Give fools their gold & knives their power...

Law on Sheep Killing Dogs.

An exchange says it may be of interest to our farmers to understand the legal status of the dog in its propensity to kill sheep.

Any person, whose sheep have been killed or injured by any dog or dogs may proceed against the owners of such dog or dogs, before any Justice of the Peace of this State, having jurisdiction within the county where the killing or injuring may have occurred.

How the Hon. Eli Perkins Got Shaved and Then Missed a Train.

Sheep vs other Stock.

The following briefly enumerates some of the advantages of keeping sheep.

Their quickest returns for the investment in them, being ready to yield at three or four months old, and giving a valuable fleece at one year old, and perhaps a lamb also.

Their subsistence is cheaper than that of any other domestic animal—grass and stock fodder being all they will require at any season.

Their present value products in two forms, their wool and their flesh, both of which are adapted to home consumption, and for sale, and both of which are adapted to either domestic or distant markets.

Wool may be more easily and safely kept in expectation of a better market than any other similar product, as it is less liable to fire, insects, rats or rotting.

An investment in them is self-enlarging, and rapidly so, by their annual increase, while their wool pays much in the way of interest at the same time, which is not true of many of any similar investment.

Why do Animals need Salt.

Professor James E. Johnson, of Scotland, says:

'Upwards of half the saline matter of blood (57 per cent) consists of common salt, and this is partly discharged every day through the skin and kidneys. The necessity of continual supplies of it to the healthy body becomes sufficiently obvious.

Woman is an idol that man worships until he throws it down. The whisper of a beautiful woman can be heard further than the loudest call of duty.

Before promising a woman to love only her, one should have seen them all or should see only her.

Senator Jones at Poker.

George L. Waters, the colored janitor of the City Hall, related an incident to day to a Mail reporter concerning a big poker game in which Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, was a player.

The senator, having a few silver mines at his back for pocket money, was game, and did not allow the expression of chagrin or distrust to escape him. The next morning he telegraphed to one of the most expert card players in Virginia City.

How the Hon. Eli Perkins Got Shaved and Then Missed a Train.

Hon. Eli Perkins was hauled a card, on leaving Detroit, which read as follows: 'Emma Willard, barbers, S Woodbridge street.'

'Do you mean to say you have a woman barber in Detroit?' I asked.

'Yes, sir—two of 'em—and two as pretty girls as there are in the city, too.'

In a few moments I walked up Woodbridge street, and sure enough, there was the sign and a pretty girl standing by the window holding a razor, I wanted to go in and get shaved, and still I could not make up my mind to do it.

'Have a shave, sir?' said the pretty barberess, advancing with a razor in one hand, and with the other pointing to the chair.

'Yes, shaved!' I gasped and flung myself into a chair.

'Why, you've just been shaved!' she said, drawing her silky palm across my face.

'Have I?' I said, and then recollecting, I stammered, 'Ah, yes, shaved this morning, early. I always shave twice a day.'

'Shave close?' asked the pretty girl. 'Yes, the closer the better.'

'Hair cut, too?' 'Yes, everything.'

And then she commenced. With a little camel's hair brush she painted my face with white soap suds.

'Then she leaned over me till I could hear her breathe and feel her heart beat, placed her little fingers under my mustache and waxed the ends.

Now I never wear my mustache waxed, but I couldn't ask her to stop.

'There! does it suit?' she said as she dusted off my neck and removed the apron.

'Yes, it's just right—'lovely!' I said, too sweet for anything!

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1883

More people have read THE SUN during the year just past than ever before since it was first printed. No other newspaper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by so many men and women.

We are credibly informed that people buy, read and like THE SUN for the following reasons, among others:

Because its news columns present in attractive form and with the greatest possible accuracy whatever has interest for humankind; the events, the deeds and misdeeds, the wisdom, the philosophy, the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving nonsense—all the news of the busiest world at present revolving in space.

Because people have learned that in its records concerning persons and affairs THE SUN makes a practice of telling them the exact truth to the best of its ability. Three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, before election as well as after, about the ballot boxes as about the small fish, in the face of assault as plainly and fearlessly as upon supported by general approval. THE SUN has absolutely no purpose to serve, save the information of its readers and the furtherance of the common good.

Because it is everybody's newspaper. No man is so humble that THE SUN is indifferent to his welfare and his class. No man is so rich that it can allow injustice to be done him. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right and wrong.

Because in politics it has fought for a dozen years, without intermission and sometimes against the best among newspapers, and has never yielded to the recent overwhelming popular credit against Robesonism and for honest government. No matter what party is in power, THE SUN stands for the right and for a stand for a rock for the interest of the people against the influence of bosses, the enormous amounts of monopolies, and the dishonest schemes of public robbers.

All this is what we are told almost daily by friends and foes alike. They say that THE SUN is the best, the most reliable newspaper ever published, because its Christianity is unadulterated with cant. Another holds that it is the best Republican paper ever published, because it has not only whipped half of the rascals out of that party, and is proceeding against the other half with unflinching energy. It has not only been the best magazine of general literature to exist, because its readers miss nothing worthy of notice that is current in the world of thought, science, art, literature, and history, but its many sides that appeal with particular force to the individual thinker.

If you are a man of letters you will observe that in 1883 it is a little better than ever before. If you do not already know THE SUN, you will find it to be a mirror of all human activity, a storehouse of the choicest products of common sense and imagination, a mainstay of the cause of honest government, a sentinel against the influence of Bosses, a force for or against the wickedness of every species, and an uncommonly good investment for the coming year.

Terms to Mail Subscribers.

The several editions of THE SUN are sent by mail, postpaid, as follows: DAILY—$5 per annum, $6.50 a year with Sunday edition, $7.50. WEEKLY—$1 a year. Eight pages of the best matter of the daily issues; and Agricultural, Domestic, and Literary, scientific and domestic intelligence make THE WEEKLY SUN the journal for the farmer's household. To those of our readers who desire to receive THE SUN by mail, we will send it to any address in the United States, at the rate of $1.00 per annum, in advance.

Address: L. W. ENGLAND, Publisher, Dec. 1 6th. THE SUN, N. Y. City
