Attention Farmers. Why remain in the North and stay in doors six months in the year consuming what you raise the other six months? Go South where you can work out doors every month in the year, and where you are producing something the year round. If you are a stock raiser you know your stock are now "eating their heads off" and besides, have to be protected from the rigors of winter by expensive shelter. Economical stock feeding requires the combination of both flesh-forming and fat-forming foods in certain proportions. Alabama and Florida produce in abundance the velvet bean and cassava, the first a flesh producer, and the latter a fat producer, and they are the cheapest and best fattening materials known to the world. More money can be made and with less labor, in general farming, fruit and berry growing, and truck gardening along our road in the South than in any other section in the Union. If you are interested and desire further information on the subject, address G. A. PARK, Gen'l Immigration and Ladus-Agent, Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co., Louisville, Ky.

NEWS IN MINNESOTA

EVENTS OF THE WEEK THROUGHOUT THE STATE. Governor Van Sant has fixed Friday, April 29, as Arbor day. William T. Donaldson, aged seventy-nine, a pioneer resident of St. Paul, is dead. Twenty-nine deaths from typhoid fever occurred in Minneapolis during March. James B. Gilman, a resident of Minneapolis since 1854, is dead, aged seventy-three years. Colonel Montfort, president of the Windsor Hotel company, St. Paul, is dead after ten days' illness. Charles Fancher, the "one man band," blew out his brains with a shotgun at Lake City while despondent from illness. According to the census bureau the population of Minneapolis at the end of 1903 was 214,112, of St. Paul 172,038 and of Duluth 57,397. The four-year-old daughter of John Hardwood, a farmer residing near Spring Valley, was burned to death while playing with companions at a bonfire. The safe in the meat market of Ernest Young at Minneapolis was blown open by burglars, who entered the building by cutting out a window. They secured $150. More than 200 lawyers from all parts of the state were present at the opening session of the supreme court. The calendar was called and the 207 cases were set for argument. Professor Frederick E. Beckman, who for several years has been in charge of the Spanish department at the state university, has handed in his resignation to the faculty. Members of the bench and bar of Minnesota held a banquet in Minneapolis last week. E. C. Springer of St. Paul was elected president of the state association for the ensuing year. Water in the Crow Wing river along the northern boundary of Morrison county is ten feet above low water stage. Seven bridges at Pillager, Sylvan, Motley and Staples have gone out. Active work has been started on the improvements being made at Fort Snelling. Nearly 150 men are now employed and the contractors will increase the number as the weather improves. Governor Van Sant has been petitioned by the old settlers of the state to use his influence in having certain settlements applicable to the old settlers and their deeds engraved on some conspicuous part of the new state capitol. As a result of a fight over a woman in a room in the rear of C. W. Swan's saloon, St. Paul, three men were out, one probably fatally, by John Strong, a colored porter, who is accused of starting the trouble by insulting the woman. J. C. Jorgenson of Forest City, Ia., who passed through Minneapolis last week on his way to buy a farm near Lisbon, N. D., reported to the police that he had been robbed of $1,100 by pickpockets while in the act of stepping aboard a train at the Union depot. William G. Masters of Mankato, who was appointed to a position in the postal service in the Philippines on the recommendation of Representative McCleary, has been promoted to be assistant director of posts for the entire archipelago at a salary of $3,500 a year. In a fight on the University campus at Minneapolis between the members of the Shakopean Literary society and four rival organizations D. C. Dow, a leader of the Shakopeans, was stabbed by one of the members of the other associations. The knife wound is not dangerous. A big opening of agricultural lands on Minnesota Indian reservations will occur within sixty days. All lands classed as agricultural on the Leech Lake, White Oak Point and Winnibigoshish reservations will be thrown open to settlement in one proclamation, which is now being prepared. The state normal board, by unanimous vote, elected Professor Guy E. Maxwell, who for the past four years has been superintendent of the training department of the Winona normal school, to be president of that institution to succeed Dr. J. F. Millsaugh, who has resigned to become the president of the Los Angeles (Cal.) normal school. State Auditor S. G. Iverson, through the state legal department, plans to bring prosecutions against some of the lumbermen in the northern part of the state for trespassing on state lands. Attorney General W. J. Donahower is investigating several cases in Itasca county, and if there is sufficient evidence criminal actions will be commenced. Miss Alix Mueller, formerly a St. Paul newspaper woman, a fluent writer and the author of a book in which was embodied the histories of the police departments of Minneapolis and St. Paul, died in Oklahoma Friday. Miss Mueller was largely instrumental in securing the pardon of the younger brothers and would have, it is said, married Jim had the law not interfered. The state supreme court has handed down its decision in the so called Russell Sage land cases, involving title to some 25,000 acres of valuable agricultural lands in Southern Minnesota. The test case is decided in favor of the settler and against Sage, the trustee of the Hastings and Dakota Railway company. It is said the decision will result in the homesteaders in the disputed tract winning back their homes. The biggest will contest ever begun in St. Paul has been instituted in the Ramsey county probate court. Dr. T. E. W. V. Appleby, who was left an annuity of $10,000 a year by his wife, Cornelia Day Wilder Appleby, who died last year, gave notice of dissent to the character of securities set aside by the executor to secure him the annuity. This throws into court the Wilder will which provides for the distribution of nearly $3,000,000 and endangers the great Wilder charity, by which nearly $2,000,000 was set aside to be distributed among the worthy poor.

"Unknown."

The body of an unidentified soldier, who fell in battle, was among the arms and baggage found at the Philippines by the transport Sumner. After the fight was over they found his hat and dead. Where all the bamboo thicket was splashed and stained with red. No name was placed on the call. Not one among them knew the slender, boyish figure, arrayed in army blue. Among our fallen soldiers they brought him over the deep. And with the nation's heroes they laid him down to sleep; A starry flag above him, And on the simple stone That marked the final blow, The single word "Unknown." Perchance a mother watches, Her eyes with weeping dim, Or sweetheart waits the postman To wait for news of him. While snow of winter freezes, And April violets throng, Sweet blossoms through the grasses Above his nameless dust. But when the last great trumpet Shall sound the reveille, And all the blue battalions March up from land and sea, He shall awake to glory Who sleeps unknown to me. And with Columbia's bravest Will answer to his name, —Minna Irving in Leslie's Weekly. He, Too, Had a Title for a Sermon. There is a well-known divine up in the oil country who is given to the sensational in sermons once in a while. This is especially true of the titles, which he announces in advance, so as to work up interest. He is a Baptist, and on one occasion gave it out that the subject for the following Sunday would be "Sitting Mary." This rather aroused curiosity, and so a newspaper man who had to get up the sermons went to a noted Presbyterian divine, who is also something of a wag. The reporter told him the subject the Baptist was to hold forth on and then asked what his title would be. Quick as a flash the minister said: "Standing Pat."—Pittsburg Despatch.
