

TO SUPPORT RELATIVES

A State Law That Enforces Certain Obligations.

There is a law in Minnesota that, if enforced, would compel a son to support his father and a brother to do the same for brother, but for some reason the statute has never been enforced, says the Minneapolis Journal. There are a dozen or more aged and decrepit men at the county poor farm, who have sons and brothers able to care for them. The possibility of forcing support in some of these cases is being considered by the Humane society and some well-to-do persons may be brought in to court to show why they are not supporting their near relatives as the law requires.

In the last two weeks Superintendent W. H. Burton of the poor department says about dozen aged men and women appealed to him for help, saying that their children had refused them shelter. One man applied for aid this morning and said that he had three daughters and two sons, all making good money, who could give him a home at a nominal expense. He is nearly eighty and unable to work. He was not committed to the poor farm as he asked to be, but will be aided in a small way until the Humane society finds out what can be done. Other cases some worse than this are being looked into. One especially, the case of an old man whose wealthy relatives refused to support him. He is now an inmate at the poor farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Moe, of Ashland, Wis., former residents of this place, recently returned from a summer trip to their old home in Norway, from which Mr. Moe had been absent sixteen years and Mrs. Moe nineteen. They were in Little Falls for several days on a visit, and to get their children, who have been staying at the Thoen home in Buckman. Mr. and Mrs. Moe had a very delightful trip, visiting at Christians and many other places. Their parents are still living in the old country.

BRAIN-WORKING TEMPERATURE

After long experience Sir Benjamin Richardson found that 64 degrees Fahrenheit is the best temperature in which to conduct mental labor. Below this the mind becomes drowsy and above it there is a relaxed state of body and mind which leads to exhaustion. In any event the sure barometer of a man's health is a bottle of golden grain belt beer. It registers the nervous pressure always normal and keeps the bodily functions at their proper level. No home is complete without a case of these barometers. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by S. P. Casey, Little Falls.

DEATH OF JOSEPH HOLE-IN-THE-DAY WOODBURY.

White Earth Tomahawk: After a long illness, caused by tubercular troubles, Joseph Hole-in-the-day Woodbury died last Saturday evening. Mr. Woodbury was the youngest son of the late celebrated Chippewa chief, Hole-in-the-day, and was thirty-six years of age. His mother was a Washington girl whom the chief married in 1876, when he was at Washington making the treaty which established this reservation. When Joseph Woodbury was about six months old his father was assassinated by some Bear Island Chippewas near the old Chippewa agency in Crow Wing county. After the assassination of her husband Mrs. Hole-in-the-day removed to Minneapolis where she afterwards got married. Before her marriage, however, Joseph was adopted by a man named Woodbury, by whom he was raised. During the late war between Spain and the United States Joe joined the 15th Minnesota regiment, but his wish to get into a battle was not gratified. Until last winter Joseph was in the employ of the United States as issue clerk of the Pine Ridge Agency, S. D. He married Miss Edith Smith, a very estimable and highly educated young lady of the Tuscarora tribe of New York, who was also employed by the government as a teacher in the Pine Ridge Indian school. Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury have one child, Joseph Jr., who is four months old. Mrs. Woodbury has made many friends here who sympathize deeply with her in her affliction.

BURTON JURY DISAGREES

THE PRAIRIE CHICKEN CASE NOT YET SETTLED.

The somewhat notorious case of the state vs. Barney Burton, charged by Deputy Game Warden Sam Trebby with shooting two prairie chickens on August 28th, came up before a jury in Justice Sheldon's court Thursday last week. County Attorney Lindbergh appeared for the prosecution, and A. P. Blanchard for the defendant.

Following was the jury: H. C. McMaisters, Phil. Arendt, W. H. Ryan, L. E. Richard, A. Germain, M. Bryant, F. P. Farrow, Peter Lauerman, Paul Hopka, H. A. Bribio, H. Hyson, True Doten. After being out from about 6 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., the jury reported that it could not agree, and was discharged. It stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal.

Game Warden Trebby produced, besides himself, three witnesses, Oscar Oleson, Leslie and Otto Burke. Three last named said they saw Mr. Burton and Hub Friesinger drive into the field.

Leslie Burke said he saw Burton and the dogs go into the field and saw chickens rise. Saw Burton shoot and go toward the point he was shooting at, but did not see him pick up any chickens. Saw no crows in the field, but saw chickens.

Otto Burke saw from a load of grain Burton shoot, but did not see the chickens till later. Didn't see any crows.

Oscar Olson saw chickens in the field, but no crows. Was on the ground pitching, and heard the shooting. Didn't know whether any chickens were killed.

The game warden said he saw Burton with a dog and gun, and had told him to take the gun home, warning him. When Burton saw him later he tried to escape.

Mr. Burton testified that he knew Trebby was around, and that he was trying to fool the warden, shooting at the crows, and not at any chickens. Mr. Burton commended Trebby's selection as warden when it was made, and was only, according to his testimony, trying to play a joke on the warden.

Hub Friesinger practically corroborated Burton, but sent the spectators into roars of laughter at one time by remarking that a certain action was done "after we shot the chickens," and also "when we picked up the chickens." He said he meant to say crows.

The case will come again tomorrow.

Attention Farmers.

Why remain in the North and stay in doors six months in the year consuming what you raise the other six months? Go South where you can work out doors every month in the year, and where you are producing something the year round. If you are a stock raiser you know your stock are now "eating their heads off" and besides, have to be protected from the rigors of winter by expensive shelter.

Economical stock feeding requires the combination of both feed-forming and fat-forming foods in certain proportions. Alabama and Florida produce in abundance the velvet bean and cassava, the first a fat producer, and the latter a fat producer, and they are the cheapest and best fattening materials known to the world. More money can be made and with less labor in general farming, fruit and berry growing, and truck gardening along our road in the South than in any other section in the Union.
