MAKING WAR ON DISEASE MENACE

American Red Cross Announces Budget of $48,200,000 For Current Year.

NEW DISASTER RELIEF PLAN

Continuance of Heavy Work Abroad Deemed Necessary to Protect United States—$21,000,000 Less Than Last Year.

A program of relief and service toward which appropriations of $48,200,000 have been made has been outlined for the American Red Cross for the fiscal year, July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921, according to official announcement by national headquarters of the organization at Washington. The figures for 1920-21 are $21,000,000 below those of 1919-20, in which $69,400,000 was spent.

Important among the items of the budget for the present year is the appropriation of $31,500,000 for relief in foreign lands, which includes $11,000,000 in purchased supplies on hand and not distributed.

Must Protect United States.
This will enable the American Red Cross to continue its humanitarian effort to aid stricken peoples to re-establish themselves, to fight the disease epidemics which threaten many countries and to efface largely the remaining traces of the blight left by the World War. It is regarded as social as well as physical sanitation on a large scale that will have a direct bearing on future conditions in America.

Central Europe, the chief sufferer from the conflict, today is facing another winter of famine, pestilence and ruin. Typhus decreased much during the summer months where last winter it had its greatest stronghold, but physicians who investigated the situation at the behest of the League of Red Cross Societies have given their unqualified opinion that this coming winter will see a recurrence on an unprecedented scale. The Red Cross feels it must continue preventive measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States.

Millions for Work at Home.
When the disease was sweeping Central Europe last winter the American Red Cross, with the aid of the governments of afflicted nations, undertook the fight against it. Hospitals were established wherever possible and food and clothing were distributed to the undernourished populations, who by reason of their undernourishment were easy prey to the epidemics. Where disorganization contributed last year to the great inroads made by the disease, by virtue of its knowledge of the disease and the presence of well established hospital centers, the American Red Cross this year will undertake the work with a new confidence.

Including the total of $11,000,000 in supplies left from the last fiscal year, the $31,500,000 is $21,000,000 less than the expenditures for 1919-20.

Appropriations for domestic activities total $16,700,000.
The largest item of this "home" budget is $7,800,000 for civilian relief work. This includes service and assistance for families of soldiers, sailors and marines, and work incidental to disaster. Of the total appropriation for civilian relief, $5,000,000 is held in reserve for the carrying out of actual disaster relief.

Reduced Overhead Expense.
The Red Cross invariably is the first thought of a community visited by calamity. With this in mind, it was determined by the Executive Committee in preparing the budget of 1919-20 to have a fixed reserve fund from which to draw in these instances.

For assistance to soldiers, sailors and marines in hospitals and in camps this year $1,900,000 has been set aside. Four million two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the United States during the current twelve months. The Red Cross is co-operating fully with the United States Health Service in this work and through its Junior Red Cross is doing much to spread among children the principles of sanitation. An appropriation of $1,000,000 has been made for developing the peace time program of the Red Cross by service to its chapters in all regions.

The appropriation of $48,200,000 is exclusive of the local expenditures of the 3,000 or more chapters.
Administration expenses this year will be $1,800,000. Last year they were $2,300,000.

The thermometer hit 42 deg. this morning, or 10 above frost.

"Something Doing" At Inter-state Fair

An army of workers are on the Chattanooga fair grounds this week putting them in readiness for the 200,000 visitors who are expected next week. Advance entries indicate the greatest fair in the history of the state. The livestock show will be especially good this year, and among the new features will be a mammoth baby beef show.

The horse racing will be much better than in years gone by as the entry list is more than twice as large as any other meet. The auto races on Thursday and Friday promise to be filled with thrills from start to finish, and these will be two of the best days of the fair.

The amusement program is the best ever gotten together at a southern fair. It will include aviation, balloon ascension by Lucielle Belmont, (the world's champion girl balloonist, each and every afternoon), two concerts daily by the famous Royal Scotch Highlanders Band, and a big program of seven high class vaudeville acts. All of these will take place in front of the grand stand. At night the celebrated pyro-drama, "Hawaiian Nights", will be given.

The auto and truck show will be twice as large this year as last and among the new features of the grounds will be the big electric show, the apple show under the auspices of the Tennessee Horticulture Society, the Baby and Children's Health Show, the massive cooking demonstration, the model textile mill in operation, and other features too numerous to mention.

The roads to Chattanooga are now in good shape, and it has been suggested that motor parties can come to the fair with great comfort, both as to schedule and also service at the grounds. Out-of-town people should come to the fair early in the week when the exhibits are new and fresh. The fair opens on Saturday, and everything will be complete and in readiness on Monday, Oct. 4th, and thereafter.

Auto Turns Over; Driver Injured

Will Simpson, of the firm of S. T. Simpson & Sons, Jasper, was injured in an auto wreck this week. He was driving his car near Prof. Hackworth's residence in West Jasper, when something went wrong with the steering gear, causing the car to turn to the side of the road so suddenly that it was turned over. Impetus was also given to the shock from the fact that both tires on the side the car turned over onto were burst. Mr. Simpson was thrown beneath the car and sustained considerable bruises, but no bones were broken. He states he was driving at about 20 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Marion Farmers Hold Outing

Small Attendance on Account of Threatening Weather

The farmers' organization of Marion county held its annual outing at the Blowing Spring Saturday. The attendance was small, the threatening clouds of early morning keeping away many.

After invocation by Rev. W. L. Dykes the morning session was opened at 11 o'clock under direction of John D. Lay, president of the organization.

W. S. Pryor of Jasper, manager of the Farmers Supply Co., a business under the control of the farmers' organization, was introduced as the first speaker, and having just returned from the state convention of the Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union at Nashville, was able to present an able address off hand on the work and aims of the organization, besides the character of the men elected as officers. He made a good address, one that was very interesting, although much wearied from missing three nights sleep in travelling and convention work.

He was followed by Dr. W. R. Irish of Jasper, a "son of a farmer," who made another excellent address, being extremely practical in what he had to say. Many of his allusive and conclusions brought forth laughter, and when he closed and said he was ready for chicken the audience was in a thoro happy state of mind—not because he had closed—but because of the cachinnation he had aroused, for no indignation attack should have followed, unless the viands were prepared along the lines the doctor said he could prepare them (he had already declared himself to be an accomplished cook.)

Recess was then taken for dinner beneath the umbrageous foliage of the trees.

At 2 p. m. session was resumed and short talks were in order. It was intended to go into stockholders session of both store and insurance departments at the town hall but owing to the absence of so many no session was held.

At 3 p. m. Old Dobbin and Tin Lizzie respectively were started for home, Ole Dobbin slow but sure, Tin Lizzie swifter but ex-centric, the farmers desiring to get home to do their chores before the close of day, and thus not get in the class of the writer who said farming was "working all day and doing chores half the night."

Special to the News.

Hot weather seems to be the order of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newman spent Friday with Mrs. Newman's brother.

Saturday, Sept. 25, we had a fine community fair which was attended by a large crowd. Had a fine exhibit, a game of baseball and other games. Everybody enjoyed the day. Master Green Pryor took first prize on corn, Mrs. Sam Pryor, formerly of Whitwell, took first prize on chickens.

Miss Vastie Adams cut a vein in her arm Friday.

R. C. Pickett, "ridge-ite" potato grower, received six first prizes at the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Newman spent Sunday with Mr. Newman's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pickett went to Bakewell Sunday.

Everyone is busy saving feed. Miss Lola Gentry received seven first prizes at the fair.

Come on, "Lone Star." Blue Eyes.

Every person mentally and physically able to do so should take the American Red Cross instruction in First Aid Treatment. It's a life-saver and a pain-saver on the farm, in the factory, on the street, at the office, in the home, wherever accidents may occur. Here's a young wife who ineptly wielded a can-opener and received an ugly gash across her wrist from the jagged can lid. Mother was there, however, with the First Aid kit and Red Cross instruction, and probably prevented a case of blood poison by giving prompt and proper treatment before the doctor arrived.

MOONSHINERS SEE ERROR OF WAYS

From Rev. J. B. Cobble, Big Lick, Tenn., a preacher of the old school, and an earnest worker against the wiles of the devil, we are in receipt of the following:

"A revival meeting on Straight Fork, Scott County, Tenn., conducted by Rev. Lacy Adkins and Ennsley Hatfield, the pastor of the Straight Fork church. There were 50 conversions and among them were several moonshiners. According to reports there were four stills cut to pieces. One still was cut up and brought to the church house in the night time, and a note placed on the still saying, 'All brother moonshiners stack arms here as I have done and serve God.' The church is in good working order and say they are going to take their stand against the evils of this community."

"ENSLEY HATFIELD, Pastor."

A few lines from Rev. Lacy Adkins:
"I am like Alvin C. York when he got the Germans and another fellow wanted to take them in for him, he replied: 'Plenty more in the woods. Go and get you some, I got these.'"

"I don't want the officers of Scott county to try in any way to harm the men that have got religion and cut up their stills. There are plenty more stills in this part of the county and in the woods. Come and get you one."

BRYAN ASSAILS COX AND H. S. CUMMINGS

Calls Choice of Democratic Convention Chairman a "Tragedy" for the Party.

COX CANDIDACY A DISGRACE

His Nomination Would Be an Insult by the Licker Forces, Nebraskan Asserts.

Special to The New York Times.
LINCOLN, Neb., May 13.—William Jennings Bryan turned his political batteries tonight on Homer S. Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Governor Cox of Ohio. In a statement given out here he says: "The selection of Chairman Cummings to sound the keynote of the Democratic National Convention is worse than a comedy. It is a tragedy. It is a melancholy beginning if the Democrats have any intention of making a campaign this year. If the Democratic Party is to be wrapped in wet sheets, locked up in a wall

First District, Marion County

Special to the News.

I am well pleased with the views of the News in regard to the laws that should be enacted at the next legislature, and we are going to try mighty hard to elect men that will enact laws that will be a benefit to the common class of people. I think our Marion county road law needs a little amendment very much. Think of four days work, or $3.00 in money, when anybody that will work can make from three to six dollars a day. If the law had called for four days work or $12 dollars in money it would have got some work done, but a much better law would be to provide means to keep a man on a section of road at least two days every week, keeping ditches open and making other repairs before it gets so bad. The mountain people don't want any more of the Cameron make of road laws.

Well, we have had one week of sunshine and everybody was glad to see it. The little mountain farmer is working over time, saving hay.

Frank Brown and wife of Kittingham, Pa., visited ye writer today and did the right thing by leaving $150 for the News one year. He is a Marion county boy, and says getting the News is like a letter from home. I believe every subscriber ought to send in one or more subscribers. Think of the interesting news we get. "Lone Star" gives us the news from Paris, Texas, and "J. G." from Eastland, and "Uncle Tom" keeps us posted on the doings at Tracy, besides a host of others.

Best wishes to the News and its many readers, I. B.
