Tennessee Boy Dies in Columbus, Ohio.

The remains of Lee Reeser arrived in Dresden March 17.

Lee was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Reeser. He was born in Obion county, April 18, 1892. Soon after his birth his parents moved to Weakley county, where he lived for several years. A few years ago Lee left for Paducah, where he remained for some time. He worked at other points and finally went to Columbus, O., where he married Miss Anita Sweet, June 13, 1914. On the night of March 14, while switching in the railroad yards at Columbus and during a severe snow storm, Lee met a tragic death. His body was caught between two drawheads and was so badly bruised that he only lived a few moments. Arrangements were made at once to bring the remains back to Palmersville for burial. The railroad company furnished transportation for the parties to accompany the remains. The party was composed of the following: E. P. Hattenrat, E. R. Vance, W. W. Summers, W. W. Phelps, E. T. Morehead, Conductor Henry Fire, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sweet, Mrs. Anita Reeser, wife of the deceased, all of Columbus.

Lack of space forbids me telling all the good impressions that these sons and daughters of Ohio made on we Tennesseans. A better type of true, noble men and women we never met. The floral offerings made by Lee's fellow-workmen and friends were the nicest and most elaborate we ever saw.

Lee was a member of the W. O. W. at Boydsville, Ky. He was also a member of the Church of Christ. His friends and fellow-workmen said nothing too good could be said of him. He was a truthful, industrious, sober and religious boy, very devoted to his wife, home and church.

His young wife was prostrated with grief and wept bitterly over the sad and tragic death of her young husband. Lee's mother and step-father, sisters and friends were heart-broken over his death.

The writer tried to comfort them with many quotations from the Bible, after which the body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Palmersville.—Wm. Etheridge.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-purifier, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and uphold your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

MAYOR SUDDATH'S CLEAN-UP PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Dresden:

The first week in April, beginning with first Monday, next, is to be "Clean-Up-Week."

Being in full accord with the editor of the Enterprise and the Civic league of the town of Dresden, in their efforts to beautify Dresden, and make it as pleasant as possible to live in, I hereby designate the first week in April, beginning with first Monday, next, as "Clean-Up-Week" in Dresden, and each and every citizen therein is requested to heartily join in this necessary movement. Monday and Tuesday will be devoted to cleaning up our own private yards and lots. Then Wednesday of said week will be general clean-up day for the town and the business part of town, including back lots, will be cleaned up and the rubbish hauled away. Each citizen will be expected to help or furnish help on this day. The Boy Scouts will render valuable aid in the evening of that day and their teachers are requested to give them that Wednesday evening off from school.

I might also say here that all sanitary and fire prevention ordinances in this town will be rigidly enforced in the future. We have given notice to all parties who are running their sewerage out on the surface and in the streets and allevs, that same must be stopped and if it is not done or a bona fide attempt to stop it by the first Monday in April, the penalty of the ordinance prohibiting same will be enforced promptly. It is a misdemeanor to allow this water to run out on the surface and in the streets and alleys. We have as healthy a town as any in Tennessee and we must keep it that way. Each citizen should have the good health of his family and the town at heart, and should without any ordinance put his sewerage in a sanitary sink and if he uses a commode should have a septic tank. I am pleased to say that nearly all the people have signified their willingness to take care of their sewerage, but there are some exceptions. However, I am constrained to say to them that, while they are my best friends, there will be no compromise on this question, but they are respectfully requested to comply with this ordinance promptly or suffer the penalty if they fail. No further notice will be given.

I take this opportunity of thanking the good people of Dresden for past courtesies, and for their hearty co-operation in the past in our efforts to better Dresden and beg to remain, Yours very respectfully, R. L. SUDDATH, Mayor.

Duke C. Bowers Elected Delegate

Dyersburg, Tenn., March 23.—Pursuant to a call, the republicans of the Ninth congressional district met at the courthouse in Dyersburg this afternoon for the purpose of electing delegates to the national convention and nominating a candidate for congress.

This was one of the largest and most harmonious conventions the republicans have had in this district in years. N. L. Scobey, postmaster of Newbern, presided as chairman, with Chas. Eskridge, of Dresden, as secretary. Hon. Duke C. Bowers, of Dresden, was elected delegate to the national convention, and Chas. Eskridge, of Dresden, was elected alternate. Arthur Rogers, of Trenton, was elected as state elector. The matter of naming a candidate to make the race for congress was placed in the hands of a committee with power to act. Resolutions were passed endorsing Ben W. Hooper for senator and John J. Gore for national committeeman.

We want to get acquainted with you and want you to get acquainted with our low prices.—Carter & Haley, Martin, Tenn.

Army Deserter is Carried to St. Louis

On Friday, Deputy Sheriff Bullock received a description of Butler Hunt, son of Mr. Henry Hunt, residing near Cottage Grove, in Henry county, the young man being a deserter from the U. S. army. Bullock sent the circular to Constable Walter LaFon on Saturday and that night at 11 o'clock Walter arrived in Dresden with young Hunt. They left here at midnight Saturday for Jefferson barracks, St. Louis, and Walter got back Sunday night at 11:30. Hunt was stationed at Key West, Fla., when he deserted. He did not object to returning with the officer. Walter learned that Hunt's whereabouts were known to the officers and that he would be arrested in a day or so, and got him himself. The reward was $50.

Prominent Man Has Stroke of Paralysis.

Dresden was shocked on last Thursday, about noon, when it became known that Mr. Hilliary Jones had suffered a stroke of paralysis, the right side being affected. Mr. Jones was doing some work on a fence in the garden, and Mrs. Jones and son, Rogers, were setting out rose bushes. Mr. Jones was found standing and almost speechless. He was carried to the house and a physician summoned at once.

For several days his power of speech was considerably impaired, but he suffered no pain at all. The very best of medical attention and nursing is being given him and the physicians believe that Mr. Jones will soon be fully restored. Dresden has no more popular citizen than Hilliary, and calls from both town and over the county over the telephone come in hourly asking his condition, expressing hope of early recovery and words of sympathy.

Endorsement of the "Go" Motor Speeder.

Several weeks ago, the manufacturers of "Go" motor speeder, an attachment for automobiles which is claimed to save 30 to 50 per cent gasoline consumption, sent me their advertisement. I wrote them I had a mighty good newspaper and if they would send me one of the "Go" motor speeders I would give it a thorough test and if it proved what they claimed for it I would recommend the same to my friends through my paper. They sent it, and on last Sunday I gave it a fair test.

On Friday I filled my gasoline tank level full, set my speedometer to 0, got three men and drove 13 7-10 miles, measured the gasoline in the tank with a inch rule and had eight inches. The position of the car was marked on the ground so as to drive in the identical spot after installing the "go." On Saturday morning the "go" was skillfully installed by Harry Allspaubb. On Sunday I filled my tank level full again, set speedometer at 0, got three men of the same weight as the first trip, drove over the same road as before a distance 13 7-10 miles back to the office, stopping the car in the same place, and measured the gasoline with the same inch rule, which showed a saving of half an inch, registering eight and one-half inches, against eight on the former trip. Both measurements were made on a 13 7-10 mile basis, as this is what the speedometer showed when both measurements were taken. The engine did not heat unnecessarily and there was no loss of power. I believe, from my experience, that the "Go" motor speeder will save gasoline and soon pay for itself where much driving is done.—Joe L. Holbrook.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

Lads Happy Over Killing Red Fox.

Two of the happiest lads we ever saw were Masters Harry Ferguson and Harold Jones, who, on last Friday, killed a large red fox in the Irvine woods, south of town about half a mile.

The boys imagined they were squirrel hunting, having a target rifle and a fox terrier dog. They were in the woods just south of Mrs. Irvine's home, when Reynard gave a leap and bound and away he went, the boys after him in hot pursuit and yelling with all their might. Their "purp" also took up the chase and Mr. Fox was crowded so close that he took up a tree, going up a distance of ten feet or more and perching upon a limb, where he remained until the boys came up with their target rifle. Three shots were fired at Reynard, two taking effect—one under the neck and the other at the root of the tail, and Mr. Fox came tumbling down to the ground. The boys danced and shouted in perfect glee. The animal was brought to town and viewed by many, and the two lads, both about nine years of age, were dubbed heroes.

VALUE OF HERD RECORDS

(By H. C. Stockwell, Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.)

It has been demonstrated through testing associations, by individual records, and by the breed associations, that a systematic system of milk and butterfat records, and also a record of the feed consumed by each individual cow, is the only method of running a dairy on a business and profitable basis. It is impossible to breed up a herd of profitable cows without this system of checking each cow's performance by what she actually does at the pail.

When starting to keep herd records, a record sheet should be prepared and placed on the wall of the barn in the most handy place. Then a pair of scales should be purchased and hung to one side of the record sheet. After milking each cow, the milk should be weighed and the weight recorded on the record sheet for future use.

At the end of each month a sample of each cow's milk should be taken and tested for butterfat, and from these records the total amount of milk and butterfat can be calculated.

The record is not complete unless the amount and cost of feed, which each cow consumes, is known. The feed should be weighed or measured, and, if the latter method is used, the weight of feed which the measure contains should be known.

With the record of production and the amount and cost of feed consumed, it is easy to detect and eliminate the unprofitable cows in the herd.

After detecting unprofitable cows in the herd, they should be sold to the butcher and replaced by profitable cows, and records kept the same as on the original herd.

County Court Land Sale.

J. H. Scarborough et al vs. Everett Barber, et al. In the County Court of Weakley county, Tennessee.

In obedience, to an order of sale made in the above styled cause at the March (1916) term of the county court of Weakley county, Tennessee, I, W. J. Jeter, clerk of said court and special commissioner in said cause, will on at about 1 p. m., at the south door of the courthouse in Dresden, Weakley county, Tennessee, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder upon terms herein after stated the following described tract of land, the same being situated in the First civil district of Weakley county, Tennessee, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at an iron stake on M. R. Ainsley's south boundary line; thence south to Rhodes' north boundary line; thence west to Dave Field's fence; thence to where the fence turns; thence west to Ainsley's east boundary line; thence north to a stump on Ainsley's line; thence to the beginning, containing by estimation forty-five acres more or less.

TERMS OF SALE: Said land will be sold for one-third cash and the balance on a credit of one and two years equal payments, requiring the purchaser to execute notes with good and approved personal security, bearing interest from date of sale and retaining a lien on land sold for the remainder of purchase money, and the privilege of paying all cash if purchaser prefers.

Non-Resident Notice.

Robert Landrum, et al vs. Mrs. H. W. Winstead, et al. In the County Court of Weakley county, Tennessee.

It appearing to me, W. J. Jeter, county clerk of Weakley county, Tennessee, from the bill filed in this cause, which is sworn to, that the defendants, Mary Gale and husband, Ben Gale, Frank McDaniel, Mollie Coulter and her husband, Ed Coulter, are non-residents of the state of Tennessee, and residents of the state of Arkansas; and Ada Kidmore and husband, ————Kidmore, are non-residents of the state of Tennessee, and residents of the state of Texas; and the unknown heirs of Ida Higgs, who intermarried with one Asher, and the names and place of residence of her said heirs are unknown and cannot be ascertained after diligent inquiry which has been made, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon them, it is therefore ordered by me that publication be made in the Dresden Enterprise, a weekly newspaper published in the town of Dresden, Weakley county, Tennessee, for four consecutive weeks notifying these said non-residents and heirs of Martha Landrum, deceased, to appear before said county court to be held in the courthouse in Dresden, Tennessee, on or before the

First Monday in May, 1916

and make defense to said bill as required by law or the same will be taken for confessed and set for hearing as to you. This March 14, 1916. ml7-24-31-47 W. J. JETER, Clerk. Jones, Suddath & Jones, Sol's. for Complainants.

INSOLVENCY NOTICE.

The insolvency of the estate of J. W. Johns, deceased, having been suggested to W. J. Jeter, clerk of the county court of Weakley county, Tennessee, by Jesse Johns, administrator of said estate, this is, therefore, to notify all persons holding claims against estate to file the same with said W. J. Jeter at his office in the courthouse in Dresden on or before the first day of July, 1916, properly authenticated, or same will be forever barred in law and equity. This March 14, 1916. 51-4t J.
