

Port Tobacco Times
PORT TOBACCO:
Friday Morning, October 26 1883.

Democratic-Conservative
State Ticket.
FOR GOVERNOR:
ROBERT M. McLANE,
of Baltimore City.
FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL:
CHARLES B. ROBERTS,
of Carroll County.
FOR COMPTROLLER:
J. FRANK TURNER,
of Talbot County.

Hon. George Hoadly, Governor-elect of Ohio, is in many respects a phenomenal man. He writes short-hand, can telegraph, speaks and writes five or six languages, and is a master of the classics. As a lawyer, he stands in the front rank of his profession.

What has become of the $50,000 the county commissioners borrowed of Mr. Tubman last year? It was borrowed under color of the act of 1882 for the alleged purpose of raising a fund to pay jurors and bailiffs their per diem in cash, being the maximum sum allowed under that act. We find that the usual amount for the pay of these officers was levied in both 1882 and 1883, and no credit at all is given for the $50,000. Will not some member of the said board or some one else in their confidence please rise and explain?

Hon. Ferdinand C. Latrobe, the regular Democratic nominee, was on Wednesday elected mayor of Baltimore city by a majority of 8,488 over J. Monroe Heiskell, who was the fusion candidate of the recalcitrant Democrats and the Republicans. This result, it would seem, makes the success of the Democratic State ticket at the November election no longer doubtful, still the Republican organs in Baltimore are claiming the State as the result of the late discussions, and it should still be the duty of all Democratic citizens in this county to turn out and vote for the State ticket on the 6th of November, lest they may have something to regret in the future.

Mr. Holton's latest plea is that while Mr. McLane was learning to be a statesman he was "toiling in a factory." If true, this might have been regarded as rather unfortunate for Mr. Holton, still we think that the State of Maryland is entitled to have a statesman in her executive chair notwithstanding somebody else may not have had the opportunity of becoming such. Mr. Holton's plea does not seem, however, to be true in point of fact. Mr. Holton's "toil" in the factory seems to have consisted of occupying the place of an attendant in Albert's factory, as a convenient means of becoming the wealthy factory owner's son-in-law, which, being attained, he retired to live on his wife's income, and lay schemes for the occupancy of a seat in the Maryland Legislature to which he was not elected.

The full returns from the Ohio election that Hoadly, democrat, not only has a majority of 12,939 over Forsaker, republican, but he has a majority of 1,838 over a republican, greenback and prohibition opponents combined, and this despite the fact that the republican vote shows an increase of 50,000 over that of last fall. The total vote this year is 721,464, nearly 3,503 less than was cast at the presidential election in 1880. At that election Garfield's majority over Hancock was 34,237, the late election thus showing a difference in favor of the democracy of 46,756. In the Senate the democrats have elected 23 democrats against 11 republicans, and in the House 60 Representatives against 45 republicans, giving a democratic majority of 26 on joint ballot.

The New York Sun says the political census for October, 1883, discloses two highly significant facts. Twenty-six of the thirty-eight States in the Union chose Democratic Governors at their last elections. Eleven States elected Republican Governors, and one State is governed by a Readjuster. Twenty-two of the thirty-eight States have a majority of Democrats in their delegations of Representatives in Congress. The Republicans control fourteen State delegations, the Readjusters one, while one is equally divided between Republicans and Democrats. Now, two years ago the Republicans held just twenty of the thirty-eight State administrations and just twenty of the thirty-eight Congress delegations. The Republican party is going, and it is going fast.

Of course all the intelligent readers of the Times know that, in now advocating the election of the independent candidates for the county offices as against the nominees of the junco calling itself the "republican party," we do not assume any attitude inconsistent with our position heretofore in advocating the election of the local ticket placed in the field by the Democrats. We have heretofore based our support of the Democratic local ticket, not on the fact that county offices were political in their character, but as a means of concentrating the opposition of all honest men in the incompetent men previously nominated in the field by the alleged republican party, and thus secure the office, regardless of the will of the tax-payers and representative people of the county; and this whether the county Democrats had a ticket in the field or not.

At Upper Marlboro' Hon. Robt. M. McLane said the present candidate for Governor nominated by the Republican party had actually secured a seat in the Senate of the State by securing the Senator elected by a majority of Howard county, and as a Senator thus illegally and corruptly seated, he signed the petition in March, 1867, to the federal government to place Maryland under the domination of a military despotism. No parallel to this outrage can be found in American history, and no more infamous stain could have been put upon the fair execution of the State, renowned in all its history for its liberal and tolerant policy.

A Kentucky girl glories in a head of hair which is seventy inches long and very thick, but our chief glory is in the number of cures made recently by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the best remedy for coughs and colds.

The State Campaign.
The canvass of the State by the Democrats is moving on in a most satisfactory manner, and the most favorable reports continue to come from all the counties of the united support which is given to the State ticket. Everything points hopefully to its triumphant election. The further the campaign progresses the more manifest does the great disparity between the opposing tickets become.

Still it is not well to underrate our adversaries, and when it is remembered how blindly any ticket put in the field by Republicans of this State is supported by the rank and file of their party, without regard to fitness, it must be recognized that their ticket will probably poll the full party vote.

The worst military disasters recorded in history have befallen strong but over-confident armies who underrated the strength and courage of their adversaries, and political history also abounds with disasters resulting from similar causes. While Maryland is a sure Democratic State, having a normal majority of nearly 20,000 votes, and while every evidence of entire harmony in the counties is forthcoming, yet these are some unfortunate complications in Baltimore city, and it may turn out that the Democrats will have no majority at the coming election to trifle with.

It is not known to what extent the fusion movement in Baltimore city may embarrass the State ticket. It is true that the leading advocates and supporters of the movement insist that it will not weaken the State ticket at all, but all careful observers of political campaigns cannot fail to see in that movement a hurtful and detrimental influence upon the prospects of the Democratic State ticket.

Of course no one understands that that movement can have a sufficiently damaging effect upon the State ticket to really jeopardize its election; but as it is upon that chiefly that the Republicans rest their hopes of success, it will have the effect of encouraging them to make a strong and hopeful effort and serve, with the assistance of the liberal use of money, to bring out their full voting strength.

Hence it is that Democrats should not be over-confident as to the successful result of the election. For if to the loss resulting from the discussions in Baltimore is added a further loss from over-confidence and consequent apathy and diminished vote in the counties, all the friends of good government in the State may be awaked on the seventh of November to a realization of the appalling fact that Hart B. Holton has been declared the next Governor of Maryland.

While we hope and believe that no such fate is in store for our old commonwealth, we nevertheless deem it our duty out of abundance of caution to impress upon all the readers of the Times the importance of every Democrat in the county casting his vote for the State ticket at the coming election. Any voter who should fail to do so would, in the event of the unfortunate result we have intimated as a not impossible consequence of such dereliction, have ample time in the next four years to repeat in his indifference. Let us hope, therefore, that the full vote of the county will be polled at the coming election.

In addition to the possible jeopardy in which our State ticket may be placed by the discussions in Baltimore city, there are other important reasons why the full Democratic vote in Maryland should be polled this fall. Next year is the year of the Presidential election, when all the indications point so hopefully to the final overthrow of that corrupt party which, lifting itself above the constitution of the Republic, has governed the country in the last twenty years with the strong arm of oppression and usurped powers. The State elections of this year will be looked at as foreshadowing the great federal election of next year, and if we perceptibly diminished our State as among those that will be doubtful, our State would be flooded with the great federal corruption fund—that most demoralizing of all agencies. Let us therefore urge upon every Democratic reader of the Times the importance of casting his vote for the State ticket on the 6th of November.

We do not need to make any further allusion to the scurrilous, contemptible and inconsequent drivel which appeared in the last issue of the "Maryland Independent" over the signature of "Democrat" than to say that Mr. Benjamin Franklin Beall is the acknowledged author of it, and that we are informed that he was hired to do the dirty work by the young man who is known as the "manager" of that publication. We have no quarrel with poor Beall, for we do not regard him as a moral agent, or any wicked or absurd thing that he might say or do would affect us rather with sorrow than with anger. Any one whose mental and moral perceptions had not been completely blunted and destroyed by chronic inebriation, could surely see that the fact that "county offices are essentially non-political in their character and should be divorced from all political influences," as enunciated by us, would furnish no justification or excuse for voting for persons who had deliberately sought nominations for such offices at the hands of the alleged "Republican party," with a view of defeating the ignorant colored voters into voting for them, and thus secure the office, regardless of the will of the tax-payers and representative people of the county; and this whether the county Democrats had a ticket in the field or not.

At Upper Marlboro' Hon. Robt. M. McLane said the present candidate for Governor nominated by the Republican party had actually secured a seat in the Senate of the State by securing the Senator elected by a majority of Howard county, and as a Senator thus illegally and corruptly seated, he signed the petition in March, 1867, to the federal government to place Maryland under the domination of a military despotism. No parallel to this outrage can be found in American history, and no more infamous stain could have been put upon the fair execution of the State, renowned in all its history for its liberal and tolerant policy.

A Kentucky girl glories in a head of hair which is seventy inches long and very thick, but our chief glory is in the number of cures made recently by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the best remedy for coughs and colds.

Holton as an Orator.
One day last week, after the Republicans of Baltimore had arranged with much parade a grand mass meeting in one of the spacious halls of that city, and after the band had played an inspiring melody, the candidate for Governor was introduced to the audience. He came forward at a deliberate pace and the audience awaited to hear the words of wisdom and statesmanship from the man they wanted to make the next Governor of Maryland. A vigilant and impartial reporter of the Baltimore Sun gives the following report of his able and inspiring speech:

Hon. Hart B. Holton was then introduced amid much applause. He made a preliminary excuse, was unprepared to make an address, and was gratified at the size of the audience. "If I am the recipient of sufficient suffrages to make me Governor," said Mr. Holton, "I will give you all the promised reform. I think it would be the best thing that has happened to the State of Maryland for a long time."

Republican Candidate for Governor.
Hart B. Holton, the Republican candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the fifth congressional district. His opponent was Mr. Talbot J. Albert, son of the late Hon. Wm. J. Albert, and a gentleman of very high character.

Holton carried the primaries and won in the convention. Mr. Albert made a statement to the convention showing the means employed by Holton to carry the Republican primaries against him, and these means were money, whiskey, fraud, perjury and forgery. These allegations, made by Albert against Holton, by one Republican against another, were supported by responsible affidavits.

Among the items of fraud charged and proved by Mr. Albert against Mr. Holton and his supporters are these:
The forgery of Rev. J. W. Bowser's name to a letter recommending Mr. Holton. Mr. Bowser swore he never signed such a letter.

Among the items of fraud charged and proved by Mr. Albert against Mr. Holton and his supporters are these:
The forgery of Rev. J. W. Bowser's name to a letter recommending Mr. Holton. Mr. Bowser swore he never signed such a letter.

Affidavit of C. Irving Ditty, as to his efforts to secure fair primaries in the county between Holton and Albert, and his signal failure through the refusal of the Holton managers; and of specified acts of bribery, and corruption perpetrated at the primaries in the interest of Holton.

Affidavit of George P. Dehoff to proving that Holton's friends at fraudulent places in Baltimore county. Dehoff was one of the judges.

Affidavit of Thomas H. Boston to balot box stuffing, which was witnessed by the Holton men at Carrollton, Baltimore county.

Affidavit of Samuel O. Henson as to frauds at the same place.

Affidavit of Joseph Handy, who swears non-residents voting at the primaries for Holton, and many other all sorts of reprehensible and responsible Republicans, to frauds of the vilest kind.

Mr. Albert made out a complete case against Mr. Holton, and at the time of the publication of Mr. Albert's charges and proofs the moral sense of the State was shocked by the shameful record of fraud. Mr. Holton has never met these charges. His friends never answered them. He comes to the aid of the Governor of the State of Maryland with these charges of fraud, made and proven by Republicans clinging to his skirts.—Easton Ledger.

It is becoming more and more evident every day that the nomination of Mr. Holton by the Republicans, for Governor, was one of their great mistakes.

In these western counties it fills frantically and it will require the most strenuous party exertion to give it any degree of the usual party power. In this county it particularly the party; the head men feel it; and their looks show that it was a nomination not fit to be made and especially for the western counties.

NOTES.
The totals of the Ohio vote for Governor were Forsaker 347,064, Hoadly 359,593.
