BARNEY BURTON

LITTLE FALLS, MINNESOTA.

SATTERLEE WAS POPULAR IN CROOKSTON.

Crookston Times, 15: "The esteem and respect in which Rev. Geo. E. Satterlee is held by Crookston people was shown by the large congregation which thronged the Methodist church last evening to listen to his farewell address. For the past five years he has been the pastor of the Methodist church in this city and it is safe to say that there has never been a more popular preacher in the city than Rev. Satterlee and the town will feel a heavy loss in losing him. That he was popular with the church goes outside his own denomination was shown by the fact that the other American protestant churches of the city gave up their evening service and joined with the Methodists in a union service last evening."

Rev. Satterlee was fully as popular during his incumbency of the pastorate in this city, and the above is taken as a matter of course by his many friends.

BIG CELEBRATION OF THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL TAKE PLACE NOV. 18.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: The Knights of Columbus held a meeting last evening and decided to postpone their initiation work till Nov. 18. The reason given is that fifteen Little Falls people are to join and it will be impossible for them to come Nov. 4th. At the meeting last evening all arrangements for the event were completed. A large number of members are expected to come up from Minneapolis besides a large delegation from Little Falls. The first degree work will be given in the morning and the second and third degrees in the afternoon. It is expected that about forty candidates will be initiated.

IMPROVE ELEVATOR.
The Northwestern Milling Co. have recently made some improvements in their West side elevator which adds much to its serviceability. A 5-horse power electric motor has been installed to operate the machinery and new bins have been constructed for the handling of course grains. An automatic wheat scale has also been installed, which receives weights and registers the weight of a large amount of grain at once.

R. H. Sliter started on Monday for Omaha, Neb., as a delegate to the Brotherhood convention, but only got as far as Little Falls, as important business called him home.—Grey Eagle Gazette, 11.

William Dean Howells has declared himself in favor of shortening all words in the English language which will admit of such abbreviation without changing their sound. He is said to advocate also the abolition of capital letters. Mr. Howells, we believe, would quickly reverse his opinion were he to run across in a newspaper a sentence commencing as hereunder with the commas omitted: "William dean howls, in a stentorian voice," etc.—Ex.

A FIRE AT CUSHING

D. Aasve's General Store Destroyed by Fire Early Monday

The store of Dave Aasve at Cushing was totally destroyed by fire early Monday morning, the efforts of the neighbors to subdue the flames being unavailing.

The flames were first discovered at about 2:30 by night operator Cottinham, who at once notified the proprietor. Mr. Aasve rushed to the scene of the fire and found the flames burning fiercely around and about the kerosene oil tank and did not dare make any attempt to put it out, as he feared an explosion, which soon followed. The inhabitants of the village turned out and rendered what assistance they found possible, but the flames were so far advanced that nothing could be done to save the building or its contents.

Mr. Aasve states that he had $1,600 insurance through Swanville parties, which he claims does not cover more than one third of the loss.

The origin of the fire is not known, as there was neither fire or light in the building and the only possible origin would seem to point to incendiarism, probably perpetrated by some passing hobo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dow of St. Paul, who formerly resided in Little Falls, visited relatives and friends here during the past week.

At a meeting of the local policy holders of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, the members decided to hand Dr. J. G. Millsap their proxies and decided to join the newly organized state association of that company's policy holders. Dr. Millsap attended a meeting held in St. Paul Tuesday.

Journal-Press, 16: Fred Stangl of this city will avoid trouble with the Little Falls people. He has returned from Little Falls, where he went to look into the matter of building a brick barn. Mr. Stangl was secured permission from the council to build a sheet iron barn. Some of the men in that town have objected and have threatened so some an objection against him to keep him from continuing with his work, as they claim he is not obeying the fire ordinance. In order to quiet them Mr. Stangl has decided to build a brick barn and work will be begun at once.

Miss Mabel Brannen, of Little Falls, was in the city Thursday afternoon and Friday visiting her friend, Mrs. Clint Foster. Miss Brannen is a music teacher, and if she can secure a class large enough to warrant going so, will visit Staples regularly hereafter. She has already been promised a number of pupils, and she will be up again today to secure, if possible, the necessary number to start a good class.—Staples World, 11.

Somewhat Ambiguous.
Jiggs—Why did Jolkinson give up his club when he got married?
Biggs—Well, he said his wife could always find him there when he went out nights.

A Wearisome Sermon.
Bishop Strachan of Toronto, once received two church wardens who complained that their clergyman wore the congregation by repeating a sermon. He had preached it twelve times. The bishop asked for the text. Neither of the church wardens could remember.
"Go back," said the bishop, sternly, "and ask your clergyman to preach the sermon once more, and then come back and tell me the text."
