ECHO OF A SONG.

To my fancy, idly roaming, comes a picture of the gloaming,
Comes a fragrance from the blossoms of the lilac and the rose;
With the yellow lamplight streaming I am sitting here and dreaming
Of a half-forgotten twilight whence a mellow memory flows;
To my listening ears come winging vagrant notes of woman's singing;
I've a sense of sweet contentment as the sounds are born along;
'Tis a mother who is tuning her fond heart to love and crooning
To her liddle such a Sleepy little, Creepy little Song.
Ah, how well do I remember when by crackling spark and ember
The old-fashioned open rocker moved with rhythmic sweep and slow;
With her feet upon the fender, in cadence low and tender,
Floated forth that slumber anthem of a childhood long ago.
There were goblins in the gloaming and the half-closed eyes went roaming
Through the twilight for the ghostly shapes of bugaboos along;
Now the sandman's slyly creeping and a tired lad half sleeping
When she sings to him that Sleepy little, Creepy little Song.
So I'm sitting here and dreaming with the mellow lamplight streaming
Through the vine-embowed window in yellow fillagree;
On the fragrant air come winging vagrant notes of woman's singing; 'Tis the slumber song of childhood that is murmuring to me.
And some subtle fancy creeping lulls my senses half to sleeping
As the misty shapes of bugaboos go dreamily along,
All my sorrow disappearing, as a tired lad I'm hearing
Once again my mother's Sleepy little, Creepy little Song.

WANTS TO JOIN SIXTH
Beltrami County Prefers Belonging to This District.

Beltrami county is in the wrong congressional district, says the Bemidji Pioneer. At least this seems to be the conviction of a number of prominent people in Bemidji, who do not disguise the fact that they believe the county's interests could be better served in Congressman Buckman's bailiwick, the Sixth, and who will make an effort to have the county placed in the new Sixth district at the next session of the state legislature.
Just what reason there was for placing Beltrami county in the Ninth district under the last re-apportionment no one seems to be prepared to state. Little thought was given the matter at the time, but recently it has been given some consideration and it has been decided that Beltrami county ought to be in the Sixth.
Of the twelve counties in the Ninth Beltrami is the only timber county. All the other counties are in a prairie county and local needs in the way of legislation are apt to be overlooked by a congressman who has a district whose needs are so diversified. Drainage is something that would be of vast benefit to many sections of Beltrami county, but the problem of securing it when government money for the same purpose is in demand in the older counties to the east is not a small one. Beltrami's recognition in the Ninth can be small to say the least for some years to come. Now in the Sixth they would be different. It is said that if the county were in the Sixth this year it might be in a position to name the next congressman and there are many shoulders in this vicinity broad enough to wear a congressional toga. The interests of the counties making up the Sixth so far as congressional legislation are concerned are identical with those of Beltrami county and there is unquestionably strong sentiment in this city favoring the change.
Already the rotation of the congressional honor is being figured out in the Sixth. It will be Buckman this term and Ripley Brower, of St. Cloud, in two years more so they say and after that if Beltrami county were in the Sixth there might be a chance for the right kind of home talent from this county. Anyhow, the proposition of a change is interesting and its merits might bear closer investigation.

Nashua (Ia.) Reporter: We are sorry to learn that J. W. Scoles is very sick and there are small hopes of his recovery. Mr. Scoles, who has been living at Little Falls, Minn., for some time past, came back to Nashua a few weeks ago that he might receive medical treatment from Dr. L. H. Goodale, his former family physician. Upon examination it was learned that he is suffering from a cancer of the stomach, and Dr. Goodale could give him no encouragement.

BOSTON ENCAMPMENT
G. A. R. MEMBERS WILL ENJOY CHEAP RATES.

S. J. Bryant, commander of Workman Post, No. 81, G. A. R., of Little Falls, has received instructions from the department commander for the state concerning the rates to the annual encampment at Boston which is to be held the week of August 15th and is expected to be the most successful encampment in many years.
Luverne, Minnesota, July 19, 1904.
For the benefit of Comrades and friends of the Grand Army of the Republic the Department Commander has secured the low rate of $25.75 from the Twin Cities for the round trip to the National Encampment to be held in Boston during the week of August 15th. This official headquarters train will leave Minneapolis Saturday, August 13 at 9 a. m. and St. Paul at 9:35. The train will be made up of Pullman Standard and Tourist cars and go through to Boston without change, via the Chicago and Northwestern, Michigan Central, New York Central and Boston and Albany roads. At Niagara Falls a stop of three hours will be made Sunday afternoon. The train is scheduled to reach Boston at 7 a. m. Monday morning, August 16. The grand parade will take place Tuesday, August 16.
Berths on the Standard sleepers are $7.50 and on the Tourist sleeper $3.75. Each berth will accommodate two persons if desired, making the expense one-half. All desiring to accompany this special headquarters train can secure their berths by applying to Comrade Orton S. Clark, Assistant General G. A. R. Department Headquarters, 514 Boston Block, with the required amount, and berths will be reserved for them.
Yours Truly,
HARRISON WHITE,
Department Commander Minnesota G. A. R.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS
Grain Memorandum Not Sufficient--Receipts Necessary.

The noted case of Henry Cramer of Clara City, Minn., against the Northwestern Elevator company of Minneapolis has been decided in favor of the defendant. There is involved in this case a question of vital interest to the grain trade and to every northwestern farmer—the right of a country elevator manager to issue receipts for grain in form other than that prescribed by statute and the regulations of the railroad and warehouse commission, and the binding power of such receipts of memoranda upon the elevator company, says the Starbuck Times.
The case was bitterly fought in June, 1901, was lost by the defendant, went before the Minnesota supreme court, was sent back for retrial, and came up again last month at Granite Falls. Fifteen or more rough slips bearing memoranda in numbers and signed by J. Keeley, agent of the Northwestern Elevator company, but without date or other marks of definiteness, made up the principal exhibit. The court decided that such receipts are not binding upon the elevator company and are not collectable.
In the case in question the elevator company was able to show that there was no record on their books that they had ever received the grain and that their agent had never notified the Minneapolis office of any such receipts. The first knowledge of it came with the presentation of the slips in question, which, the farmers claimed, were issued to them by Keeley for grain taken in.
With this decision in mind farmers and country elevator men will need for greater caution hereafter. Although the state has prescribed the form of receipts to be issued, it has been the custom to disregard this in many instances.
The news that these memoranda are worthless in law, in the event of an error or dispute arising, will surprise many farmers who have taken them without question.
Charles A. Magnuson, president of the Northwestern Elevator company, says: From this case it must not be inferred that there is any disposition on the part of any elevator company not to pay for grain delivered but the companies do not wish to pay for it twice. If a farmer accepts for his load of grain a slip of anything except the regular authorized warehouse receipt, the elevator companies do not feel it incumbent upon them to pay for such slips, as their agents have instructions to issue for all grain received into their elevators a regular warehouse receipt such as it is prescribed by law.

Here's a farmer's receipt for riding the premises of rats and mice, says an exchange. If you sprinkle sulphur on the barn floor and through your corn as you gather it there will not be a rat to bother. I have some old corn in a crib and not a rat or mouse can be found. In stacking hay and oats sprinkle a little on the ground and through each load, and take my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large crib of corn and it is good for stock and will not hurt the corn for bread.

The Allis-Chalmers company, of which B. F. Warren, president of the Little Falls Water Power Co., is head, has become a rival of the General Electric and Westinghouse companies in the electrical field. Mr. Warren's company has just secured the biggest contract ever made to furnish power. They will furnish an equipment of 100,000 horse power to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. and allied concerns.

Under the rules of the postoffice department carriers on rural routes can not solicit business. Some of the local carriers appear to have revised the rules.
