RUNAWAY CAR CAUSES COMMOTION.

A box car from which the steel had been unloaded by the steel gang Wednesday afternoon, got away and made considerable trouble, besides delaying an east bound passenger train for an hour. The car was on the old line in the eastern part of the city. After the rails had been unloaded, the car was moved southward a little and before the brakes could be set got to moving down grade. Foreman Lentz sent a man after it, but the fresh wind got busy, and the car chased down the track, burst the looked switch, and got out on the main line, causing cold chills on the part of the crew, for fear it would get in the way of some train before being stopped. The operator at Gregory was notified, but the car was too fast, and got past there and down to Royalton, twelve miles, where it was run onto a side track. The work train engine started after the runaway, but could not pass the switch, and the repairs on the passenger train could pass. It was very lucky that the runaway met no train on its wild career.

PIERPONT MORGAN WANTS SWEDBERG'S BIBLE.

Cove Pioneer: R. Swedberg of Vineland paid a visit to the Pioneer office last Monday. Among other interesting matters touched upon by Mr. Swedberg he exhibited a letter of enquiry from J. Pierpont Morgan's private secretary relative to a Swedish bible which was published by C. F. Brokman at North Topang, Sweden, in the year 1708. Mr. Swedberg is the present owner of the book having it in his home at Vineland. He states that it is much larger than the largest Webster's Dictionary, that it has been handed down by his ancestors and has been in the family for 200 years. He explained that Morgan is making a collection of rare articles with a view to founding a museum which accounts for the correspondence regarding the bible.

Andrew Johnson, the popular grocer, has leased the ground floor and basement. The upper floor will probably be made into offices.

The new building will be a decided improvement, and shows Mr. Muske's faith in the continued growth of the city.

MARRIED HIRED MAN

Now the Farmer's Daughter is Suing Him for Divorce

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The divorce case of Anna Elizabeth Jones against Fred Wilson Jones was submitted to Judge Lewis yesterday in the district court. This is the plaintiff's second attempt to get a divorce, her first suit having been dismissed by Judge Bonn two years ago. They were married at the plaintiff's home near Little Falls in 1901.

The plaintiff's father testified that the defendant, then a stranger, came to his place in 1901 and hired out to him for a short time as a harvest hand. A short time after the defendant left the place he returned and asked his former employer for the hand of his daughter. The father gave his consent and bought the defendant a suit of clothes, he said. Soon after their marriage the defendant, the plaintiff testified, disappeared and had not been heard from by her or her parents for over two years when he wrote the plaintiff that he was going to buy a forty-acre farm and asked her to meet him at Brainerd and go with him to see the place.

The plaintiff's father testified that he drove to Brainerd, a distance of forty-five miles, on a cold day, with his daughter and met the defendant. The defendant, he said had no money and the witness bought dinner for the three at a hotel in Brainerd. They then drove twenty-five miles farther the same day to the home of the defendant's parents. They were there informed that there was nothing in the young man's story about getting a farm.

In answer to the court's question whether the plaintiff could not have lived with her husband at his parent's home, she said that there were only two rooms in the house for the accommodation of the eleven people who constituted the family. The next day the plaintiff and her father drove back to Little Falls, a distance of sixty-five miles. The plaintiff testified that she had seen the defendant but once since, when he called at the place where she was working in St. Paul.

Mrs. Jones was Miss Anna Weber, daughter of Anton Weber, formerly of the town of Pike Creek.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. K. N. Nichols, Thursday evening of last week, Eugene Ledoux of Brainerd and Miss Eva Hill of this city. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Hunter.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, only near relatives being present. Both of the contracting parties are well known here. Mr. Ledoux, until recently, having been a resident of Belle Prairie, but is now employed in the railroad shops at Brainerd and Miss Hill has been a resident of this city practically all her life.

A wedding supper was served, after which the happy couple took the evening train for Brainerd at which place they will make their future home.

Homer Skinner and Miss Mae Hubbs, both of Royalton, were married at that place Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Stubbs. Rev. Blackhurst of the Methodist church officiated. They will make their home at Park Rapids, where Mr. Skinner is employed.

Thomas Hawley, of Staples, was in the city yesterday afternoon on business, going from here to Little Falls. Mr. Hawley is a brother of the late Pat Hawley, of Motley, who was murdered about a year ago. In a conversation with a Dispatch representative, Mr. Hawley stated that there had not been sufficient clue to the identity of the murderers to warrant any arrests. The man who is supposed to have offered the team belonging to Mr. Hawley for sale in Brainerd has been entirely lost track of and there is no evidence against anyone else in the matter.—Brainerd Dispatch.

WILL BE ADVERTISED

Steps Taken to Advertise the Possibilities of City and County

A meeting of the directors of the Commercial club was held Friday evening at the club rooms. The matter of advertising the resources of county and city, for the general good of both, was considered at some length.

H. Landahl thought it was time that something should be done. Not since the Headlight illustrated number in 1899 had there been anything adequate as to illustrations and matter. He believed that the time was opportune to get out a finely illustrated pamphlet devoted to the possibilities of the county and city.

Congressman-elect Lindberg also thought the time opportune. He believed that an excellent thing would be to induce immigration of farmers, for with an agricultural region thoroughly developed, the future of the city would not be in doubt. He said the outside country could easily care for three times its present population, and the main thing is to get people on the land.

M. M. Williams pointed out that in the five years between 1888 and 1893 a great deal of advertising had been done, and that the city had twice in that period doubled its population. Many kinds of advertising were then used and proved effective. He heartily endorsed the idea of advertising the city and neighboring country.

The general sentiment was distinctly favorable. The club itself not being in a position to stand the total expense of the advertising proposition, it was decided to appoint a committee to see what could be done in getting help in an individual way, and President Vassaly appointed J. K. Martin, H. Landahl and T. C. Gordon as such committee, to report at a meeting of the club Tuesday night, Feb. 12th.

Mr. Martin being called away by business, S. R. Snow took his place, and the committee canvassed Monday and Tuesday with satisfactory results. The Commercial Club met Tuesday evening at the club rooms, President C. E. Vassaly presiding and Loren Roberts acting as temporary secretary. The advertising committee reported $235 collected, and $75 more certain of collection. The committee was directed to go ahead and issue the pamphlet as soon as possible.

Geo. H. Powers and Edward Lafond were elected members of the club. W. M. Fuller offered two resolutions, both of which were adopted. One was asking that the postoffice department make additions to the city carrier force so that a delivery may be made in the business district directly after the noon mail train arrives.

The other was requesting Representatives Bunck and Young to secure an appropriation for the road along the N. P. right of way from Little Falls to Lincoln.

Mr. Vassaly presented a resolution asking that Representatives Bunck and Young introduce and support a bill locating the proposed State training school for girls at Little Falls or immediate vicinity. Adopted.

Dr. J. G. Millsbaugh presented a resolution reciting that the Commercial club favors the enactment of a distance tariff freight law, a law to reduce and equalize express rates and anti-pass law, and a law for a two-cent passenger rate. The resolution was adopted. It asks Senator Alderman and Representatives Bunck and Young to support the measures suggested.

The question of an appropriate trademark for the city being brought up, the matter was left to the advertising committee.

The Saturday meeting to discuss the canning factory was discussed. The committee on advertising was directed to raise another $100 outside the club to help out in case of deficiency.

There will be a state Farmers' institute at Swanville Saturday, March 16. We publish this week the delinquent tax list. This is for taxes due for the year 1905.

HELD IN DAHL CASE

James Wesley Again is Accused of Murdering Settlers

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 11.—James Wesley, once before a prisoner in connection with the same case, again is under arrest in the county jail in this city, and he will be forced to meet renewed charges of complicity in the murder of N. A. Dahl and his seventeen-year-old daughter, Aagot, who were last seen alive on April 3, 1904, at their home near Quilting.

Dahl and his daughter lived alone on a homestead claim and several arrests followed the finding of their bodies in the woods. "Shorty" Wesley was arrested at his home in Green Bay, brought to Bemidji and indicted, but was released for lack of evidence.

Henry Fanchley, who since then has succeeded to the office of county attorney, took up the investigation of the Dahl tragedy where his predecessor had dropped it. Mr. Fanchley declares he has evidence that makes the prosecution of Wesley imperatively necessary, and he asserts his belief that this prosecution will result in clearing up one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of the county.

Deputy Sheriff Solberg arrested Wesley at Jackson's lumber camp forty miles west of Deer river, and the prisoner was arraigned Saturday evening before a justice of the peace. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of a murder lodged against him by County Attorney Fanchley. The examination was adjourned to Feb. 18.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will be entertained on Thursday afternoon, February 21st, by Mrs. F. Graham and Mrs. Geo. Kay, at the home of Mrs. Graham. Everybody cordially invited. Gentlemen are invited to lunch at 8 o'clock.

Before Justice Hunter was heard the case of C. Sheldon vs. the First National Bank of Royalton. Sheldon claimed $35 for services rendered in the fall of 1904. The defendant denies employing Sheldon, F. W. Lyon being the attorney in charge, and if Sheldon was employed, it was by Lyon, who should pay him. Mr. Lyon appeared for the defense.

LENTEN REGULATIONS

Lent Began Ash Wednesday, Feb. 13, and Closes Easter Sunday

Lent began on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 13. All the faithful, unless legitimately excused or dispensed, are bound in conscience, under the penalty of grievous sin, to observe the Lenten regulations.

All the days of Lent, the Sundays excepted, are days of fast. The precept of fast restricts the use of food to one full meal towards the middle of the day, and a collation in the evening not exceeding the fourth part of a full meal—custom, however, authorizing taking in the morning of a cup of coffee, tea or chocolate, with a small piece of bread.

For the collation theologians allow solid food to the amount of eight ounces. The solid food taken in the morning should not exceed two ounces.

When the full meal or principal repast cannot be taken without serious inconvenience towards the middle of the day, the order of repasts may be reversed, the full meal or principal repast being taken in the evening, and the collation at an earlier hour of the day.

The use of flesh meat is allowed at all meals on Sundays, and at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday of Ember Week and the Saturday of Holy Week.

The use of flesh meat, therefore, is forbidden at all meals on Wednesdays, Fridays, the Saturday of Holy Week; and on other days, outside of Sundays, it is forbidden at other repasts, outside the one full meal.

The use of lard is permitted at all times in the preparation of food. Both fish and flesh meat cannot be taken at the same meal, even on Sundays.

Persons legitimately excused or dispensed from the precept of fasting may use flesh meat at all meals of whatever day there is a general permission to use it at the principal meal.

From the precept of fast are excused: Those under the age of 21 years or over the age of 60; the infirm and convalescent; women bearing or nursing children; persons engaged in hard labor or other duties exhaustive of physical strength; persons who from poverty are unable to procure for the principal meal a sufficiency of nutritive food.

From the precept of abstinence are excused: the young under age of seven years; the sick; persons who are situated as not to be able to procure for themselves abstinence food.

In virtue of authority conceded to bishops in the United States by a recent Pontifical Indult, permission is granted to "working people" to use meat on all days of Lent, with the exception of Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and the Saturday of Holy Week.

This dispensation from abstinence extends to all three meals in the day. The usual prohibition remains against using flesh meat and fish at the same meal.

Where the wage-earner, in virtue of the Indult, uses meat, all the members of his household may likewise use it. The church does not wish to impose upon the household the inconvenience of double cooking. But, in case of this kind, the members of the household who are bound by the precept of fast, are allowed the use of meat only at their principal meal. The Sovereign Pontiff exhorts all who make use of the privileges of the Indult to be still mindful of their duty to practice self-denial; and he counsels that instead of the abstinence from meat some other sacrifice of bodily comfort be practiced, the Sovereign Pontiff himself suggesting as such sacrifice the abstinence from intoxicating drink.

The days of fast and abstinence occurring outside the Lenten Season during the year are the Ember days.

The Vigils will be: The Vigil of Pentecost, that of the Assumption, that of All Saints, and that of Christmas.

All Fridays are, of course, days of abstinence.

The Pontifical Indult, of which we have spoken, exempts "working people" from abstinence Vigils and Ember days, except when such Vigils and Ember days fall on Friday; and such days the Indult also exempts from abstinence, in the same condition as for the Lenten Season, the wage-earner.

Pastors will make to their flocks in the usual terms due announcements of approaching Ember days and Vigils—adding to such announcements a statement of the privileges given by the Indult to "working people." When doubt exists as to whether one's condition or circumstances allow exemption from the precept of fast and abstinence, counsel should be asked from confessors or pastors, who are the authoritative interpreters of the law, and who are even empowered, in special cases, for good and sufficient reasons, indicated in Catholic theology, to commute the precepts of fast and abstinence to other penitential work.

In enjoining upon the faithful fast and abstinence, Holy Church makes a practical application of the evangelical law of self-denial, of which the Savior and his apostles were, by example and word, such eminent teachers. Without self-denial there is no Christianity. Indeed, without self-denial there is no natural morality. The man who has not acquired by habit the power of self-restraint will not be victorious over sin, amid the storms and temptations of life which all men must encounter.

The observance of the fast and

Mr. Kleber has always enjoyed a large patronage, and no doubt, will continue to do well.

Brainerd Dispatch: The Citizen's State bank received a letter from Fred Hoffman a day or two ago. He and Mrs. Hoffman are now in Los Angeles, Cal., and he writes that they are having considerable cold weather there. They are paying $20 to $25 a cord for wood there and poor wood, at that.

The three-year-old son of Frank Cimenski of the West Side, while playing Monday, his mother being out of the room, got a hold of a bottle of carbolic acid which was on a shelf, and drank part of it, burning his mouth and throat quite badly. A physician was soon called and the child will recover.

Alberta Cor. Foley Independent: W. H. Waid the traveling man was seen on our streets the other day. He sold a good many bushels of oats around here from $2 to $2.50 per bushel. They are good oats "Bill", no mistake about that. Frank Pekarek and family of Buckman, were visiting at the home of Joseph Pekarek the first of the week.

A sleigh ride will be given Friday evening, February 15th, under the auspices of the M. E. church, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Scott at the Brickyards, where an oyster supper will be served. Teams will be at the M. E. church at 7:00 o'clock to take all who wish to go. A circular invitation extended to both old and young. Ride and supper 25 cents.

The I. O. O. F. lodge, No. 111, gave a dance and supper Monday evening. As according to program they had an "old time" dance, and everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves. D. K. Haring and Mrs. J. C. Burrall furnished the music. The dances were all of the old style variety, the dances of the present day being entirely sidetracked. Addresses were made by Ira L. Warren and F. W. Lyon. The matter of re-organizing the Rebekah lodge was brought up, and it is most likely that the lodge will again be established.

abstinence prescribed by the Church is taken by the world as a public and fearless profession of Catholic faith. He who, without sufficient and obvious reasons, eats meat or takes his usual meals when abstinence or fast is enjoined, is not accepted as a practical Catholic.

Let Catholics have the courage of self-denial for the sake of Christ and of their own souls, and be on their guard lest by their acts scandal be given, and the fair name of their religion be dishonored.

During Lent pastors will hold at appointed times in their several churches appropriate exercises of devotion, and will give to the faithful instructions of a practical nature upon the articles of the creed, the commandments and the sacraments.

The devotion of the Way of the Cross will be observed, when possible, in all churches and chapels, on the Friday evenings throughout Lent.

James Trobec, Bishop of St. Cloud.
