

REPORT, NOVEMBER, 1922

The average yield of corn in Tennessee to the acre in 1922 was 28 bushels, according to final estimates made by crop reporters of the State Department of Agriculture, and just compiled by T. F. Peck, commissioner of agriculture. This would make the total yield for the state about 84,000,000 bushels, on an estimate acreage of 3,000,000. The weather has been very favorable during the fall for harvesting the crop, and farmers report corn of fine quality in most sections of the state, although there is some complaint about the quality in some sections. Some damage was reported from dry rot.

According to estimates of the crop reporters, the yield of cotton was about 663 pounds, seed, to the acre. This estimate is doubtless too low, according to other information received, and the crop will probably average, as before estimated, about 800 pounds to the acre. The yield in the state is in the neighborhood of 275,000 bales.

The final estimates on the yield of tobacco per acre place it at 780 pounds, averaging the reports from the various tobacco-producing counties. This would place the production per acre slightly above that of last year, which varies from reports previously received, which indicated that the crop had been so severely damaged in some sections that the average yield per acre would be reduced. The acreage this year is considerably larger than last year, and the volume of production will be much larger if the average per acre reported by correspondents is approximately correct.

The acreage this year in wheat is about the same as last year, and the crop is reported in good condition, with a good stand in most sections.

The yield of sweet and Irish potatoes in the state, will probably show an increase over last year. There was an increased acreage in sweet potatoes, with more attention by growers to getting plants free from disease.

A good yield of peanuts is reported from the peanut belt along the Tennessee river, the production per acre averaging about 41 bushels. The acreage was larger than last year and the volume of production greater.

Young clover and grasses are reported in generally good condition and there has been good pasturage during the fall months, which meant a large saving to livestock producers in feedstuffs. Livestock generally is reported in good condition in the state, with animal disease well under control. Quite a large number of young beef cattle have been distributed throughout the state of the Hereford breed during the past month for beef production for next year.

RENOWNED MAN IN MEMPHIS NOW MAY COME HERE

Has Stirred Memphis as Never Before By Unique Ways of Giving To Poor.

Memphis' remarkable visitor who has become popularly known as the "RE-CU-MA Man" on account of his work of introducing in this country the phenomenal new treatment known as RE-CU-MA, which is said to quickly and effectively overcome stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, may come here soon.

This was learned when he was asked regarding his plans for the charitable work it is reported he intends to carry out here this winter among the poor.

He recently gave 1,000 sacks of high grade flour made by John Wade & Sons to the poor of Memphis at his own expense.

The "RE-CU-MA man," as he is called, devotes a large part of his income from the sale of RE-CU-MA, which is being praised so highly by the best people in the South for bad stomachs, liver, kidneys and bowels, to charitable work among the indigent poor.

The Union Drug Co. has succeeded in getting a shipment of RE-CU-MA so they can supply it to the many people here who have been trying first one thing and then another to get rid of their trouble.

SALEM LEAPLETS

(By Regular Correspondent.) Variety of Weather.

We have had almost all sorts of weather since this month came in, but mostly rough, cold weather for a week past, with some rain thrown in for good measure. There has been so far only a few clear days this month. Those who didn't kill hogs before Thanksgiving have taken advantage of the last few days of cold weather and killed hogs. Some of those who killed the few days preceding Thanksgiving lost part of their joints. We heard of one man losing about 1,200 pounds that had to be thrown away.

Cream Business on Increase.

Every week for some time past the price of butterfat has been on the increase, and last week it was quoted at 56 cents in St. Louis and 54 cents at Hansonhurst. The price is very gratifying to the dairy farmers. It is predicted the price will soon reach 60 cents. But the milking and creamery business as a whole is a man's job. Some one has wittingly, as well as truthfully, said that the man who has a dairy and automobile is never without a job.

Killing Rabbits.

Quite a lot of the boys and young men in this and adjoining communities have been rabbit hunting the past few weeks, both for pleasure and profit. First, the fun and frolic in stirring bunny out of his lair, sometimes with dogs trained for that purpose, or with sticks, thrashing the brush heaps and other rubbish, and as the little animal starts on his race for life, is shot down. We have heard of one hunter killing two at one shot, but it was more of an accident than expertness. A few others have bagged 25 to 30 a day. Several hundred have been killed in the lower end of Districts Nos. 7 and 8 this season. One man told us he had sold over 400 in Memphis and he had heard of others who are buying and shipping to Memphis. So, besides the sport, the hunter makes a small profit above his ammunition bill.

Christmas Supper at Salem.

The Ladies' Missionary Society and Y. P. C. U., jointly, of Salem, are expecting to have a Christmas supper at the Robison High School building on Monday night, December 25. Hot chocolate and other things will be served and a good social evening will be enjoyed by old and young.

Some Sickness.

Thomas Wylie, little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Trobaugh, who was very sick for 10 days at the home of Mrs. Alice McQuiston, is now convalescent and was able to be taken home last Friday.

There are several other cases of sickness here and there over this part of the county, some of which may develop into pneumonia. Mrs. D. C. Click, of Sharon, had a very sick son the last few days with pneumonia. Also in same community Mr. Ed Hamby, on one of Mrs. Spain's farms, had three very sick children last week, bordering on pneumonia, but seems now to have taken a turn for the better.

Forbes-Sterling.

On last Tuesday evening Mr. B. G. Forbes, of Atoka, and Miss Gladys Sterling, of Salem, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony the Rev. A. G. Melton officiating. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. J. A. Sterling, and both young people are popular in their respective communities and have a host of friends, who wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Ball Game—Rosemark vs. Salem.

An interesting basketball game took place last Friday afternoon on the Robison High School court between Rosemark second team and Robison High School boys, resulting to 26 to 18 in favor of Robison High School.
