This is one reason why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so valuable in consumption. It stops the wear and tear of useless coughing. But it does more—it controls the inflammation, quiets the fever, soothes, and heals. Sold for 60 years.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been a regular life preserver to me. It brought me through a severe attack of pneumonia, and I feel that I owe my life to its wonderful curative properties."—WILLIAM H. TRUITT, Wawa, Pa.

MOUS RECORD FOR ERRORS

A grammarian was talking about grammatical slips that, through their magnitude, merited immortality.

"There is one sentence," he said, "that has lived for a hundred years on account of its tremendous incorrectness. In this sentence every word, every single word, is ungrammatical. It's hard to beat that, isn't it?"

The sentence was spoken by a little girl in a sheep pasture. Looking at the flocks, she said to the shepherd:

"Is them sheeps yourn?"

"This sentence, with every word incorrect, holds the record in its class."

GROOMING COUNTS

But it cannot make a Fair Skin or a Glossy Coat.

Women with good complexions cannot be homely. Creams, lotions, washes and powders cannot make a fair skin. Every horseman knows that the satin coat of his thoroughbred comes from the animal's "all-right" condition.

Let the horse get "off his feet" and his coat turns dull. Caring, brushing and rubbing will give him a clean coat, but cannot produce the coveted smoothness and gloss of the horse's skin, which is his complexion. The ladies will see the point.

Lane's Family Medicine

Is the best preparation for ladies who desire a gentle laxative medicine that will give the body perfect cleanliness internally and the wholesomeness that produces such skins as painters love to copy.

PRIZE WINNER WAS FAKER.

Potatoes He Entered at the Fair Were Purchased From Grocer.

There is more than one way of winning prizes at a country fair. When the rubber neck from the city looks over the agricultural curiosities in the big tent and sees the gigantic pumpkins and huge potatoes he naturally thinks these were brought to such proportions by careful gardening, nursing by the farmer who enters the exhibit. But this isn't always true.

One of the prizes for big spuds at the Wolcott fair went to a man who came in from Watertown way, bought some choice potatoes at a market, took 'em out to Wolcott and copped one of the prizes. He didn't even know what kind of potatoes they were.

The day before the fair the farmer went into a Waterbury market. He looked over the stock and saw one basket of potatoes of extraordinary size. His eyes glistened and he picked out half a dozen of the largest in the basket.

"What kind?" he inquired.

The clerk didn't know one potato from another, but he said: "Why, those are 'Johnson's Beauties.'"

The spuds were duly labeled and shipped to Wolcott. The Watertown man got one of the prizes in a walk and all the cult stood about him at the fair and complimented him upon his fine crop of potatoes.

"It must have taken a lot of care and good soil to raise potatoes that size," they all remarked. And that wise farmer said it surely did.

A Submarine Kite.

A strange kite, devised by a Swedish engineer, is made to fly under water.

It is constructed of light canvas, spread upon a strong but light metal frame, and is made in two sections. The lower and smaller section depends from the upper and is connected with it by a kind of coupling. The mission of the apparatus is to warn vessels of shoals or places where there is an insufficient depth of water. A small wire cable runs from the kite to the vessel's deck.

As the ship sails along the kite trails beneath or beside the craft at such depth as will insure safety.

If at any time the bottom of the kite touches ground a device relieves the coupling connecting it with the upper part and the alarm bell is sounded on deck.

The kite may then be drawn up, readjusted and thrown overboard again, to resume its silent but useful vigils.

Damascus Being Modernized.

Damascus, whose pedigree is the longest of living cities, is losing its character. An enterprising Belgian company is cutting through it with an electric tramway and is sprinkling electric lights in its ancient streets. What is more, the motive power for these installations is derived from the harnessing of the river falls twenty-two miles off, so that no feature of the modern invasion is spared the place whence the Jew of Tarsus escaped in a basket over the wall. The British acting consul reports that three and a half miles of the tram line are already being laid. Meanwhile traffic on the Hejaz railway, which some day may reach Mecca, finds a convenient entrepot in the old-time emporium of the slow-moving caravan.
