Dan Pitman, of Victoria, was here Saturday with the farmers. M. H. Merritt, of Victoria, was among the farmers Saturday. G. C. Lay, of Sulphur Spring, was at the Farmers' picnic Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mitchell, of Inman, were here Saturday to attend the farmers picnic. Jas. Wells, a prominent farmer of the Inman neighborhood, was here Monday, en route home from Jasper. Isham Dixon, of Coppinger Cove, was here Monday morning to summon a doctor for his young son who is sick. A. L. Roberson, Vice-president Farmers' State Bank, and R. M. Smith, cashier, Jasper, were here Friday to secure statement of condition of bank for sending patrons which shows a steady growth. Mrs. G. E. Knox, of Victoria, the well-known milliner, was here Tuesday evening between trains. She has an advertisement in this issue, having just returned from a trip to Nashville where she bought her fall line.

G. E. Alley, of the firm of Vann & Alley, was here Thursday with an order for circulars for the Whitwell Sale of the firm, which began yesterday. This is one firm in Sequachee Valley which uses printers' ink generously and gets results. Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Brewer have made several improvements to their new home, formerly the Marlin property. The partition between hall and parlor has been removed, throwing that room and the hall together with staircase descending into it in Old English style and the room tastefully papered. Prof. Hackworth of Jasper, has been the decorator.

WHAT A CHURCH SHOULD DO

I have been studying about the matter of paying a pastor's salary. The way we ought to look at it is this: If a church promises to pay or give, as the case may be, a certain amount of money, why would the church then expect someone else to help pay. I think that the church members ought to pay the pastor's salary themselves. If the church members would pay the pastor's salary themselves and then let outsiders give him what they wish, even then he would never have any too much money on hand for all of his needs. We sometimes think that a preacher ought to go to work and earn his living like we do. I think he ought to work, but I think he ought to use his brains to bring poor, dying sinners the message, and some of us who are so good on Sunday will do most anything during the week. June Bug. So. Sequatchie Sept. 27, 1920.

Henry Anderegg of Whitwell, passed thru here Thursday en route to Peak Mountain on a hunting trip.

Farming Is a Business

And like every business, it requires forms, records and blanks that give you the facts about your farm, just as a business man has them about his business. We print forms and letterheads (every business farmer should have his own letterhead) on Hammermill Bond, the Utility Business Paper. Let Us Show You What We Can Do for You

Pie Supper a Success.

The pie supper at the Town Hall Saturday night was a decided success. It was given by the school under direction of Misses Jennie Harris, Mae Lasater and Nell Leland, teachers in the school.

Eighteen pies were on hand and made a pleasing array. Rev. W. L. Dykes officiated as auctioneer and kept up interest by his witty remarks. Bidding at first was slow until some young gentlemen from the mountain got busy and began buying pies. The pies brought $12.50. A cake baked by Mrs. Alex Lofty was presented to the most popular lady and brought $8.75. Miss Jennie Harris was the lady so honored.

Ten gallons of ice cream were ordered but the crowd was not large enough to dispose of so much and not quite all was sold. $27.35 was realized from the cream. Total clear of expense, $34.60.

BIG DOUBLE CIRCUS COMING THIS WAY

Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey's Combined Announce Exhibitions At Early Date.

This locality has entertained many circuses, but never anything to compare with the gigantic double shows billed as Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined which will exhibit afternoon and night at Chattanooga, Friday, Oct. 15.

The merging of these mammoth institutions in one circus of colossal size, constitutes the amusement surprise of the century. Nothing to approach this gigantic, new circus has ever before toured America. It has been formed by merging the pick and cream of all that was biggest and best in the two famous shows. It would be folly to attempt to enumerate its many wonders. Some idea of the enormous scale upon which features are presented may be had when it is stated that a quarter of a million pounds of elephants take part in a single act. In other words—six times as many of the big-eared giants than have ever before been seen in one main-tent exhibition. All else to be seen is in proportion. The arenic stars embrace all the world's foremost circus performers. There are three hours of novelties and big sensational acts. The menagerie is big and away the most colossal ever traveled. For instance—a herd of eight giraffes are exhibited in place of the two or three shown in the past. The great tournament which opens the main tent program, is the most magnificent thing in pageantry yet produced in America. Hundreds upon hundreds of gorgeously costumed characters and beautiful horses take part in it. The morning street parade is the longest and most brilliant ever given anywhere and offers something entirely new and novel in processional display. It is a stupendous double-circus that baffles description.

RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

Lowman Campbell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Campbell, of the mountain, was taken to So. Pittsburg Tuesday of last week where an operation was performed at Dr. Currey's Sanitarium for appendicitis. The boy is doing well, so we are informed by his father who was here Monday, and will be able to be brought home soon.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

MILLINERY

Having just returned from Nashville where I purchased an excellent line of Millinery I am now prepared to fill the wants of my patrons in fall designs. In the past I have always tried to make my selections with an idea to the possible wants of my customers, who, assuredly have been pleased as evidenced by the splendid patronage I have enjoyed, and I am confident they will again find something in my stock pleasing to them, both in artistic excellence and moderateness of price. Your custom for Fall Designs, 1920, is solicited.
