JULY 6.

Lind ran for a second term in a presidential year. Makes some difference. This is not a presidential year.

The Brainerd Tribune thinks more of A. L. Cole than it did a few years ago. The label is different—hardly the contents.

John Stone Pardee, editorial writer on the St. Paul News, was married to Miss Laura Peohan of River Falls June 3rd. Fortunate lady.

While most of the great republican papers of the country speak well of Bryan, the Pioneer Press can't find anything good to say about him. Another proof that Bryan is all right.

News and Comments in the Duluth News-Tribune throws a soap suds fit over Cole's modesty in not saying he was an old soldier. It wasn't modesty, Mary dear. He never wore the blue.

A London doctor says that a glass of warm milk with some rum in it will cure dyspeptic attacks. There is likely to be an increased demand for crows with this new excuse for taking a drink.

The Princeton Union says that it is common talk in Mankato that Eberhardt, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, supported Johnson two years ago. That's about the best thing yet said of him.

C. S. Benson has withdrawn from the contest for the republican congressional nomination, and leaves the field to Lindbergh and Buckman. Under the circumstances, Benson would have been a small factor.

The Litchfield News-Ledger says the rank and file of the republican voters in this district want the tariff revised. No republican congressman can do anything to revise the tariff so long as the standpatters of the East control.

It is a curious coincidence that while the Armours were being denounced by Mr. Roosevelt and prosecuted for their crimes in Kansas City, Mr. Longworth, the President's new son-in-law, was the guest of Allison V. Armour on his yacht at Kiel, Germany.

The Minneapolis Tribune strongly condemns the action of congress in adding $30,000,000 to the cost of the Panama canal by forbidding the use of any American material in its construction. It says that it is nearly certain none but American material would have been used anyway, but if the market had been left open the American trusts would have sold the material at the same price they sell to foreign buyers, it having been proved that the steel and other trusts sell abroad at about 30 per cent less than they do here. But undoubtedly the Tribune, Dispatch, Pioneer Press and Journal, though condemning this action, will still support the congressmen who voted for it.

COLE HELPING BUCKMAN.
 Minneapolis Tribune 27: "The anti-Buckman fight in the Sixth district does not look as formidable as it did a short time ago. Charles A. Lindbergh, of Little Falls, is covering the district in the interests of his candidacy, but the Buckman machine is being strengthened. The nomination of A. L. Cole for governor is supposed to have been of considerable value to Buckman, as it is generally believed that a Cole-Buckman alliance of some importance had been formed."

THE VOTE ON GOVERNOR FOR TEN YEARS.

Crookston Times, Rep.: If republican success is to be achieved this year it must be first through a thorough appreciation of the conditions. To this end a glance at the vote for governor in years past will show us something of the magnitude of the contest which the party has on its hands.

For this purpose it will be sufficient to go back to the year 1886 and the vote every year since that time has been as follows, the prohibition and socialist vote being neglected:

McGill	107,064	2,600
Lind	104,464	1888
Merriam	194,455	24,104
Wilson	110,251	1890
Merriam	89,111
Wilson-Owen	144,857	56,246
	1892
Nelson	109,230
Lawler-Donnelly	134,462	25,240
	1894
Nelson	147,943	6,469
Becker-Owen	141,474
	1896
Clough	165,806	3,552
Lind	162,354
	1898
Eustis	111,796
Lind	181,980	20,284
	1900
Van Sant	152,905	2,254
Lind	150,651
	1902
Van Sant	155,849	56,487
Kosting	99,862
	1904

Dunn 140,190
 Johnson 147,992 - 7,862
 Here we have the last ten elections in Minnesota set forth. The republicans were successful in eight of these, but in four they were out-voted by the democratic-populist opposition. Only twice have the republicans succeeded in rolling up a "large" majority—1888 when Merriam had 24,104 plurality and in 1902 when Van Sant with his agitation against the merger had 56,487. Both of these elections were in presidential years. The largest plurality obtained by a republican in any year was that of Nelson—6,469 in 1894.

These figures show us that we have no "big majority" to depend upon. We have every reason to believe that Johnson will run as well as Lind in 1896 when he was beaten by 3,552, or in 1900 when he was beaten by 3,254 votes. In other words the republican party has an advantage of some 3,000 votes at the beginning of the campaign.

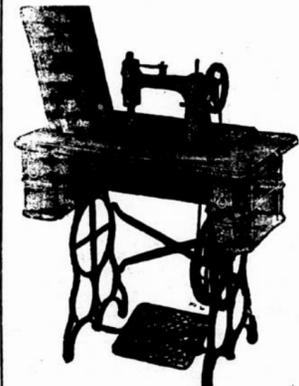

Such an advantage is hardly sufficient to warrant our thinking that no work needs to be done.
 It should also be remembered that there is a general belief that Ames was counted out in 1886, and that he was really elected. And in 1900 over 100,000 voters voted for both Lind and Lucas when it was clear they wished to vote for Lind alone. All will remember the misleading form of the ballot that year. Lind was a truly re-elected governor as Van Sant in 1902.

JOHN GREISCH INJURED.
 At about 11 o'clock Wednesday evening an accident occurred at the Hennepin paper mill, by which Jack Greisch and Fred Shubring were injured, the former quite badly.
 A cannon made from a bored out shafting had been used several times. It was loaded and Mr. Greisch was tamping with a steel rod the charge, which suddenly exploded, blowing the rod into a two by four beam overhead, narrowly missing Mr. Greisch's head. His left hand was badly burned and lacerated, the arm and the face burned with powder. He was taken to the hospital and Dr. Fortier attended. Mr. Greisch is doing well, and is expected to be out in a week. He will not suffer any loss of hand or eye.
 Mr. Shubring was blown off the table where he was sitting, considerably bruised, his face somewhat burned by powder, but otherwise was unharmed.

Cooper's Medicines in Great Demand

The remarkable demand for the New Discovery medicines for the past few weeks has created a sensation in the South, the like of which has never been known. His remedies are well known in this section of the country, and the famous cures which they have effected in St. Louis, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other large cities of the central western states are well remembered. The retail druggists say they have never known any medicine for which there was such a constant demand and the continued reports of marvelous cures that are being published everywhere are a topic of universal interest.

The newspapers of New Orleans are still printing interviews with those who have been cured, most extraordinary and as this is the last week of Cooper's visit draws to a close, the excitement seems to have increased rather than abated.

One case in particular that has attracted special attention during the past few days is that of Mr. Leon Labusquiere, 1014 Burgundy St. New Orleans, who had been sick for fifteen years and had doctored for various diseases without result. There was a bright twinkle in the man's eye and a radiant smile on his face as he greeted his interviewer the other day, which seemed to bespeak anything but poor health. "I shall be pleased to state my experience," he said, in answer to a request, "for my case has been a most remarkable one, and I am glad of the opportunity to tell the public what these wonderful medicines have done for me. My suffering for the past fifteen years has been more than I can describe, for during all that time I have seldom had a well day. My appetite was very irregular. Sometimes I could not get enough to eat and at other times the very sight of food would make me sick. I suffered greatly from constipation. I did not seem to get any strength from what I ate, was always tired, and the slightest exertion would wear me out completely. It was a great effort for me to attend to my duties. I was very nervous and at night I could not rest well. I would wake up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed. There were few days that I did not have a dreadful headache and times would have queer dizzy spells. I thought for a time that I had Catarrh and doctored for it, but without relief. Nothing I could do seemed to benefit me, and when I began to hear of the wonderful success Cooper was having with his medicines in the treatment of cases similar to mine, I began using his medicines. After I had taken his New Discovery medicine only a few days a horrible tapeworm of enormous size passed through my system and then I knew what had been causing me all this trouble. From that time I improved rapidly and now feel well and strong again. I will gladly give any information I can to any one who is suffering as I was."

The sale of Cooper's medicine in Little Falls has been phenomenal and at The Pioneer drug store, where the Remedies are sold in this city it is said that some very remarkable cures have been reported right here at home.

"SHE LAUGHS LONGEST—" "WHO LAUGHS LAST."

(1) She—Mrs. Rivell has gone and bought that lovely duck of a bonnet marked 25 cs. in Staggerem's I showed you last week. Boo-oo!

(2) She—Oh, is that how you take it, you selfish brute! I shall just go and order that other one I saw marked 28 cs. to get even with you both.

THE LATEST IN BELTS.

Belts are important adjuncts to the wardrobe of the modish woman and this season this is especially true, for the skill, thought and fine work that have been expended upon the latest productions at home and abroad have resulted in the most attractive collection that has yet been exhibited. The variety of these new belts is particularly noticeable, making them available for all styles of dress and all occasions. There are plain belts and elaborate belts, leather, silk, ribbon, velvet, tinsel, braid, linen and feather belts, with buckles or other fastenings to correspond. Belt buckles are as elaborate in some instances as the finest products of the jeweler, and as a matter of fact the handsomer ones rank with jewelry and are displayed in all their glory and beauty in adjoining cases to watches, rings and stick pins.

The distinctive feature of the belts of to-day is their suitability. For the trim, severe tailored costume there is a belt to match of leather or fabric with a simple buckle. For the dressier tailored frock there is a more ornate belt and buckle and so on to the beautiful designs that harmonize with the daintiest of materials and most elaborate of suits or separate waists. In a class by themselves are the girdles of flowered ribbon or silk which frequently provide the only note of color or trimming for a simple evening or party gown of sheer material. Girdles in self or contrasting colors and fabrics are in evidence on many of the prettiest imported frocks and they are destined for considerable vogue this fall and winter.

A belt novelty is one made from feathers, pheasant plumage being utilized. A belt like this costs $17. Japanese carved leather is another type of the high priced belt, although Japanese belts in certain designs also figure on the inexpensive lists. One such belt is of white leather of fine quality and very supple and the decorative motif is of apple blossoms and forget-me-nots in natural hues. The buckle is a plain gilt one.

Another leather belt on the order of broderie Anglaise, so popular during the past summer, is still in evidence in sheer and heavier fabrics. This style of belt looks exceedingly well over color. The monogram had never quite disappears, although it is not so prevalent as it has been. Belts now serve as the preferred medium for the display of one's initials, and buckles ornamented with single letters or entwined initials are among the new models. A handsome design is of dark red leather with a sprinkling of gold dots and gilt monogram buckle.

Metallic effects are not confined to dress trimmings, as the new elastic belts, closely studded with jet, steel, gilt and gun metal beads prove. White silk elastic webbing with design in steel is the material used for elaborate models and a belt of this sort costs ten dollars.

Russian calfskin termed yetta is another novelty belting, the buckles usually being gilt, and then there is the variety of Japanese leather belts in peacock and oriental coloring. Braided leather makes a serviceable belt and with the buckle fancifully trimmed with leather an attractive one as well. It is merely a question of selection so far as belts are concerned, and one may be suited with a simple belt which does not cost much or one may expend many dollars upon the purchase.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A tablespoonful of sugar to the stove blacking will add a very material luster to the stove.

When boiling a cracked egg put a teaspoonful of salt into the water and you will find it cooks without any of the white part leaving the shell.

Gor gasoline washing soak the garment in a vessel for half an hour, covering it closely. In spots the garment may need scrubbing. Rinse it in fresh gasoline and hang out to dry.

The accumulation of dust can be prevented to a great extent by putting two small pieces of cork at the bottom of the picture frame, thus holding the frame slightly out from the wall.

Lace or muslin curtains if hung out in a stiff breeze will often look as nice as new when pressed with a warm iron, and it saves laundering them till next spring.

Physicians are advocating the use of pure olive oil for weak lungs. It bids fair to take the place of cod liver oil. Olives, as a food, are considered very strengthening for those with lung troubles.

Sponge off the leaves of a rubber plant with milk, it makes them glossy and bright. A very good tonic for the rubber plant is to dig a circle around its roots and put in a tablespoonful of castor oil once a month.
