He Stopped Hole-in-the-Day.

The St. Paul Globe contained recently an interesting biographical sketch of En-me-gah-bowh, also known as Rev. John Johnson, the Indian Episcopal minister who died about a year ago. There is a project to erect a monument in honor of this remarkable Indian at White Earth. En-me-gah-bowh helped to save the whites during the troublesome time of 1862. When Rev. Peaks left Gull Lake to seek refuge at Crow Wing, En-me-gah-bowh remained. It was known to him that the chief of the Chippewas, Hole-in-the-Day, had, in conjunction with the Southern Sioux, planned a fearful massacre in the North. This he could not sit idly by and see it come to bloody culmination without endeavoring to save those who had been so kind to him, so he dispatched a messenger to the friendly Mille Lacs Indians urging them to send messengers to defense of Fort Ripley.

The next day Mr. Peaks, in Crow Wing, saw one hundred Indians marching through the village, the American flag at their head, going to the relief at Fort Ripley seven miles distant. All that night En-me-gah-bowh had walked down Gull river dragging a canoe in which were his wife and children on his way to warn the fort in case the Mille Lacs should fall him. From the exposure of that night two of the children died. Through his intervention it is claimed the massacre which promised at one time to be one of the bloodiest in the history of America was averted.

The commissioner of Indian affairs, who was in the fort at the time, was so overpowered by gratitude to En-me-gah-bowh and the Mille Lacs that for some time he could say nothing. He afterwards promised that they should not only be rewarded by the government, but that they should not be removed from their reservation, a matter that was causing great speculation among the red men of Minnesota at that time. Pledges to that effect were made and incorporated in a treaty—only to be shortly after broken like all the other promises made the Indian.

The St. Cloud Presbytery met at Long Prairie last week. Rev. T. F. Clark of this city was present and spoke of "The Value of Education as Recommended by the General Assembly." Mr. Clark was elected moderator.

At the annual meeting of the Minneapolis branch of the Woman's board of Missions of the Interior at Minneapolis last week, Mrs. W. C. A. Waller was elected secretary of Y. P. S. C. work, and Mrs. O. C. Trace was elected one of the conference directors.

Under a new law, the justices of peace of every county are obliged to file a report of each criminal case and the disposition made of it, with the clerk of the court. This must be done within twenty days after the trial, or the neglect becomes a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine.

Long Prairie Leader: Frank B. Simmons, the well known local real estate man, and former owner of the Leader, this week purchased the residence property of A. S. Straus for $3000. He buys it for a home, he says, and will occupy it about June 1st and will rent his present home.

Verndale Sun: Pete Moien, of Little Falls, and late of Nashua, Iowa, was in town over Sunday visiting his old friend, J. M. Ruse, and looking over the country. He was very favorably impressed with this section and in all probability will buy some land and move his family up here.

Exchange: A couple of young ladies at Royalton hired a livery horse to make a drive into the country. The liveryman told them the horse was all right if they kept the rein away from his tail. On their return they were asked by the liveryman if they had any trouble. "Oh, no," said one; "there was one little shower, but we held the umbrellas so that not a drop touched the horse's tail." And that explains the dazed look the liveryman has been wearing the last few days.

Morris Sun: The new passenger train service on the Northern Pacific has proved to be very popular from the first and it is now evident that it fills a want that has existed for a long time. While it proves to be especially convenient for the people residing in the towns between here and Little Falls, a large number from this place are taking advantage of the new service to travel that way when bound for the Cities and other points. The train is a model, the coaches new and comfortable.

Sent to Fergus Falls.

Mrs. Minnie Eddy of Caldron was declared insane in Judge Shaw's court Friday afternoon. Drs. Fortier and Millspaugh were the examiners. Mrs. Eddy's sister, Clara Joseph, is now in the Fergus Falls hospital, and her father, Jacob Sautter, was twice committed to the same place. Mrs. Eddy is not quite twenty years old. She was married about three years ago and deserted by her husband two years ago. Eddy's whereabouts are unknown. Since that Mrs. Eddy has been despondent. She came to this city about two weeks ago, and stayed at the Little Falls House, where she acted queerly, locking herself in her room and refusing food. She also attracted attention in several business houses by her strange actions. Monday evening last week Patrolman Valentine found her wandering near the river. She would not go to any hotel and finally was placed in jail. She was released next day. Wednesday evening she went to St. Gabriel's hospital, where she was cared for and the county authorities notified the next day. The unfortunate young woman was taken to Fergus Falls Saturday by Sheriff and Mrs. Tanner.

Mrs. Eddy had a little pass book her possession in which she had written in addition to a description of herself the following: "Advice—I am poor, homeless without money or work. I will be married three years this coming May, the 7th, but my husband deserted me and left me entirely to take care of myself. I have been trying to make a living as best I could, doing house work since that time, but as my health through sickness failed and I am not able to be on my feet every day. Now do you think that the laws of this state or any other state would allow this. I would live with him if he only tried to make a home for me. I know he is able and would also do all I could to help—Mrs. M. Eddy."

G. Fred Yore and John Graisob were initiated by the Elks at the last meeting.

O. B. Whitford and family of Brainerd, formerly of this city, have moved to Dryad, Wash.

Major I. W. Bonck and wife of Royalton, Minn., will attend the exposition at St. Louis to attend the exposition dedicatory ceremonies.

Winnebago Tribe, I. O. R. M., will give a dance for Redmen and their lady friends only, next Friday evening at Odd Fellow's hall.

Law supplements are sent out with this issue of The Herald. They should be preserved, as most people never get a copy of the laws in book form.

John Welter was again denied a pardon by the state pardon board this week. Welter was sentenced for life in April 1894, for the murder of John Kosanke.

Ole Paulson of Crow Wing has been sent to the Fergus Falls asylum for the insane. Paulson formerly lived in Morrison county, and has been afflicted in the same way before.

Dr. Wm. Reid has located here for the practice of his profession. He has taken rooms in the Rhodes-Tanner block, and will reside with his wife and three children in a house north of the Antlers hotel.

An Electrical Workers Union was organized at St. Cloud Saturday evening, to include workers in that line in St. Cloud, Little Falls, and Brainerd. Ed. Broberg and Chas. Tidd of this city are members.

Joseph Wolf of St. Peter has gone to Indiana and Illinois to see if he can find any clue there of Peter Arndt, Sr. Mr. Joseph Wolf is a brother-in-law of Mr. Arndt, who has relatives and property in those states.

U. S. Epperson of the Kansas City Star was in the city Monday. It is said that the Star, which owns the paper mill of which E. C. Partington has charge, is looking for a pulp mill site where sufficient power and cheap source can be got.

Rev. Robert Forbes, presiding elder of the Northern Minnesota district conference, will in the fall, complete his six years term of office. According to the rules of the Methodist church no elder can continue to hold over the six-year limit.

"The Cricket on the Hearth," a dramatization of Dickens' delightful story, will be given at the opera house tonight by pupils of the High school. The young people have been rehearsing under the very efficient direction of Mrs. C. E. Brown, and a good evening's entertainment may be confidently expected.

PETER ARNDT'S BODY FOUND.

The body of Peter Arndt, Sr., was taken from the Mississippi river early yesterday afternoon near the mouth of Pike Creek, by his son Peter and son-in-law, Joe Rivett. The body had been seen by some boys going over the log sluice in this city and the relatives went down the river on the look out.

The body was brought to the morgue and an inquest held.

The general belief is that Mr. Arndt was coming from the West side and walked onto the old bridge instead of the new and thus fell off the old span still standing.

Federation Committee Organized.

The general committee on preparations for the state federation of labor convention, met at the Commercial club Friday evening, and organized by electing B. G. Bradley chairman and Robt. Carley secretary.

Seven sub-committees were provided for, a member of the general committee to be chairman. The chairmen are: Music—F. E. Hall.

Hall—Wm. Raymond. Entertainment—F. F. Turner.

Lodging—F. A. Nelson. Parade—E. M. Snow.

Decorations—Chas. Sylvester. Reception and Badges—C. Sheldon.

The finance committee, B. G. Bradley, Robt. Carley, E. F. Shaw, was continued.

The committees, excepting the reception committee of eight, and the entertainment committee of five members, will consist of three members.

The general committee met at the city hall Monday evening, and the chairmen who had made committee appointments reported.

Mr. Hall's associates on the music committee are Walter Folsom and A. Simonet.

Carl Bolander and H. Flygare will help F. A. Nelson on the lodging committee.

The committee decided to meet very Monday evening at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock.

It was decided to have no parade, at least in the daytime, and the wishes of the delegates will be ascertained as to having a night parade.

It is planned to have a ball one night, an open meeting on another, with speeches by some of the prominent labor men attending the convention. Something will also be provided for the third evening.

There will be baseball games every afternoon during the convention.

Commission Business Started

T. D. Farnam of Park Rapids and W. R. Jones have formed a partnership under the firm name of Farnam & Jones, which will make a specialty of buying for cash eggs, butter, poultry and general farm produce. The firm has one team on the road now, and will soon have another. They expect to develop a large business. No retail business will be done at present.

The firm has temporary quarters on Kidder street, south of Broadway, but will secure larger room.

The enterprise is a good one, and should be successful. Mr. Farnam will move his family here from Park Rapids.

Mrs. Margaret Taylor, widow of the late Jonathan Taylor of Fallbrook, Cal., is in a bad condition of health. Mrs. Taylor has been here for a few weeks looking after her late husband's affairs and has worried considerably. Her brother-in-law, Mr. Munger of Dayton, O., is expected to arrive this morning. It is thought Mrs. Taylor will soon recover.

St. Cloud Journal-Press (30): A report is in circulation about the city that a former county officer and later a state senator from a neighboring county, but who moved to Southern California some time ago, committed suicide in that state. No credence is given the report by his friends in St. Cloud.

The Minot (N. D.) Reporter of Thursday last week contains a description of the Leland department store, owned by Turner & Dahle. B. G. Turner, the senior member of the firm, was for many years in business in Little Falls. The store is the largest of its kind in western North Dakota.

The board of county commissioners meet today in special session to approve a new bond for the county treasurer and transact other business. The attorney-general disapproved the bond owing to a technical defect.

Miss Rose Trettel, a sister of D. Trettel, and Martin Wiener, were married at North Prairie this week.

The Minnesota Mill Co. has incorporated. The capital stock is fixed at $100,000. Charles J. Cawley of Pipestone, and F. E. and John Cawley of this city, are the incorporators, with F. E. Cawley president, C. J. Cawley vice president and J. H. Cawley, secretary and treasurer.

J. A. Foss was rather painfully injured Saturday morning while hitching his horse to a buggy. The horse ran away. Mrs. Foss, who was standing near, was thrown down but not hurt. The horse threw Mr. Foss against the telephone pole, badly cutting and bruising his face and nose, while one of the thills of the buggy penetrated the fore shoulder of the horse.

In district court at St. Cloud this week, verdict for plaintiff was rendered by order of the judge in the case of Gus Kern of Royalton as administrator, vs. L. W. Gerzema and C. H. Cooper. An 80-acre tract on the East side, St. Cloud, is involved. Kern had given a contract as heir of his wife for the sale of the land but afterwards sued as administrator. The case will be appealed to the supreme court. A. P. Blanchard and Geo. H. Niles appeared for plaintiff and Stewart & Brower for defendant.

It costs no more to own a home, and pay for it in small monthly payments, and soon have it free and clear of incumbrance, than it does to rent. For further particulars see Stephen C. Vasaly

Married.

George H. Patterson and Mrs. Viola Eggleston were married Tuesday, April 29th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Thorpe, Hubert Lake, Minn., by Rev. A. A. Carver, of the Presbyterian church of Brainerd. The news of the wedding was somewhat of a surprise to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson. Mr. Patterson is the well known car inspector for the Northern Pacific at this place. He enjoys the merited esteem of all who know him.

Mrs. Patterson has been teaching music in this city, and is universally liked and respected. We join numerous friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Patterson unceasing happiness and prosperity.

Albert L. Brunella, formerly of this city, and Laura L. Gervais, were married at Red Lake Falls Monday.
