The Claggett Divorce.

Cloquet Pine Knot: When it was reported here this week that A. N. Claggett, formerly of this place had commenced proceeding in the circuit court for a divorce from his wife, our citizens were shocked and many were incredulous and thought the story without foundation. Unfortunately it is true. Mrs. Claggett is now with her parents at Fairbault and Mr. Claggett is up on the iron range. It is a pleasure to report that, although this unfortunate affair has naturally been talked of, we have yet to hear the first word of disparagement spoken of Mrs. Claggett and every one in our little city expresses the deepest sympathy for her. She is a kind, ladylike woman and the unfortunate position in which she is now placed has increased the regard in which she is held by her many Cloquet friends. We forbear commenting on the position taken by Mr. Claggett, as comment is unnecessary, and we think that in matters of this nature the less said the better for all concerned.

Duluth News-Tribune: Rev. Arthur N. Claggett, late rector of St. Andrew's church, Cloquet, has commenced divorce proceedings against his wife on charge of desertion. Mr. Claggett puts in a claim for the custody of his child, and the case will be tried in the Carlton county circuit court. Mrs. Claggett, who, with her infant child, left for the home of her parents a few months ago, is held in high esteem by all our people, while Mr. Claggett has many warm friends. A feeling of regret is felt and expressed on all sides over this unhappy state of affairs.

Wm. J. Neu, editor of the Forest Leaves, of North Crandon, Wis., and wife, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Kerich, also Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Neu, of California.

John A. Neu and W. J. Neu are nephews of John Kerich. John A. is proprietor of the Kohler & Chase music house at Fresno, Cal., and one of the California commissioners to the Pan-American exposition. W. J. Neu is a prominent resident of Forest county, Wis. J. A. Neu and family will visit at North Crandon, at Madison, and then go to Buffalo.

Edwin Gerdin, of South Dakota, has bought the Home Bakery business in the Vassaly block, from Otto Meyerding. Mr. Gerdin is a experienced baker. Mr. and Mrs. Meyerding left Tuesday for their old home in Johannesburg, South Africa. Mrs. Meyerding's sister remains in this country and will soon be married to a young man from Germany. They will live in South Dakota.

Maple Lake Cor. Buffalo Journal: John Robinson formerly of this place but now of Little Falls, was here last Monday. His friends were glad to see him looking so fine. He often comes down this way but not quite to town; his pleasure in coming is like that of a pilgrim-Saint approaching paradise. John will soon take home a happy bride.

Robert Muske has moved his family to Triumph, Martin Co., where he has engaged in the general merchandise business. He has a building 24x60, two stories high. Triumph is in the midst of a rich farming country, well settled. Mr. Muske's friends will wish him and his family prosperity in the new home.

The demand for city real estate is increasing, and several large deals are in contemplation. A large block of West side lots has recently been sold to local investors, who thus manifest their faith in the city's future.

John McDonald has bought the residence property on Bay Street, consisting of lots 17, 18 and 19, with the house, from the Little Falls Improvement Co. Consideration $450.

Conductor Day expects to move to Brainerd, but has not yet secured a house. The City of the Pines is booming. The people there have waited long, and deserve their luck.

Three logging crews run on the N. P. now. The trains average 45 cars each, and 35 tons of logs are loaded on each car.

Memorial Day Address.

Following is a synopsis of Rev. A. L. Richardson's address given yesterday.

"We are today assembled in the 'City of the Dead' to deck with flowers the graves of men who 'have fought a good fight' and have finished their course."

It is the least service that a grateful nation can perform in memory of the men, who in the greatest crisis the nation ever had, stood in the breach—stood at the gates of death with one hand clasping the hand of God and the other the emblem of our country, from which treason sought to pluck the stars in its field of blue.

This presents a picture to be carried away in perpetual memory. It cannot by the nature of things be repeated many more times. The step that bore these veterans hither to place these garlands was not the firm tread with which forty years ago they went forth bearing the missiles of death.

Some of you will wish to tell your children and your children's children what you see to day, and it will be one of the choicest of fireside stories.

I beg you of the younger generation to ponder well this picture which relentless time with hand upraised, is so soon to erase from the scroll of realities."

Then turning to the younger generation the speaker told in simple language the meaning of the day, of the thrilling events that called the G. A. R. into existence, the notable character of the struggle and its results.

He then closed with a plea for patriotism. "The debt we owe to them we may discharge by fidelity to the principles of our country, for which they fought and died."

Frank Hamlin is in charge of one of the logging trains on the main line.

A. H. Bryan expects to be employed in the big Brooks-Seandon mill being built at Cloquet.

Alfred Burtrum, who died recently in Montana, was the man after whom the village of Burtrum, Todd County, was named.

The series of sermons on the life of Joseph are not only interesting, but full of practical suggestions for every day life. One person remarked last Sunday evening, "I was never so interested in the life of Joseph in my life as now." Next Sunday evening Mr. Carman will endeavor to make the subject worthy the attendance of all who go. In the Baptist church at eight o'clock. Everybody welcome. Services in the morning as usual.

Minneapolis Journal (29): Isham Collins and Mrs. Sarah Collins have been reunited after a separation of nearly forty years. Mr. and Mrs. Collins lived in West Virginia before the war and were divided on the issues. Their difference of opinions led to an estrangement and a divorce was granted. Both came to Minnesota, and through the influence of their son they have been brought together. The second marriage was celebrated in Little Falls, Minn., last Wednesday. Mr. Collins is 78 years of age and his bride 75. They will reside in Little Falls with their son.

F. D. Hall saw several former residents of Morrison county while out West, and heard news of others. Geo. Lee, who has been in Alaska, returned and was working in Seattle, but intended to go to Alaska again. John P. Smith is in Alaska. Mrs. Smith lives in Seattle. Chas. Close is a baggage clerk at one of the docks in Seattle. Len and Len Neill are living in Victoria, where Len is in the dairy business. Jesse Phillips has a valuable piece of land adjacent to the Government naval station at Port Orchard. Uncle Sam is sure to need the land after a while, and Mr. Phillips will get a good price for it. John Gorst's place is across the bay from the Phillips property. Mr. Hall saw N. E. Stanton just before returning. Mr. Stanton is satisfied with his prospects. Mr. Hall remained in the West, and Mr. Hall expects to go there next fall to stay.

Old for New—Trade your old furniture for new at Little Falls Furniture Exchange, First avenue south-east.

Blankets, plush and fur robes lower than the lowest at Krause's. For an A. No. 1 job of painting and paper hanging, go to John Fischbach.

Tickets for the Chicago Symphony Club & Ladies Quartette Entertainment Friday eve. are on sale at Jarboe & Lyman's for 50c—Admission for children 25c, at the door. At the Congregational church.

Mrs. F. X. Goulet received a telegram Sunday night with the distressing news of the sudden death of her mother the night before, at her home at St. Michael, near Quebec, Canada. The deceased was 49 years of age. Mrs. Goulet had received a letter from her mother Sunday noon, saying she was well. Mrs. Goulet will visit her father in Canada later in the year.

A. A. Powers is employed at Fred Germain's barber shop.

Hill City Cor. Grand Rapids Magnet: R. A. Bain went to the Rapids last week and brought home his wife, who came up from Minneapolis, where she has been visiting. She was Miss Edith M. Sandy of Royalton, Minn.

The region east of Pierz is fast settling up, and the "Mille Lacs wilderness" will soon be a thing of the past. The growth of the population in that section, and the need of good markets, will do much to settle the transportation problem there. It won't require much agitation to induce a railroad to go where there's prospect of fair revenue.

C. H. Brown has moved to his new home on First street south.

The sale of the Klapp farm has fallen through. Mr. Rowland not closing the deal.

Andrew Hanson of Gravelville has sold to Owen Price of Blue Earth city his 213-acre farm; for $4500. Frank Heroux made the sale. Mr. Price bought the place as an investment, and Mr. Hanson will stay on the place for a while, and may rent it.

What with rumors of railroads to right and left of Little Falls, some people fear that this city might be left out. It doesn't seem that there could be any danger of that. Little Falls is the greatest freight shipping town in this section. And freight is what the railroads want.

Geo. H. Powers has moved his office to Johnson's restaurant. West side.

Father J. J. Twoby, formerly chaplain at the hospital, is now in Pittsburg, Pa.

The big paper machine at the paper mill cost $48,000, delivered. A rather expensive bit of machinery.

The forthcoming marriage of William Raymond of Raymond & Ebert, and Miss Barbara Schwartz, is announced.

A. K. Hall has bought from H. F. Schlessener the lot, corner Third street and Second avenue northeast, and will build two residences thereon.
