

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR COMPTROLLER: J. FRANK TURNER, of Talbot county.

CLERK COURT OF APPEALS: SPENCER C. JONES, of Montgomery county.

COUNTY TICKET.

For Senate: RICHARD H. EDELEN.

For House of Delegates: ANDREW G. CHAPMAN, PHILIP A. SASSER, W. MITCHELL MUSCHETTE.

For Clerk of the Circuit Court: J. SAMUEL TURNER.

For Register of Wills: J. BENJAMIN MATTINGLY.

For Sheriff: NOTLEY W. SIMPSON.

For County Commissioners: DR. THOMAS A. CARRICO, SAMUEL COX, JR., WASHINGTON HICKS, W. MCKENNEY BURROUGHS, GEORGE W. GRAY.

For Surer: H. CLAGETT PAGE, Election Tuesday, November 3rd.

On Thursday of last week Gov. Lloyd appointed Mr. J. D. Ferguson police commissioner in place of Mr. John W. Davis, who resigned September 15, and Dr. Wm. E. Thornton, of the city council, to be supervisor of elections for Baltimore city in Mr. Ferguson's place.

The business revival, which seems to be an assured fact, has given hope and confidence to the people of the entire Union. Depression in trade has given place to renewed confidence, and better times are to be looked for in all parts of the country. The Democratic administration has caused a boom in all branches of trade. The West is alive, and the South has brighter prospects than ever before. All that is needed is confidence in President Cleveland and the reform Democratic administration.

The Republican managers of Ohio are begging for money from all parts of the country. They begin to realize the fact that the war is over, and that they cannot win their fight on the bloody shirt issue. The Democrats feel certain of reducing the Republican majority of last fall, and many predict a Democratic majority. Governor Hoodley, the Democratic nominee, is making it hot for Sherman, and declares the people will sustain him and re-elect him governor. The fight is uncomfortably close for the Reds.

A cablegram from Rome states that the College of the Propaganda has examined and the Pope has approved the various acts and decrees of the Plenary Council of Baltimore. His Holiness, in the farewell addresses which he has had with the bishops of Cleveland, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Doctor O'Connell, procurator of the archbishop of Baltimore, referred in the highest terms of approval to the labors of the council and to the general work of the Catholic Hierarchy in the United States, and spoke with pleasure of the wonderful progress which the church was making in America. The bishops of Cleveland and St. Augustine will leave Rome immediately after receiving the requisite formal pontifical decrees of approval of the Plenary Council's work. Doctor O'Connell will personally convey the acts and decrees to Baltimore at the end of October.

The republican party of Maryland in convention in Baltimore on Thursday of last week, nominated Mr. Francis Miller, of Montgomery, for comptroller of the State treasury, and Mr. Wm. M. Marine, of Harford, for clerk of the Court of Appeals. The candidates of both parties for these State offices are now in the field, and the issue to be decided at the polls in November next is joined to that extent at least. The platform criticises federal appointments in this State, declares that civil-service reform should be extended to State and municipal offices, and reiterates the New York republican platform tariff plank; that trades should be taught to printers in penal and reformatory institutions; that corporations should be controlled; that the aggregate of bonded debt of the State and city should be restricted; that the State should promote the propagation and cultivation of oysters, and that the management of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal should be divorced from politics.

The Democratic County Ticket.

The tax payers and Democrats of the county have abundant cause for mutual congratulations and confidence in the excellent work done by the county convention on Wednesday. The ticket placed in the field is an exceptional strong and excellent one throughout. The deliberations of the convention were marked by an admirable harmony and perfect unity of action throughout, and as the Times predicted, our best and most available citizens felt compelled by the importance of the local election to fall to allow their names to be presented to the convention as standard bearers in the coming campaign.

Hon. Richard H. Edele, who heads the ticket as the candidate for the State Senate, is too well known to our people to need any commendation of him here. He is an able and experienced lawyer, a broad, conservative and sane man of affairs and a refined and very popular gentleman. He has been once before in the Legislature, and is familiar with the general affairs of the State. The Hon. Andrew G. Chapman, who heads the ticket for the House of Delegates, is perhaps better known than Mr. Edele, having been frequently before the people in past campaigns in which his popularity has been attested by his almost invariably leading his ticket. He has an extended legislative experience, having served several terms in the State Legislature with marked distinction and usefulness to his people and made a clear and good record as the representative of his district in the 47th Congress. Philip A. Sasser, Esq., is a well known merchant of the 8th district and a member of the present board of county School Commissioners. In his private business he has shown a scrupulous integrity and marked ability to manage his own affairs; and as a member of the school board he has manifested a correct and intelligent appreciation of the important fact that "public office is a public trust." He is extensively known in the county and generally esteemed and will make an excellent vote. W. Mitchell Muschette, Esq., the third candidate for the House, is a young lawyer of decided promise recently admitted to the bar. He is a young gentleman of liberal education and pleasant address and a good speaker. His nomination is a recognition of the young Democracy, of which he is a fit and worthy representative. He is universally esteemed for his affable and courteous manner and his staunch Democracy and will prove to be a strong candidate.

For Clerk of the Circuit Court J. Samuel Turner, Esq., of Bryans town district, was the unanimous choice of the convention. Mr. Turner is one of the most able and staunch Democrats in the county and in past campaigns has rendered valuable services to the party, of which his nomination is a fit and proper recognition. He is a gentleman of excellent business capacity and qualifications and if elected, as he will be, will introduce such reforms and business methods in our Clerk's office that it can no longer be said by visiting attorneys, who come to examine our records, that Charles county has the most severely kept clerk's office in the State. He is very popular and will make a strong fight.

For Register of Wills, Mr. J. Benjamin Mattingly has the merit of decided efficiency and fitness for the duties of the office. As a subordinate clerk in the office, he has heretofore acquired a perfect familiarity with its routine and duties. He is an excellent and rapid penman and his quick and correct business tact and capacity therein exhibiting a marked contrast with the present incumbent of the office. He will, when elected, make a prompt, capable and courteous officer and the business reforms and methods he will introduce in the Register's office are quite as much needed as in the other wing of the court house.

Mr. N. W. Simpson, the candidate for sheriff, is well known constable of the 5th district. In his present capacity he has shown himself to be a diligent, conscientious, careful and courageous officer and, when he takes charge of the office in November, will make the most efficient sheriff the county has had for many years. The county commissioners ticket, which is the trust which more immediately concerns the tax payers and friends of economy in the county, is an exceptionally good one. Dr. Thomas A. Carrico and Samuel Cox, Esq., are among the best known citizens of the county and their high character, thorough familiarity with the business affairs of the county and excellent qualifications for the offices in which they have consented to serve are generally recognized and universally well known. Mr. W. McKenney Burroughs is one of the most extensive and successful farmers of the 5th district. In his past frequent jury service and as foreman of the Grand Jury he has shown good business capacity and judgment and he is generally known as a gentleman of the highest integrity and public spirited citizen. Mr. Washington Hicks is the well known and enterprising merchant at White Plains Station. He is highly esteemed in his neighborhood for his strict business integrity, wide awake enterprise and affable manner. Mr. Geo. W. Gray is a successful young farmer in Narxemy district and is universally respected by all who know him. He also is a representative of the young Democracy, by whom, as well as by the older body, he will be warmly supported. He will bring good judgment and business capacity to the discharge of his duties. All the candidates of the levy court are large tax payers and each has shown a thorough capacity to manage his own affairs.

Capt. H. Clagett Page, the candidate for surveyor, is well known as a skillful engineer and surveyor and a practical, methodical man of business. Altogether the ticket is a most excellent one, being strong in its every member and invulnerable all along the line. The convention has done its work wisely and well. The cool, determined demeanor of the convention throughout, not unmixed, however, with hearty enthusiasm, and the splendid ticket it was enabled to place in the field, show that the Democracy of the county is at last thoroughly aroused. The admirable good humor and dutiful acquiescence with which the defeated candidates before the convention accepted the result, showed beyond doubt, that their higher and more honorable motive than mere personal ends animates the Democracy of the county. The campaign has been most happy and auspiciously inaugurated. Let the same coolness, circumspection and earnestness of purpose continue to animate the Democratic rank and file up to the 3rd day of November and there can be no reasonable doubt of the result on that day.

High Stakes

The elections this fall are exceedingly important. In the city of Baltimore a mayor and city council, sheriff, surveyor, three court clerks and a register of wills are to be elected, and in the State a comptroller, the clerk of the Court of Appeals and the Legislature. The Legislature elects a United States senator, a governor, a treasurer and two police commissioners. The governor, treasurer and comptroller will elect an insurance commissioner and a tax commissioner. The party that wins this fall will get complete possession of the State government and the power to elect or re-elect its officers.

If the Democratic municipal ticket should be defeated the moral effect would be so presidential in its progress that the Republicans would probably elect such men as Kelly, Talbot, Canby, Dembo and Somerset counties on the Eastern Shore; Anne Arundel, Prince Georges, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's counties in Southern Maryland, and Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties in Western Maryland. The present State Senate is composed of 14 Democrats and 12 Republicans, of which 9 Democrats and 4 Republicans are in over the second legislative district, who is to be elected this fall. The last House of Delegates was composed of 63 Democrats and 28 Republicans. Excluding the city delegation, the House stood 45 Democrats to 23 Republicans. If the Republicans should carry the above named counties they will elect 9 of the incoming senators. This would make the composition of the Senate 13 Republicans and 12 Democrats, not including the senator or senators to be elected this fall. If the Republicans should carry the counties above mentioned the House, exclusive of the Baltimore city delegation, would stand 45 Republicans to 28 Democrats. The Democrats would then have to carry all three of the city districts to tie the Republican vote in the Senate and to have a majority of one vote in the House. If the municipal ticket should be defeated the probability is that at least one, and possibly another city district would be carried by a Republican or fusion ticket. It will be seen that Baltimore is the Democratic citadel, and to lose that means almost certain defeat.—Baltimore Times.

Our esteemed contemporary is right in calling the attention of the voters of Baltimore city to the study of these figures and the importance of the next election. However, we have too high an opinion of the good judgment and sound sense of the party in that city to suppose that they will allow their local differences to defeat the party at the general election, and we hope to see the party reconciled and a united front presented to the enemy. Our contemporary goes too far in an extreme length in supposing it even probable that the Republicans will carry all of the counties it mentions. In this section, with the strong ticket the Democrats have passed in the field in this county we have more than a fighting chance and not without the result of past elections the victory this year is no more with our opponents than with us. From St. Mary's comes cheering news of Democratic success and Prince Georges is already safely in line. When the importance of the next election is considered we are sure that the rest of the rural districts of the State will put forth strenuous exertions that will yield the best results, and it only remains for Baltimore city to do its duty for a Democratic majority to be called up in the State that will overwhelm its opponents.

In July, 1861, three young men, T. B. Roy, Irving A. Buck and George A. Williams, natives of Front Royal, Va., enlisted as privates in company B, Seventeenth Virginia Regiment. At Manassas they were detailed as clerks in Gen. Beauregard's office, and with that office, were transferred to the Western army in February, 1862. Roy was promoted to assistant adjutant general to Lieut. Gen. Hardee, Buck to Maj. Gen. Cleburne, of Hardee's corps, and Williams to Brig. Gen. Liddell, of Cleburne's division. They served through all the campaigns of the Army of Tennessee, were all wounded in battle, and all surrendered at Greensboro, N. C., in 1865, where they parted, and have not met together since until Monday last when, without concert of action, they were all in Baltimore and had a pleasant reunion. The singular part of it is that out of the right assistant adjutant generals belonging to the headquarters of Hardee, Cleburne and the brigades of Cleburne's division these three were the only survivors.

It is another strange circumstance that at one time Col. Geo. W. Brent, former major of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, was assistant adjutant general at army headquarters, Roy at corps, Buck at division and Williams at brigade headquarters of Hardee's corps of the Army of Tennessee, all having been drawn from one regiment—the Seventeenth Virginia, of the Army of Northern Virginia. Col. Roy is a resident of Selma, Ala., and one of the leading members of the bar of that State. Major Buck is a member of the firm of Adams, Buck & Co., of Baltimore, and Major Williams is connected with the large dry goods house of John P. Richardson & Co., of New Orleans.

The colored republicans of Maryland are demanding recognition at the hands of white republicans of the State, but the probabilities are that they will receive the same share of representation as they have all along received. The feeling among the colored men, however, is crystallizing into a revolt, and if their demands are not met in the near future, there are evidences of a split in the ranks, as may be judged from the following from Col. Jacob A. Semon, the most influential colored man in the State. He stated last week, when asked what course would be taken by his people if their just demands were unheeded or spurned:

"If they can do without us, which would be the natural inference from such action, we will then leave them. If they can elect republican or fusion candidates without our votes, they will then be afforded an opportunity of doing so. The effect of the unjust treatment of colored men in the past has been to produce a feeling of indifference, a state of lethargy, a ready, on the part of colored republicans, who furnish so large a proportion of the votes of that party. Many of our colored brethren have already begun to absent themselves from the party meetings, where they had only gone to find themselves occasionally overlooked and neglected. The names of our most influential men are now few and far between, not only absent from the meetings, but also absent from the meetings. That is a significant fact, showing the indifference of colored republicans. They asked the same right as any other members of the party to aspire to all the places, regard being had only to their qualifications, and they will resist and oppose a policy of mastery manifested, whether openly or covertly, to exclude them on account of race or color. What they do particularly insist upon is a proper share in the councils of their party. If they are fit to vote for a party, they are fit to participate in the government of the party. If they cannot do the one, they will do the other."

An Old Prophecy.

Sombody has unearthed an old prophecy for the year 1886 of a decidedly uncomfortable nature. It appears that in the church of Ober-amel, near the city of Treveris, Germany, there is an old prophecy, some centuries old, on which is written: "When Mark shall be in Easter, and Anthony shall sing praises at Pentecost, and John shall sing the conser at the feast of Corpus Domini, then shall the whole earth be re-visited with weeping and wailings." Now it so happens that next Easter falls on St. Mark's Day, Pentecost on that of St. Anthony of Padua and Corpus Domini comes on the 1st of John the Baptist's day, June 24. Then, then, are the first conditions of the prophecy fulfilled, so that now believe us to prophesies and anxious minded persons generally have only to sit down and think of everything else, grow old and die, and the prophecy will be fulfilled.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS CURE All Bilious Complaints.

It is a well known fact that the human system is composed of a large number of organs, each of which has its own special duty to perform. If any of these organs become diseased, the whole system is affected, and the result is a bilious complaint. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a powerful and reliable remedy for all such complaints. They act on the bowels, and by their action, they remove the cause of the disease, and thus cure it. They are perfectly safe, and do not produce any harmful effects. They are sold in all the principal cities of the United States, and are highly recommended by the medical profession.
