So far this month there have been twelve days in which rain fell, and June bids fair to be as remarkable in this respect as either April or May. Rain fell on the 1st, 21, 24, 4th, 8th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th and 17th instants, with a total of five inches in the 12 days. The normal rainfall for the whole month of June is only 4.10 inches. The total rainfall so far for this is 22.96 inches, which is nearly 14 inches in excess of the normal. The greatest excess Baltimore ever had for one whole year previous to the present was in 1886, when the excess was nine inches. It is probable that the latter part of this year will show a deficiency in the rainfall, as it is likely that the abnormal rainfall will continue for a year.

Repaired Drowning. A story of serious disaster was told in Washington on Friday last by Geo. Marks, a sailor from Baltimore, who applied to the flood relief committee for help. He was on the schooner Fire Brothers, of Baltimore, loaded with coal for Washington. While opposite Lower Cedar Point the alarm was given that the vessel was rapidly sinking, and the entire crew, consisting of eight men, sprang into the water. Marks states that only five men came ashore, and thinks that the others were drowned, as he had seen nothing of them since. Marks stated that the current was running very swiftly at the time the boat went down, and he thinks that the accident was caused by a floating log carried along by the current. The captain and Marks are in Washington seeing about getting the schooner up.

The Encampment. An inspection last week of the site selected for the State encampment at Frederick Junction revealed the fact that the recent floods had so greatly damaged the grounds that they were considered practically unfit for camping purposes, hence the site was abandoned, a careful inspection of the vicinity, however, brought to light a more desirable location and it was immediately secured. The new site is an eighty-acre field, giving ample room for the tents of the entire National Guard, while another large field in close proximity furnishes an excellent parade ground. Another advantage of the new site is its greater elevation, which guarantees its safety from being flooded. It is understood that the United States government had proposed to regular army officers to inspect the camp and the commands some time during the encampment.

Free Examination. The enterprising proprietor of a drug-pole in the village of Benedict, whose trade has been considerably stimulated by frequent pilgrimages of delegations from the Calvert side of the Patuxent, has struck upon a plan by which he may add many adherents to his till and at the same time afford his Calvert customers an opportunity of inhaling the exhilarating breeze from the Patuxent on a free excursion over its waters. To one of the piles of the pier at Holland Point wharf, directly opposite Benedict, he has caused a tall flag pole to be erected, with the necessary attachments for waving a signal. The initiated understand that when a flag is hoisted upon this pole a boat will straightway put off from Benedict, and in about twenty five minutes time (the weather permitting) the vessel and its cargo of jugs, demijohns and thirty bushels will be landed at the door of the Billy McGlorey's, the little town of Benedict, and the proprietor will probably hear of some good mother's son furnishing a banquet for sharks and hard crabs at the bottom of the river if these excursions continue to grow in popularity with our wayward young men.—Calvert Gazette.

Divorce Court. An adjourned session of the circuit court was held on Monday, his honor Judge Stone presiding, for the purpose of hearing the petition for the release of John P. Gibbons, an insolvent debtor, and for the purpose of bearing the motion for a new trial in the case of Wat Butler, colored. The insolvency case was argued at length by Posey for petitioner and Matthews and Wilmer for the insolvent. The case of Butler was argued by Matthews and Wilmer for the petitioner and the motion for a new trial was allowed to be offered as to the character of the prisoner. Several witnesses were examined on this point and on the strength of the evidence the court reduced the sentence from seven years to eighteen months. Court adjourned.

Dead Death. Miss E. H. Linton, daughter of Philip H. Linton, a well known resident of Nanj, died suddenly in Washington on Tuesday night peculiar and sad and distressing circumstances. The young lady was visiting her uncle, Mr. Wm. West, of that city, and was to have been married at 9 o'clock on the previous evening. Shortly before the time set for the ceremony, however, while the expectant groom, the clergyman, the relatives and friends of the happy couple were awaiting the appearance of the bride, the news came that she had been taken suddenly sick. It was not thought to be serious, however, and the wedding guests concluded to wait until the attack might wear off. Instead of growing better the young lady grew rapidly worse and those who had gathered to participate in a pleasant ceremony were forced to disperse with sad and gloomy forebodings. The young lady died shortly after the following morning. We have been unable to learn the cause of her sudden demise, which has left so much heart sickness and sorrow with those to whom she was so well known, and who are thus forced to shed tears of sympathy at her early death instead of extending those sincere congratulations for her future happiness which they had so fondly hoped to offer.

Squared Up.

We have frequently heretofore had occasion to speak of and commend the promptness of Thos. B. Gough, the collector of the second district, in collecting and settling the claims that stood against him, as his ability in this regard has been unequalled in the records of the commissioners office. During 1886, the Commissioner of the office, Mr. Gough, had not every claim promptly, and moreover petitioned all orders given against him by the county commissioners, trustees of the poor and the school board, and at the expiration of that year there was but a small balance standing against him on these three funds. In 1887 his good work was continued even more promptly and he was commended for his ability and zeal by all who had business with him. It is with much pleasure that we now record the fact that Mr. Gough has settled in full all claims as collector for these two years and holds the receipt of the county commissioners absolving him from any further responsibility or obligation as collector of taxes. Mr. Gough adjusted his accounts with the clerk of the commissioners on Monday. He produced every receipt and account, showing the disposition of the public moneys, and these covered his entire indebtedness for the year 1886 and 1887. The total amount of $238.94. This amount he paid on that day, thus squaring his accounts in full and releasing himself and his bond from any and all obligations as a receiver of public moneys. When it is remembered that Mr. Gough collected and handled during these two years upwards of $20,000 it is an enviable record that he has, within the short space of three years, rendered a just and accurate account of every penny of this sum. He cannot be too highly commended for his zeal and honesty, and he leaves his office with a record of which he should feel justly proud and one to which all Democrats can point with a just and pardonable pride, as Mr. Gough was one of the first officers to be appointed after we secured control in 1885, and we believe we can say without contradiction, the very first to show a clear balance sheet within this short period. Mr. Gough's papers are on file in the hands of the clerk, and any one who desires to see how a honest and efficient Democrat conducts business in handling such a large amount of public money can be accommodated by calling on that official. In this connection it may be pardoned in us to state that in the adjustment on Monday Mr. Gough's accounts, in the full sum, tallied with those of the clerk with only a discrepancy of 36 cents in Mr. Gough's favor in a transaction of over $20,000 this is not at all showing. To other collectors and ex-collectors we would say, "Go thou and do likewise."

The Public Levy. We are publishing a brief summary of the coming levy for the year 1889, as arranged by the commissioners clerk this week. This is necessarily incomplete as the clerk has yet not had an opportunity of the time to go over the various amounts levied with their exactness that it is necessary to have everything accurate. Still this general summary is in the main about the amounts required to be met in the levy of this year, and while the amount here put down is necessarily a rough estimate, it will undergo slight change after a more careful examination, we do not think it will be sufficiently altered to affect the rate of taxation as fixed by the amount published below. With an expense account of $32,322.66 and a taxable basis of $3,527,518, the rate of taxation for this year will be about 92 cents on the $100, or 1 cent lower than the existing rate. This is gratifying to the commission, as it will be to our people, for from the enormous amount of bonds of this year it was thought that the rate would be necessarily increased, and that it is not a source of much congratulation. Below is the summary:

SUMMARY OF LEVY FOR 1889. Judges of Orphans' Court $ 638.00 Clerks of Court 342.00 Jailors of Court 22.25 Room Rent 68.00 Officers of Registration 834.30 Magistrates and Constables 470.84 New High and Old Seal 58.50 Paper Coffins and Expenses 122.00 Material 98.49 Returned to Post Office 172.00 Assessments and Incentives 467.75 Collectors Commissions 1,908.47 Miscellaneous Purposes 21,679.86 Total $32,322.66 By 92 cts on $3,527,518 $32,453.61 By Overriding 138.95 Levied for $32,322.66

Wedding Bells. On Tuesday evening of last week the people of Anacostia crowded the Methodist church to witness the marriage of Mr. William Alexander Simpson, of Silver Hill, and Miss Mary Hilton Willet, of Charles county. A few minutes before 8 o'clock the bridal party entered, the bride on the arm of Mr. Sidney E. Mudd and the groom with Mr. Geo. F. Pyle. Rev. Ezekiel Richardson, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Mudd giving the bride away. The party immediately withdrew to the residence of Mr. Pyle, where a reception was given and refreshments served. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson departing at 9:30 for their home, only three miles distant, where another reception was given that night. Mr. Simpson is twenty-four years old, and has two children about six and nine years of age, having lost his first wife, a young woman, several years ago. He was formerly in business at Camp Springs, but for a few years has been running a general country store at Silver Hill. The bride is twenty-three years old. She was newly attired in blue-chamber with blue silk trimmings. The church was prettily decorated with white lilies and roses.

The Washington Star of the 11th inst.: Dr. Richard S. Hill and Miss Ada M. Morgan will be married at St. Aloysius church on Wednesday, 19th inst. The original plan for a large wedding has been abandoned on account of the recent bereavement in the family of the bride elect. There will be no formal invitations and the ceremony will be in the simplest form. Dr. Hill is the eldest son of the late Richard S. Hill, of Southern Maryland, and Miss Morgan is the youngest daughter of the late Dr. James E. Morgan. Both are well known and deservedly popular among our young society people.

COMMUNICATED. A very enjoyable dinner company was given at the Washington Star by Miss Clara Jenkins, who was the guest of the Misses Davis. About 2 o'clock the company were invited to the dining room, where they were seated at tables and invited to tempt the most dainty appetite. After which the evening passed so delightfully that it seemed but a very short time before the hour of separation. At 9 o'clock the gentlemen were again invited to take the fair sex to the dining room, where was spread a table of refreshments, consisting of the most attractive to the eye was a floral decoration in the center of the table, in the shape of a bed and terminating in an immense pyramid of the most lovely flowers, which were arranged by the tasty hands of the bride. The table was so elegantly and artistically decorated that it could not be surpassed by the most experienced florist of Washington. Those present were Miss Clara Jenkins, Annie Davis, Miss Alice Brent, Mr. and Mrs. John Beaman, Messrs. Reed and Wright, Wills, Neale, Hamilton, Emanuel Gardner, Sidney Blacklock, Albert Jamison, Frank Matthews and Dr. Barker. About 11 o'clock the company left expressing it to be the most enjoyable day of the year, and we attribute all the pleasure to the manner in which Mrs. Davis and her attractive daughters believe in entertaining their guests.

One Hundred Years. St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., is nearly two hundred years old this month, being started in 1686 as King William's School. The brightest minds of colonial times received their training within the walls of this venerable institution. Organized in 1789 as St. John's College, some of the greatest men of the 19th century have proudly worn the blue and white of the college. The patriotic key and the eloquent Johnson are among her honored sons, and hundreds owe their prosperity to the training received within old McMillan Hall. In April last a call was issued by the Executive Committee of the College Alumni Association to all of her sons, asking them to unite under the far spreading branches of the aged poplar and there to celebrate the centenary of the first graduating class. This happy hour has been so far from being a mere social gathering, but a day of generous rivalry. But not alone in the fields of letters have her sons borne themselves as men. Her foot-ball players have the championship of the South and she numbers among her students many trained athletes.

Extending His Business. Mr. J. Carr, the old and well known jeweler of Washington, D. C., has recently purchased the entire stock of jewelry, diamonds, etc., of M. Semkin's extensive establishment at 945 Penn. Ave., and leaves the store. Mr. Carr will henceforth conduct the jewelry business at Semkin's old store near 10th St., as well as at his old well known store, No. 629 Penn. Ave., thus conducting the business on a more extensive scale than any jeweler in the city. This is an entirely reliable house and deserves its great success. Mr. Carr announces the extension of his business in the following circular:—

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1889. Having purchased from Mr. M. Semkin his entire stock of Jewelry, Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Clocks, Bronzes, etc., at No. 945 Penn. Ave., I shall endeavor by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the confidence and patronage of the many friends of Mr. Semkin, and I embrace this opportunity to thank my friends and patrons for their kind regards in me for the last thirty years, and request a continuance of our pleasant relations in my new place of business. I shall continue the business at the store formerly occupied by Mr. Semkin with increased facilities and will give particular attention as heretofore to the repairing of Chronometers. On my new place of business, I have secured the services of Mr. Carr, a well known and reliable jeweler, and will give particular attention as heretofore to the repairing of Chronometers. On my new place of business, I have secured the services of Mr. Carr, a well known and reliable jeweler, and will give particular attention as heretofore to the repairing of Chronometers.

R. L. Murdock had a cow killed by lightning during the thunder storm on Friday last. Our correspondent from Hughesville speaks of a communication sent us two weeks ago. He must be mistaken in this as we have no recollection of ever receiving it, and are always exceedingly careful in scrutinizing our correspondence.

Collector Hill, among other appointments announced on Monday, named Samuel G. Lancaster, of Newport, this county, as one of the gaugers of the internal revenue office, the appointment to date from July 1st. The pay of the position is $4.00 per day when employed.

Today, June 21st, is the longest day of the year, the sun rising at 4:33 a. m., and setting at 7:30 p. m. From this time the days will begin to shorten although it will be some months before the change becomes very perceptible. Today will be over fourteen hours in length.

President Harrison paid another visit to St. Mary's county on Sunday and attended divine services at the Episcopal church in St. Mary's City. Bishop Paret officiated on that day and became the champion of the presidential party in their visit to St. Mary's Seminary after the services.

For good blacksmith and wheelwright work we commend our friends to C. F. Hayden, at Cox's Station. Mr. Hayden is a thorough workman and his prices are in keeping with the times. As he has just turned out an excellent job for us we speak whereof we know on this subject.

On Monday last Judge Stone extended the time for the collection of out-standing tax accounts to Jas. A. Franklin, Thos. B. Gough and Winfield Hall, collectors for the years 1886 and 1887. A. T. Carrico, collector for the 4th district for these years, did not apply for an extension.

The comptroller has made his regular quarterly distribution of the public school tax to the several counties and the City of Baltimore. Of this fund Charles county receives for white schools $2,293.26, and for colored schools $2,999.28. The amount is payable on and after the 25th inst.

Jas. A. Murray, of Bryantown, shipped a hoghead of selected tobacco to Danville, Va., about two weeks ago, but up to Friday last had received no return of the sale. As the tobacco was of that market the shipper anticipated a fair price for the hoghead.

G. W. Crain Smoot, who has held a $1,400 clerkship in the Baltimore custom house for the past two years, was on Wednesday promoted to a $1,600 position by Collector Groome. We congratulate Crain on his good fortune and hope that he may remain in the office for some years to enjoy his good fortune.

A new engine was put on the Southern Maryland Railroad, Saturday, and made its first trip from Brandywine to Mechanicsville and returning bringing the mails from St. Mary's county. A new coach will be put on in a day or two. This is a convenience for which the public in the western section of our county will be duly thankful.

Mr. Richard S. Worthington, a nephew of Mrs. B. G. Stone and well known to many of our people from his frequent visits to the county, was married to Miss Fannie Nelson, daughter of the Rev. Dr. C. K. Nelson, at the home of the bride in Montgomery county yesterday. Miss Fannie Worthington and Joseph F. Stone attended the wedding.
