TO THE REPUBLICANS OF MARION

On account of the limited time and the bad weather, it will be impossible for me to see all of the voters before the primary to be held on Saturday, March 4th. Therefore, I take this method of asking for an endorsement of my administration as sheriff of Marion County.

As is known by all, I was elected to this office in August, 1914, and have administered the office for the past eighteen months to the best of my ability. It is probably true that I have made some mistakes in the discharge of my official duties, but "to err is human," and if, in the judgement of anyone, I have made mistakes. I hope they will consider that such was unintentional on my part, and that it is better to forgive than to condemn.

As I understand it, it has always been customary in this County in our party, for County officers to receive the nomination for the second term, provided they show themselves worthy thereof. The experience I have had in the office during the first term, will, of course, enable me to make a still better official during my second term.

I have endeavored to enforce the law without fear or favoritism, and if I am re-elected, I shall continue to do so.

I earnestly appeal to the republican voters for their support in my race for nomination for this office, and I assure one and all that if I am nominated and re-elected, I will give no person just cause to regret having given me their support.

Respectfully, J. M. KELLY.

Seven inches of snow fell Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

PECULIAR CONDITION OF AFFAIRS

Editor News: Complicated relationships are not infrequent, but it would be difficult to parallel the following:

A Neopolitan sailor tells the story, which is his own, as follows. "I married a widow. She had by her first husband a handsome daughter named Silvetta, with whom my father fell in love, and who became his second wife. Thus my father became my son-in-law, and my step-daughter became my mother, since she married my father. Some time after my wife gave birth to a son, who became my own father's step brother, and at the same time my uncle since he was my step mother's brother. But that was not all, for in due time a son was born to my father's wife, who was of course my brother, and also my step grandson, since he was the son of my daughter. My wife was also my grandmother, for she was the mother of my mother. Thus I, was my wife's husband and at the same time her grandson. Finally, as the husband of a person's grandmother is naturally that person's grandfather, I am forced to the conclusion that I am my own grandfather."

Beat that if you can. A. L. STINES, Jasper, Tenn.

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN

Mrs. P. Rehkamp 3404 Herman St., Covington, Ky. writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and gave it to all of them. They were subject to croup from babies on." It is a safe and reliable medicine.

"UNCLE TOM" NAILS UP SOME IDEAS

I have always understood that the Roman Catholic Church was of the divine apostolic origin, and I have always understood that the Methodist Church was a daughter of the Episcopal Church and got its origin from the preaching and teaching of John Wesley, who was an Episcopal preacher. I have also understood that the Episcopal Church was the daughter of the Roman Catholic, and was brought about by act of King Henry the 8th of England, because the Pope of the Catholic Church refused to grant him a divorce from queen Catherine, so that he could marry another woman. He declared that he was at the head of the church of England. He granted his own divorce and became a very much married man. After this both the Episcopal and Methodist Church recognize the Holy Catholic Church in their creed, and both have an apostolic organization, a thing some other would-be claimants do not have hardly a semblance. Evidently and undoubtedly the Roman Catholic Church has the best and strongest claims biblically, and otherwise of being the real apostolic church of the many aspirants for the honor. The Episcopal and Methodist make no such claims, but both say they believe in the Holy Catholic Church. Each recognizing the fact of a Holy Church of the divine, apostolic origin. The people generally acknowledge that there is but one church and a man in this enlightened age can not arrogate to his church priority without the proof to make good the claim. It is a species of false teaching that is injurious to the young and rising generation. No church can prove her claims except the Catholic Church. Of course, the Greek Church was in communion with the Roman Pantiff until the 9th century. Yet her rules are about the same as that of the Catholic. Perhaps some would like to know when Catholic was first used. At the end of the first century, and it has ever since been the name of the church because it is and means universal.

The name, protestant, got its origin when Luther made his protest to the princess of Germany in 1529. It is not necessary to give cause of this protest. I am not so prejudiced that I am blind to the fact of the case. I have always wanted to tell the truth answering matters of a public nature and to do what was really right. Therefore, I have been mangled and traduced very much, but I am determined to uphold the truth just the same, and no reformer, so called, need set forth spurious claims thinking I will endorse such for I will not do it. The Catholic Church is the oldest christian church on earth, and I have my doubt whether the Episcopal and Methodist can be saved and ignore the old Mother Church or not, and even if they believe in the Holy Catholic Church. If Christ did really organize a church and set it up, he certainly has never authorized any counterfeit or imitation. My idea is that we had better seek for the real, true original church, and let all others alone and put forth no claims that have not any foundation. In fact the people ought to be honest with God and themselves and not treat Christ and his church with contempt lest He might say to them, "I never knew you."

"Lord, have we not prophecied in Thy name, and in Thy name done many wonder wonderful works." Then He will profess to them that He never knew them. Why? "You ignored My Church and rejected My ambassadors. You sought to climb up another way. You tried to deceive and mislead My people. Now, depart from Me." Now, let me say in my conclusion. I care not who gets offended at me when I am trying to state facts on so grave and serious a subject as the church. If I am wrong, please do your best to show me my error. I am in earnest and not jesting. These latter-days, so-called churches have no legal claims worth a pinch of snuff. Uncle Tom.

Whitwell Department

Conducted by "Uncle Blue"

Dr. McNabb went up the pike Sunday afternoon.

Joe Smith and wife went down the pike Sunday.

Grover Pickett and John Holloway took a round trip Sunday morning.

There were plenty of candidates on our streets Thursday electioneering.

A good crowd gathered in Whitwell Thursday as there was no work in the mines.

Wash Coppinger was here full of fun Thursday. As I see he is a good man I do not think the voters of this county could vote for a better man. He is just a plain man and always the same thing. It does not change him because he is running for office.

Our friend, Mr. Hankins, was on our streets Thursday shaking hands with the boys. We like to see him come for his company is well appreciated in Whitwell.

Ye writer joined the Holy Rollers Thursday of last week. He is now a full member, if it takes a roller to be a member, I will tell you my experience, so you can see I am a full member. I was on the side of the mountain coming down with my grip in one hand, just above Walker's saw mill, and I struck a rock with one foot. Down I came, away went my grip, and into a gully I rolled about eight feet deep. So you see I can roll now. I am not throwing stones at the Holiness Church, nor any of its members, for I have heard them preach and they tell the truth and practice what they preach, and I learn that piece in the News of the two angels is a false statement, sent out just to criticize the religion of Jesus, the Holy Lamb of God. Now, if I wanted to criticize or try to disgrace anything, it would not be for trying to serve the Lord. We had better humble ourselves before God and ask him to take from our hearts everything that is contrary to the will of God.

Ye writer passed John Smith's Tuesday and saw the girls snowballing each other. They sure were having a time.
