to life again. I was waiting to get able so I could go down and bury him, so let her bile, old chum. Tell "G. W." to wake up, or I will have to come down and raise him up.

Good luck to the editor and readers of the News. It is only 50c. Read it.

I said to a companion, "Let us go back into the house where the other people are and let us all go together." I had no fear or doubt. I thought that I was ready and willing to go. Bless God on high that ye shall live and never die. There is a place prepared for all if they will only accept the free grace and good will of God. I am an unworthy brother, saved by grace if saved at all.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor. There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high we are being refreshed—bone, muscle and brain, in body and mind—with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
