SEBASTIAN.

Moonlight beach parties are popular and quite frequent.

This vicinity will have about a three-quarter crop of fruit this season. It is looking well.

Miss Emma Hall returned from a visit of several weeks to friends at Port Orange.

Miss Ardelia Cain on "entering her teens" greeted a lot of her young friends at a birthday party.

Well, among the summer absentees who have returned, were Mrs. L. J. Stinson and daughters, the Misses Josie and Margaret.

Strange, but true, that although the Sebastian dots failed to be sent in last week, Galileo's discovery still holds good—"The world moves."

The stagomia and kindred tribes have nearly all emigrated. Thanks. The nearby Indian summer will be more enjoyable, if they'll stay away.

Capt. Otto of the auxiliary sharpie Charlotte Cause, is having her newly rigged complete, preparatory for the outside mackerel the coming winter.

Mrs. E. W. Hall of Titusville has been here several days caring for her sick daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. B. Hall, who gets but little better of her cold trouble.

Query: Has an able bodied man with a healthy wife and only three children, any right to keep two that are of school age at work in the field instead of sending them to school? We throw not.

Our teachers, Miss Ella Singleton of Brevard and Mrs. G. M. Stewart, put in their appearance and opened school on the 11th. Both are experienced teachers; and what is encouraging, the children are attached to them.

The many friends of Rev. W. A. Myer will be pleased to learn that he has returned from his sojourn in town, somewhat improved. Mrs. Myer and little girl, who spent the early summer with friends and relatives in Ohio, returned with. A full house greeted him Sunday night.

Street Hair and John McLaughlin have returned from Fort Pierce, where they have been at work for some time.

John I. Padgett came home for a few days from Fort Pierce last week. He reports that the latter place is on a boom.

Akias Bass passed through here this week with a nice bunch of beef cattle, which he will deliver to K. B. Raulerson at Fort Drum.

Robert Johnson passed through here a few days ago on his way to Kissimmee with a bunch of horses and mules. We do not see why he could not have sold them in the city of Fort Pierce. They were fine stock.

D. L. McLaughlin was aroused from his slumbers last Sunday night by the cackling of his hens. After getting his gun and going to the scene he found it to be a skunk, which was devouring one of the smaller fowls.

WABASSO.

Mrs. Jones, who was so ill last week, is convalescent. We hope to see her about soon.

There will be preaching service at the school house Sunday morning next. We hope for a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Keefer returned from their bridal trip last Saturday night, but left for their future home in Fort Pierce Sunday evening. Fort Pierce is to be congratulated on having Mrs. Keefer for a resident, and Wabasso people entertain a feeling of envy for Fort Pierce.

Mrs. Grogan—Keegan and his wife had a fierce scrap. Mrs. Hogan—An' did they separate? Mrs. Grogan—They did, but Keegan was most dead before the cops could get th' twisters on Mrs. Grogan an' separate thim!—Puck.

AMERICAN LANDSCAPE.

How It Differs From That of England and the Continent.

The American landscape, even in the older parts of the country, is generally unkempt and does not lend itself as readily to formal treatment as does the typical English or continental landscape. The owners of big estates rarely appreciate the scale on which the landscape architecture should be laid out and the patience which is necessary to obtain a complete and consummate effect. They want ready made estates. Finally, the leading American house architects have, with a few exceptions, a good deal to learn about the technique of landscape design. So far as the large house itself is concerned, a convention has been established which is in the main a good convention, but the designing of gardens is still in an early experimental stage. The stage properties are collected in abundance. There is no lack of pergolas, fountains, well heads, gazebos, statuary and pottery, but as like as not they are indiscriminately placed. The architectural features are, however, generally somewhat better managed than the planting, which frequently looks as if an Irish gardener had been given some vague general directions, or as if the lady of the house had considered that it was a woman's business to make the garden green. As a matter of fact, however, the lady of the house, in case she has her own way, generally paints the garden yellow and red rather than green. Her idea usually is merely to get as much bloom as possible, and this she does at a sacrifice of those masses of foliage which are absolutely necessary to give mass, body and depth to a large garden.—Architectural Record Magazine.

The River Kongo.

Tropical rivers vary greatly in volume in the rainy season sweeping to the sea in vast torrential floods and near the end of the dry season flowing slowly and only in the central and deeper portions of their beds. The Kongo, however, the largest river in Africa, rises and falls very slightly, and Commander Cameron accounts for this peculiarity, which was at one time considered inexplicable, by the observation that the basin of this great river extends on both sides of the equator, and therefore one moiety of its tributaries are in flood while the other are at their minimum volume.

Smallest Bird.

The golden crested wren is the smallest not only of British, but of all European, birds. Its average weight is only about eighty grains troy, so that it would take seventy-two of the birds to weigh a pound. The length of the feathers is about three and a half inches and the stretch of the wings about five inches, but when the feathers are taken off the length of the body does not exceed one inch.

A Great Idea.

"Did you ever notice that most of the sudden and disastrous fires are due to spontaneous combustion?"
"No, but I've often thought spontaneous combustion would be a splendid thing to keep on tap for lighting the kitchen fire."

Ninety-nine people go out to join the wild hunt for happiness, and the hundredth man stays comfortably at home and wins it.

VERO.

Mrs. Ludger Gignac and two children visited the county seat one day the first of the week.

Fishing is very dull this hot weather.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Word was received from Punta Gorda that Theo. Scott, engaged in running the naphtha mail boat between Punta Gorda and Captiva, had lost his life off Cape Haze, in Charlotte harbor. Staten Johnson and Claude Jones were on the boat, and reported that Scott had fallen overboard and was drowned. The fact that blood and bloody clothing was found in the boat caused suspicion that the man may have been murdered, and Johnson and Jones were arrested and are now in jail at Punta Gorda awaiting trial.

Gainesville to Bond.

The city council of Gainesville will proceed to call a bond election to provide for the issuance of bonds to the amount of $115,000 for the purpose of purchasing or constructing an electric light plant, a system of sewerage, street paving and the erection of a public hospital.

Human Nature.

"It's funny," remarked the thoughtful citizen.
"What's funny?"
"The way a man who spends all his spare time praying for the regeneration of his party will get indignant at the suggestion that he vote the opposition ticket for once."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
