Miss Adelle Hill has taken a position in the office of the Clerk of Court.

Rev. E. O. Taylor gave an interesting series of lectures at the M. E. church last week.

Supt. Seal delivered a lecture Friday evening at St. Cloud on "Orators and Oratory."

The freak generally known as "The Bear" was granted a leave of absence by Chief Roy this week.

A "modern Sampson" was in the city this week giving exhibitions of cannon ball juggling at the saloons.

H. H. Potter has recovered from his long confinement with typhoid fever and is visiting his parents at Clear Lake.

C. J. Halstead is now sole owner of the Brainerd Tribune having purchased the interest of his partner, A. E. Penneel.

The seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bryant died Sunday evening of meningitis. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Trace has taken the position of Dr. Noyes in the Gold Cure institute here. Dr. Noyes goes to St. Cloud where Mr. Davison has opened another institute.

The court house grounds are undergoing a "scouring" that has long been needed. The grounds will be graded and trees planted. A new fence will also be built.

The new drug store of Wm. Gausewitz is now open to the public. Mr. Gausewitz is a druggist of long experience and practice and has given the city a handsome drug store.

Pete LaFond went to Staples Monday where he, in company with Neil St. Anthony, has purchased a saloon. He has rented his residence here and will sell his confectionery store.

Following Mr. Howells' lead, apparently, both Frank R. Stockton and Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett have gone over to The Ladies' Home Journal, and the most important works by these authors upon which they are now engaged, will shortly see publication in this magazine.

Durocher & Wessel, of St. Paul, have dissolved partnership, Mr. Wessel taking the dry goods house of the firm here and at Sauk Centre. The Sauk Centre store has been closed out and Mr. Wessel will give his business in this city, his undivided attention.

Saturday night and Sunday the ice went out of the Mississippi here at about the usual time in seasons past. About 10,000,000 feet of logs broke loose at Little Falls and with the ice gorge and rush of water came down upon St. Cloud. At one time it was feared the logs would break loose from the boom here and go over the dam at Andersen's mill, but they were successfully held, thus demonstrating that St. Cloud is a good place at which to hold logs. Some of the piling was damaged, but this morning Alderman Andersen and other lumbermen were feeling well over the result.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Herron Saturday.

N. Koenig has received the appointment of postmaster at Melrose.

Manager Van Praag has engaged the Ole Olson company for next Wednesday night.

Beautiful Spring awoke Wednesday morning to find herself back again into the lap of Winter.

Celery is so healthful that it should be used in every family at least once a week. Read large Kalamazoo Celery.

The Pine Tree Lumber Company received a car load of handsome work horses from Wisconsin last week.

There was a rumor afloat this week that a life insurance company will build a $50,000 opera house here this year.

Mrs. John Wright, mother of L. J. Wright, died at her home in Montreal, Canada Monday. Deceased was eighty-four years of age.

St. Cloud's new city directory gives the city a population of 10,096, an increase of 2,474 over the government census of 1890.

Mrs. Lillian M. Benton will give a concert at Royalton next Tuesday evening. Mrs. Benton will be assisted by our best local talent.

A portion of First street was much improved this week by being leveled up and graded. This work should be continued until all of our streets are in a condition becoming to a town of this size.

A new school district in the southern part of Elmdale was organized April 10th. The following officers were elected: A. H. Peterson, clerk; C. E. Anderson, director; John Soltis, treasurer.

A large number of Odd Fellows of this place have signified their intention of attending the anniversary celebration at Sauk Centre the 26th. A special rate of $1.55 for the round trip has been made.

The dedication services of the new Swedish church on the West Side was attended by a large number of people last Sunday. The congregation subscribed $255, which will go toward paying for the new church.

Reginald de Koven's new waltz, which one hears played on so many pianos nowadays, has proved so popular with young women that a second edition of the April Ladies Home Journal, containing the music, has been found necessary, the first edition of the magazine consisting of 700,000 copies.

The Little Falls Posten, the Swedish newspaper, made its first appearance Wednesday. The Posten is a six column folio and is well filled with advertisements. The first page contains a handsome cut of Little Falls with a good write-up of the city. The paper will be independent in politics. May The Posten live long and meet the approval and success it deserves at the hands of the enterprising people it represents.

The beautiful and novel printing with which the "Ole Olson" company have plastered the town is not deceiving in the least. The attraction is without doubt one of the best that will be seen at Little Falls this season. The novelty of the new Swedish dialect comedy made a tremendous hit last season, and this year the managers offer it with a splendid cast and a great number of new specialties.

Mr. Geo. W. Smitten of Le Sauk, who more than a year ago went South for his health, arrived home Thursday says the St. Cloud Journal-Press. He had been living in Eastern Tennessee on the Cumberland plateau, and the mild, salubrious climate has proven of much merit in the cure of his malady—inflammatory rheumatism, the elements of his disease being almost eradicated from his system. He finds today upon arriving in Minnesota somewhat changed climatic condition. For while the wind is raw and blustery there everything is green and beautiful, the peach and apple trees when he left last Friday being all bloom. The part of the state in which he made his home, however, was the portion so familiar to all readers of the delightful sketches of Charles Egbert Craddock, the authoress and the people are what Miss Ophelia has aptly termed "so shif'les." Aside from the beauties of nature there is little else to commend the region.

Mayor Richardson now occupies the mayor's room in the city hall which has heretofore been occupied by F. W. Lyon.

Alex. Dryberg, who conducted the California saloon here for some time, is now manager of the Hotel Fraternity of Chicago.

A. S. Strauss, of Long Prairie, is a candidate for receiver of the St. Cloud land office. Frank Ellenbecker of this county is still in the lead for register and his friends look for his appointment very soon.

The St. Cloud base ball club has sent a challenge to "Billy" Hall to play the Little Falls boys here the 29th of this month. Little Falls is yet minus an organized club but it is hoped that the boys will get together and organize soon.

The Pine Tree company's electric plant is now ready and the lights were turned on Monday night for the first time. The interior of the mills are well supplied with lights and arc lights are placed in the yards in sufficient numbers to turn the darkness into a brilliant day-light. James Gordon has charge of the plant.

Two young men of Randall, Jeff and Geo. Hunt, on complaint of their neighbors were brought before Judge Trettel Tuesday to be examined as to their mental condition. It was found that what their neighbors thought was insanity was only their natural state of mind, becoming irrational at times. The Judge dismissed them.

Dr. A. A. Noyes, of Little Falls, president of the North American Gold Cure, a branch of which is established in this city, arrived today from Little Falls. Dr. Noyes formerly lived in St. Cloud, practicing medicine here many years. He says St. Cloud has grown considerably, however, since that time.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

A New Jersey wife has just presented her husband with four children at one birth—two boys and two girls. Lest the Journal Press should be led into error, we will explain that all are of the same age; that all have the same father and mother; that none of them are orphans, and that the happy father might properly be termed a "four-time winner."—St. Cloud Times.

Thomas F. Bohan and Miss Annie Jaegar both of this city were married Tuesday at the French Catholic church by Father LaMothe. The contracting parties are well known in Little Falls, Mr. Bohan being one of our leading business men. In the plumbing business he has built up a substantial and lucrative business by his good workmanship and steady habits and has won the respect and confidence of the people. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Jaegar and sister of Mrs. J. Blake and Mrs. W. F. Krause. The happy twain departed on the afternoon train for Minneapolis where Mr. Bohan's relatives reside. They will return soon to this city and be at home to their many friends.

It is surprising that a newspaper man of Frank G. Carpenter's ability, says the St. Paul Globe, should have made several prominent blunders in his letter to the Chicago Herald concerning the millionaires of St. Paul and Minneapolis; but that one of St. Paul's leading dailies should have copied the letter blunders and all, is a carelessness which cannot easily be excused. In the first paragraph of the letter Fred Weyerhauser, the heaviest owner of pine lands and the acknowledged lumber king of the world, is made to live in Minneapolis. Mr. Weyerhauser lives in St. Paul, and this city is the headquarters of his interests. He lives in one of the grandest homes on Summit avenue.

We laugh at blunders such as a Mexican paper made recently, in saying that President Cleveland was a sheriff in Vermont and amassed a fortune of $9,000,000; but excuse them on the grounds that journalism down there is in a crude state. The editor of the St. Paul paper referred to is one who rarely makes a blunder in detail.

Mr. Weyerhauser has a lovely family, to which he is devoted, and Mr. Carpenter's gossip about him, and also one of his daughters, while not partaking in the least of the scandalous nature, is very inaccurate and hardly pleasing. But aside from these and a few other blunders, the letter is very complimentary to both cities, and all are much obliged to Mr. Carpenter for the compliments.

Dr. Bardwell the rupture specialist, was at the Hotel Buckman yesterday.

Six months of winter! Spring, Summer and Autumn, where art thou at?

For pure and fresh medicines go to Wm. Gausewitz, Prescription Druggist in Close Bldg.

P. P. DeMoss' drive of logs in the Little Elk was laid up this week by the low water.

E. Marx, of Princeton, is here this week buying cattle. He will try and purchase 250 yearlings.

The Gold Cure institute has been removed to the office of Dr. O. C. Trace in the Butler Block.

Chas. Hageman has the plans drawn for a new residence which he will build on the site of the place he now occupies on Summit avenue.

I. E. Staples will build three cottages on the hill for rental. Mrs. J. K. Smith who will return from England in June, will occupy one of them.

The Odd Fellows will celebrate the seventy-fourth anniversary of their organization by attending the Episcopal church in a body next Sunday where services befitting the occasion will be held conducted by Rev. Joss.

Rolla Malkson, of Elk River, was arrested Monday evening here by the police. Malkson, in company with another boy, burglarized a store at Elk River. Sheriff Houlton returned with the boy Wednesday to Elk River.

The Trebby building on Broadway recently vacated by Barney Burton has been rented by Herron Brothers who will remove into it a portion of their large stock and will operate two separate stores. They will occupy the building about May 1st.

The Columbia Euchre club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Wetzel. The prizes were awarded as follows: Miss Buckman, progressive prize; Mrs. Mathieson, lone hand prize; Victor Schallern, progressive prize; M. C. Davis, lone hand prize.

Spring is buried in nearly two feet of snow and it still snows. A similar condition of the weather at this time of the year surpasses the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. There is scarcely any favor in the condition of the elements now and the six weeks of incessant rains which ushered in the previous spring.

The new drug store in the J. W. Close building on First street is now open. Come and see us.

The hunters of this city tell a good one at the expense of a couple of our embryo sportsmen. It seems that a few days since one of our clothing men and a companion whose name is "mum," were at one of the beautiful lakes that surround this city where ducks are numerous and geese honk high. The clothing man had not alighted from the gig that conveyed the two to the scene of duck blood and sad death kicks when a duck was sighted coming toward them. When the duck was within range Mr. "Mum" raised his life extermiator and fired, but he missed his duckship. With rare presence of mind the clothing man in the gig whipped up his horse and started in the direction the duck had flown riding at a break-neck speed over the rough ground. After an absence of a few hours the Don Quixote hunter returned to his companion his horse panting and himself weary looking and fatigued. Between his gasps for breath his companion could hear him whisper that the duck was too fast for his horse—he had tried to head it off.
