MRS. FANNIE ORR GOES TO REWARD

Long Time Resident of This City and Veteran Milliner Claimed by Death.

Mrs. Fannie A. Orr, aged 74 years, mother of five children, and for 50 years a business woman of this city, active and energetic until approaching her last few days, was called into the great beyond on last Monday evening, after suffering for some three weeks from a stroke of paralysis and other developed complications from which she lacked the strength to survive.

Mrs. Orr was the widow of the late Patrick Orr, who departed this life some 10 years ago. She was a lineal descendant of Daniel Boone and Davy Crockett; a member of the Todd family of Kentucky; prominent in the social, political, and professional life of that state from pioneer days. She was the only daughter of Capt. William and Elizabeth Todd of Elizabethtown and Louisville.

Four children survive, including Mrs. G. A. Still of Memphis, Tex., who was Miss Dottie Orr, Miss Lonnie Orr of this city, and two sons, William B. Orr of Columbiana, Ala., and Patrick E. Orr of Ft. Worth, Texas. One of the daughters, Mrs. Fayette Moore, who was Miss Lilian Orr, died a few years ago. All the surviving children were at the mother's bedside when she came having been summoned here several days ago when small hopes were entertained for her recovery.

Born in Elizabethtown, Kentucky, on November 14th, 1847, Mrs. Orr came to Paris some 50 years ago, and engaged in the millinery business. It was long before the time when women were considered capable of conducting a mercantile business, but by her energy, effort and unusual business ability she survived the theory to the contrary and established a precedent, which she maintained until a few days before her death. Although crippled in a fall sustained a few years ago she still pursued her business and made her two annual trips to the markets selecting the latest styles in her mercantile line, and was possessed of such energy that she made frequent visits of a long distance to the homes of her various children in Texas and Alabama. She made her usual trip to market this spring and was preparing for the annual fall trip when stricken with paralysis.

Mrs. Orr, although devoting her talents and time to business, centered her main interests and ambitions in her children, and the result of her efforts in their behalf she has left an estate that is of considerable value. She was generally known as a loving and devoted mother and wife, of affable disposition in her manerisms, with a kind word for everyone, and no criticisms ever to offer. She was interested in people and their affairs and generous, even though her business absorbed most of her time, with her efforts and energy spent in behalf of her children. She will be sadly missed by the women of Paris and Henry County with whom she has come into close contact in a personal, social, and business way for these many years.

The funeral service was conducted from the family residence on South Dunlap street Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, the last sad rites being said by Rev. W. C. Waters of the Methodist church of which she was a member. The interment was at Maplewood cemetery where a wealth of flowers blanketed the last resting place.

Pallbearers were T. E. Leach, H. L. Bruce, R. L. Humphreys, J. L. Holland, J. B. Burch, and Alphonso Edwards.

Miss Esther Clark, English, Miss Cathleen Clark, sixth, seventh, eighth grades, and home economics, Miss Clark, third, fourth, fifth grades, and Mrs. C. A. Pullen, primary, Miss Opal Jolly, music, I was on the 10th day of June, 1921, appointed and qualified as the administrator of said J. H. Routon and all parties holding claims against said estate shall file same with the county court clerk of Henry County, Tennessee, verified as required by law, within twelve months of the date of this notice or they will be forever barred.

RODNEY WARE IS IN PENITENTIARY

Rodney E. Ware, of Huntingdon, left for the state penitentiary at Nashville last week to begin the serving of his sentence of from 2 to 10 years for the killing of Ben Birdwell, a citizen of Carroll County, on September 14, last year. Ware was convicted in the circuit court there last November, made a motion for a new trial, which was agreed and denied here by Judge Harwood, but an appeal to the supreme court was granted and the sentence of the lower court affirmed by that body.

Ware shot and killed Birdwell on the highway a few miles from Huntingdon when the latter refused to return some money which had changed hands in a game of chance, then placed the dead man's body in his car and attempted to carry it to town, but met with an automobile accident, after which he fled from the scene and was arrested the next day.

Ware is a brother of P. M. Ware, who was formerly connected with The Parisian, and is known to a number of people of this city.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Bael hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Clothing Reduced 34%
Cost of living reduced only 18%

That's what has happened in the last year. It's been no easy job to take nearly twice as much off the cost of clothes as was taken off the general cost of living. It's been done, however, and values like these have helped to do it.
