

LOCAL MATTERS:

The subscription price of THE TIMES is $1. per annum if paid in advance or at any time within the current year; if not paid within the year $1.50 will be invariably charged, as always heretofore, and from this rule no exception will be made.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The Times having a larger circulation than any other paper among the intelligent farmers and business men of Charles County, offers superior inducements to advertisers to insert their advertisements in its columns. Send for card rates, which are as low as any other paper in Southern Maryland, to any address on circulation.

Protect the Game.—Unless some attention be paid to the enforcement of the Maryland game laws, says the Washington Star, it is evident that the wild fowl frequenting the Potomac will be wholly exterminated. As stated in another column, the same paper adds, the river between Washington and Glymont is at this time straggling with ducks, and they are watched night and day by pot-hunters with murderous boat guns, in violation of law. There should be some way of punishing these greedy law-breakers.

Political Announcements.—Perhaps the most gratifying feature of the Congressional Campaign now ended, is the ebullient manner which Mr. Compton exhibited to his opponent. Dr. Washington G. Tuck in his opening speech of the campaign at Laurel, Mr. Compton defied his position toward his rival by declaring him a "man of honor" and saying other such graceful things about him, that more than one republican was quite captivated. While such conduct is nothing strange for a man who occupies such a high moral plane as Mr. Compton does, and always has, nevertheless, it is an item worthy of mention, that a political campaign can be conducted by gentlemen, and in harmonious keeping with the laws of good breeding. It is a fitting looking thing in the eyes of the people, and we hope, one that promises fair for the future.

Thanksgiving Day.—The following is President Cleveland's proclamation designating Thursday, November 25th, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The proclamation, after designating the day, says: "On that day let all our people forego their accustomed employment and assemble in their usual places of worship to give thanks to the Ruler of the universe for our continued enjoyment of the blessings of a free government; for a renewal of business prosperity throughout our land; for the return which has rewarded the labor of those who till the soil and for our progress as a people in all that makes a nation great. And while we contemplate the infinite power of God in earthquake, flood and storm, let the grateful hearts of those who have been shielded from harm through His mercy, be turned to sympathy and prayer toward those who have suffered throughout His visitations. Let us also, in the midst of our thanksgiving remember the poor and the afflicted, and let us also, so that our service may, by deeds of charity, be made acceptable in the sight of the Lord."

Republican Mass Meeting.—The mass meeting of the republican voters of Charles County held here on Friday last was largely attended, many voters of that persuasion being crowded into the court house when the meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock by B. G. Stonestreet. Dr. Wilmer was called upon to preside. Speeches were made by Dr. W. G. Tuck, candidate for Congress, Dr. Wilmer, Dr. Tuck's address was short and lacked force or effectiveness, and fell flat upon the audience, failing to arouse the least sympathy among them. His speech was largely an apology for his state of health and in telling how long Mr. Compton had held office. Mr. McIntyre did most of the speaking of the occasion, and he continually addressed the crowd as fellow Democrats, and wound up his speech by saying that he had voted for Gov. Hamilton and intended to vote for Findlay, independent Democratic candidate for Congress in the 4th district. These remarks of a speaker called the white republican presence, and perhaps induced many of the colored ones to cast their ballots for Compton last Tuesday, which many of them undoubtedly did. Dr. Wilmer finished up the meeting, and our people we know of what his speeches are composed. We do him the credit, however, of saying that his allusions to Mr. Compton were kind, even complimentary, and he endeavored to show that Dr. Tuck should have the support of those present over him. In this attempt, however, he failed signally as the vote of last Tuesday fully demonstrates. We had almost forgot to mention that the patriarchal Dr. Lancaster endeavored to work up a little more of the "hard times" dodge. Altogether the meeting was a tame affair and it did no harm to the Democratic cause it certainly did little good toward helping along the republican fight in the county. "Rah for Compton!"

French Spoliations Claims.—Various claimants in Maryland and elsewhere have written to Washington inquiring as to the reasons for postponement to November 15th of the hearing of the French spoliations cases by the Court Claims. Mr. Earle, who represents a large number, if not the majority, of the claimants, said in answer to a question as to the reason or necessity for postponement, that it was from the dilatory manner in which the government has prepared itself to discharge its duty under the act of Congress. In a number of cases it is plain that the evidence, which was never examined, and also filed their printed papers for facts and figures, in accordance with the practice of the court, in the months of July and August, 1885. Under the rules of the court the government is required to file its evidence in sixty days after the plaintiff files his, and its prayers for findings of fact and brief within thirty days after the claimant has filed his. If the government does this it must ask an extension of time before the limitation expires. No extension was asked. No evidence has been filed by the government, and it was not until October 6, after a delay of fourteen months, that the first prayer for findings of fact and brief was filed, and then only in a few cases. The government now says it is ready in about ninety cases of the three hundred and forty-three now on the calendar for trial. Many Charles County cases are interested in these claims, and are anxious to see them brought to a speedy settlement. We have heretofore expressed the opinion that these delays would necessarily follow, and also advise our friends not to hold too high hopes on the amount they would receive from the government. That all just claims will be satisfied, we have no doubt, but the slightest doubt, but after the awards of the government are made and the returning of the claims, which must necessarily follow, we feel certain that the small percentage of the original claims will come into the hands of the parties entitled to them. No one will receive a sufficient amount to entitle him to the rank of millionaire in this country.

Victory Once More

CROW! CROW!! CROW!!!

Charles County Still in Line!

Small But Safe Majority!

RAH FOR COMPTON!

The People Have Spoken and Honest Economical Local Government Must Continue.

CROW, COMPTON!! CROW.

All Honor to the Democrats of Charles.

In the election in the county last Tuesday the democrats have shown that they are determined to maintain the control of our local affairs hereafter which came into their hands after the hard fought struggle and overwhelming victory in the contest last fall. The election on Tuesday resulted in the substantial and gratifying success of the Hon. Barne: Compton over his republican competitor, Dr. Washington G. Tuck. Although the majority given for the democratic candidate is not large, still it is of sufficient magnitude to warrant us in predicting that it will be many years, if ever, before the republicans can lift their voices again in management of our county affairs. There are many reasons which tended to bring down the majority for the democratic ticket in this contest, but as they are discussed more fully in an article, published elsewhere in this issue, we will not repeat them here. We can only congratulate our democratic brethren on the result of this election and rejoice with them that the economical and intelligent management of our local affairs during the past twelve months has received such substantial endorsement at the hands of the people of Charles County. The official figures of the result in the county are given in another column and by that table can be found those districts which stood up in line in this contest and those which fell behind. We can only feel a deep sympathy for those democrats who absented themselves from the polls, as they cannot enter heartily into the happy feelings of those who brought about the glorious result we now chronicle. But we make no recriminations and can only say to them to brighten up their armor and prepare to enter vigorously into the next contest. In the vote on Tuesday Mr. James P. Armstrong, prohibition candidate for Congress, received 12 votes in the county as follows: In Allen's Fresh 1, Middletown 5, Bryans town 4, and Patuxent City 2. Mr. H. H. Bowie received one vote for Congress in Hill Top.

Apart from the fact of the self gratulation which all feel at democratic success in our old county this fall, it is also peculiarly gratifying that the victory was won under the leadership of that sterling old war horse of democracy from Southern Maryland, Hon. Barne: Compton, a man whom our people have always looked to with honor, and who stands preeminent in the estimation of the people of the whole State, for the spotless record he has maintained during a long term of service in various public offices of trust and honor. Mr. Compton has reason to feel proud of the glorious victory he has won here, in the face of great opposing obstacles, and in view of the fact that his was the only name on the democratic ticket, and no prominent local issue was at stake to arouse our people to action.

Not only did our county work and strive for Compton's success, but the whole of the Fifth Congressional District turned out and have rolled up for him a majority never before known in its history. From Baltimore county to Point Lookout he has been thought of and honored, and his immense popularity is due solely to his spotless record and his consistent, honest course toward the whole people of the district and in his Congressional duties. Our county is proud of her son, and will ever ready to cheer him on his long sojourn as he continues to deserve them in the future as he has in the past. With his experience of two years in Congress, with his quick intelligence, with his ready power in debate, and above all with his thoughtful care and consideration for his constituents in every part of this district and State, we predict that Mr. Compton will shine forth in the next Congress with influence and willingness to aid and advance the interest of the State of Maryland, and especially the Fifth Congressional District, so that when his term expires and he prepares to retire, he will leave behind a record that will not be blotted out, and that will make all Maryland proud of Charles County's representative.

Remedy for Diphtheria.—Numbers of children are suffering from diphtheria, and the skill of the best physicians frequently prove useless against the attack of the dread disease. It often happens that a simple remedy is of more value in such cases than the most skillful treatment, and just at this time all suggestions which bear the evidence of worth are interesting and valuable. A communication to the St. Louis Globe-Gazette furnishes herewith an able champion and representative.

The Epitaph.

Here is what is left of the republican party in Charles county. This we will Tuck quietly away in a secluded corner, with the following epitaph to mark its last resting place:

The bosses could not save it, Though their skill was brought to play; So in quietness we'll leave it, For it has had his day.

Four Doctors with skill I united, Tried hard to save its breath; But the Democrats undaunted Live sent it to its death.

On Tuesday it rallied slightly, But it was not in luck, And it died for a lack of ballots That bore the name of Dr. Tuck.

In No. 1 we rallied, In No. 2 was loss, But old No. 3 we carried, And No. 1 was boss.

No. 5 went backward, And the corpse did start to heave, But when old No. 6 was heard from It yelped up the ghost.

No. 7 went up a shout, That was heard throughout the land, And No. 8 came boldly forth, To join our noble band.

No. 9, which is its stronghold, With a majority of forty-four, Came to and tried to raise the corpse, But it had fled to the other shore.

So in peacefulness we'll leave it, Nor shed a single tear, For now our county is safe in line, With nothing more to fear. Shake, Democrats! "Rah for Compton!"

For Fall and Winter, 1886.

The enterprising Baltimore Clothiers, Oehm & Son, have made unusually simple preparations to receive the ladies of the most desirable and stylish and reliable M-n's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing, which has been originated. With the tempting inducements in quality and price effected by them, there is no excuse for being poorly clad. Your next visit to Baltimore should certainly include a call at the corner of Hanover and Pratt Streets.

Local Brevities

The agony is over. "Rah for Compton, our next Congressman!"

The November term of our circuit court begins on Monday week.

As usual with our election day passed off quietly with no unusual incidents in any part of the county.

The county commissioners will meet on Tuesday, the 16th instant, the first Tuesday of court, for the transaction of general business.

The crack of the breech loader has been heard on all sides this week, and many have been killed and wounded in the "crack" shows.

The consecration of Christ Church will take place on Thursday next, as previously announced. The services will be in progress at 12 o'clock.

There is yet some doubt as to whether Biscoe, the colored murderer who is to be executed here, will be well enough to attend at the approaching term of court.

Mr. Ruskin thinks there is a great future for American art—but he hardly realizes the enormous demand ever here for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

We are sorry to report that the condition of Miss Nellie Stonestreet, whose serene illness of typhoid fever we noticed last week, is but little improved. Dr. J. Harris Stonestreet is at home, and we learn, is also suffering with the same disease.

The many friends of Mr. Geo. A. Hunt were glad to greet him here on Tuesday. Mr. Hunt came down from Baltimore to cast his ballot in the cause of good government and Democracy. Although feeling much improved at this time Mr. Hunt is by no means relieved of the troublesome disease with which he has been so long afflicted.

A color boy named Gross was shot in the back by a companion named Henry Henson, near Highsville, while hunting on Tuesday last, the day of election. Henson claims that the shooting was accidental, though he has been arrested to await the result of the wounded boy's injuries. Yesterday Gross was reported to be in a precarious condition.

The Howard Rifles will appear in their new uniforms to-morrow, when there will be a drill at 10 o'clock, at the Capt. in command of the regiment will be given during court proceedings favorable.

The convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church which had been in session in Washington for two weeks adjourned Friday afternoon. A resolution that this house will not abandon the subject of marriage and divorce until legislation be effected in full accordance with the law of God, and to appoint a committee to consist of three presbyters, one of which shall be president, and two laymen, to consider, during the next three years, what is necessary and report to the next convention was adopted. A message was received from the House of Bishops in favor of the appointment of a deputation, consisting of two bishops, two clergymen and two laymen, to visit the provincial synod of Canada, was concurred in. A message in favor of appointing St. Andrew's day as an appropriate day for making annual intercession for all Christian missions and missionaries, was concurred in. The convention adjourned on January 18 to August 6. The convention then adjourned.
