NEWS NOTES FROM AMERICAN LEGION

ASSOCIATION IS ASSISTING THE UNEMPLOYED

State Senator Seymour, of Connecticut, Resigns To Assume Command of Legion in That State—Delegation From Nashville to Attend Chattanooga Reunion—Big Meeting in Kansas City This Month.

A former soldier, jobless and with a wife and five children to support, had 50 offers of employment when his case became known to Kansas City citizens. Sleeping on the floor because he had no bed, the service man was aroused early by a rush of calls from the American Legion's employment bureau, where he had registered only the day before.

Whether to wear brown derbies or cornstalk shirts is a question puzzling members of the Iowa delegation at the American Legion meeting at Kansas City this month. All are agreed that they should wear something distinctive. More than 1,000 Iowans will attend the convention.

One hundred aliens managing the shipping board's fleet at Camp Eustis, Va., have been discharged and their places filled with unemployed American seamen following representations of the American Legion of the state. The fleet now consists of 320 vessels in charge of skeleton crews, and 300 more ships will be added soon.

An aerial express for delegates and visitors to the national convention of the American Legion at Kansas City will be operated by members of the Minneapolis (Minn.) Aero Club. They will use their own planes for the trip.

Holding that his opportunity for service was greater in his new capacity, Clarence W. Seymour, Hartford, Conn., sent in his resignation as state senator immediately after he had been elected commander of the American Legion of Connecticut. The Legion forbids its officials to hold political elective office.

To assist the few surviving members of the Confederate Veterans' Association in Tennessee to attend their annual reunion at Chattanooga, 20 men of Nashville Post of the American Legion devoted a day each to raising a fund to defray their expenses.

Five thousand wireless stations, forming a network from coast to coast, are receiving nightly bulletins of information concerning the forthcoming national convention of the American Legion. A sending set with a range of 1,500 miles flashes the news from Kansas City at 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock each night and members of the Western Radio Company, most of them Legion men of army wireless experience, pick up the stories for their local newspapers.

From eight to 10 cents a day for meals and a bed is the rate in a hotel just opened at Des Moines, Iowa, by Sheriff W. E. Robb, who does it for jobless ex-service men, in addition to his own duties. Only cards supplied by the American Legion and trades and labor assembly of the city will admit guests.

Gas on the battlefield and gas in the hold of an immigrant ship are of different quality, according to war veterans of both experiences. The American Legion Employment Bureau of New York, on receiving a call from the immigration authorities of the port for "veterans of combat service," sent 12 overseas men to the docks. They were to don gas masks and fumigate immigrant ships, the work to last a month. Declaring they had faced death once, the men gave up and started looking for another job. Five hundred ex-service men, who played their old part as movie supers at Mamaronock, N. Y., however, liked it.

Harold Wells, Petersburg, Va., blinded while serving his country during the world war, was not receiving enough from the government to keep him. Members of American Legion post raised $1,000 in a mass meeting over which the mayor presided. They set him up in business, and with their Woman's Auxiliary, pledged to buy only of the veteran in his tobacco and book shop. Now he has paid off the $1,000 debt and is making a comfortable living.

Ward A. Pensyl, navy veteran of the war, is hiking from Hamonton, N. J., to Pittsburg, Pa., 400 miles to get a job that is being held for him. He is drawing a two-wheeled cart containing tools and clothing. The local American Legion post sent his wife and five children a train ahead of him. He has been out of work for months.

Many Human Ills Are Due To Impurities in the Blood

Pure, Rich, Red Blood Nourishes the Body and Fights Off Disease.

Waste Products or Impurities Cause Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders and a Lowered Vitality.

How S. S. S. Clears the Blood of Waste Products.

Your system is continually taking in nutrition and throwing off waste products. This process goes on all during life. But, sometimes the organs do not properly function and these waste products, instead of passing out through the pores of the skin, through the kidneys and through the alimentary canal, are absorbed in the blood. Then the blood becomes poisoned, and cannot properly nourish the system.

Ill health sets in. You may lose your strength and vitality; or you may have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints; or you may be troubled with bad boils, sores or some other skin eruptions. All because of the poisonous waste products in the blood. Nature now needs help. She has done her best but is failing. A blood purifier should be used at once to assist nature to throw off these waste products.

S. S. S., the standard blood purifier and system builder, is the ideal remedy in these cases. The effect of S. S. S. is to rid the system of the poisons which are causing the trouble. For over 50 years, S. S. S. has proven to be of unusual merit.

Get S. S. S. at your druggist. Use it strictly according to directions and write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 721 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., and let him help you regain your health and strength. He is helping people every day. Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores.
