Duluth Herald: Editor Fuller, of the Little Falls Transcript, is not a very good political prophet. He predicted the election of a republican mayor of Little Falls, but yesterday Editor Vassly, the silver candidate, was elected by a good sized majority. Mr. Fuller should have remembered that this is not a republican year.

An exchange describes a situation which is known in every newspaper office when it says that a man doesn't think of the feeling of his mother when he gets into a disgraceful scrape of depravity, but he expects the editor to have the tenderest regard for that mother's feelings and to omit mention of his name in tell the shameful story.

A Jersey City druggist is making a collection of the queer orders he receives from people who send children to the store for things they need. Here are a few samples of them:

A Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

St. Cloud Journal-Fress: There was a hot time in Little Falls last night. There had been an election in the city yesterday and the celebration last night was incidental to the election of Chas. E. Vasaly, the editor of the Little Falls Herald, to the mayoralty. F. A. Lindbergh, the brainy young attorney, was the opposition candidate, and his friends were quite sanguine of his success at the polls. Something happened to their calculations, however, and Vasaly was the choice of the majority of the voters, his majority over Lindbergh being 21. There was no politics in the fight, though Vasaly is a democrat of the free silver variety. Local issues were involved, the result showing that a good many republicans were convinced that Lindbergh was the candidate of the Electric & Water company and that he had the support of the saloons, although personally he is a most clean young man. His firm are attorneys for the Electric & Water company and in this he was unfortunate. Mr. Vasaly is a native Little Falls man and has lived in the city nearly all his life. His personal popularity doubtless had much to do with his success at the polls. The vote stood: Vasaly, 414; Lindbergh, 393.

Give the Children a Drink
 called Grain-O. It is a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it because when properly prepared it tastes like the finest coffee but is free from all its injurious properties. Grain-O aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder and children, as well as adults, can drink it with great benefit. Costs about as much as coffee. 15 and 25c.

A girl describes her first visit to a city in the following rhapsody: "Oh, I had such a perfectly beautiful time. Everything was so converted you know. We stopped at a house where we rode to our rooms in a refrigerator, and our rooms was illustrated with election lights. There was no stove in the room, but one of those legislators in the floor and the heat poured right up through. I did not have any appetite and could not get a thing I could realize. Honestly when I got home I was almost an individual.

GENTLEMEN:
 I desire to testify to the merits of Dr. Booth's German Liniment. One bottle of the liniment has completely cured me of a distressing pain in my chest with which I have been troubled for years. We use it for colds, pains in the stomach, summer complaint and all other aches and pains and take pleasure in recommending its use to all.

Very respectfully yours,

The following good little story is told of a young Lawrence, Kansas doctor who took his best girl to the opera not long since. The curtain was late in rising, and the young lady complained of feeling faint. The doctor smiled sweetly upon her, took something out of his vest pocket and whispered to her to keep "the tablet" in her mouth, but not to swallow it. She shyly placed it on her tongue and rolled it over and over, but it would not dissolve; she felt better, however. So when the show was over she slipped the tablet in her glove, being curious to examine at home this tasteless, indissoluble little substance which had given her so much relief in the opera house. When alone in her room she pulled off her glove and out came a—pant's button
