Iowa Newspaper Man Gives His Opinion After a Visit Here

No doubt many of the readers of this paper have read the advertisement of Geo. E. Powers, "The Little Falls land man," which has appeared in these columns from time to time, says the Wheatland, Ia., Gazette. Among those who are interested in the prospects of the country surrounding that bustling, prosperous and rapidly growing city of Little Falls, Minn. It is now a city of from 6000 to 8000 population; has 11 churches, 2 large department stores, fine streets, water works, electric light plant, and in fact every improvement found in any first class city of many times its size. The Mississippi river has been bridged to harness and put to work turning the wheels of industry for the manufacturer. The flour mill, paper mill, saw mill, electric light and power plant and numerous smaller concerns now being operated, use but a small portion of the enormous power available, consequently manufacturing interests are being attracted as fast as the surrounding country develops and creates a demand for them.

The writer recently made a trip to this Minnesota city to visit Mr. Powers, who is a life long friend of ours, and who has been preaching the advantages of Morrison county, Minnesota, to us for several years. Personally we dislike cold weather, and long winters, so his talk about the conditions north had little attraction to make the story brief; we found ourselves at Little Falls early one morning late, soon located Powers, and only a short time later was riding through the country with him, viewing the crops of Iowa products on every side. Corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley, timothy and clover fields, with the corn in such a stage of maturity as to insure a good crop, numerous and portly stacks of grain ready for the visit of the threshing machine, stack after stack of the finest clover and timothy hay to be found anywhere, and the second crops of clover well along toward time for a second cutting, sleek cattle and horses; plump hogs and sheep, all testifying to the resources and productivity of the soil, as well as the push and enterprise of the people. Morrison county is admirably adapted to diversified farming principally because of its productive soil and its abundant supply of good water. Old inhabitants agreed that there had never been a failure of crops. It is a mixed timber and prairie country; the soil varies from a dark loam to a sandy clay loam with clay subsoil, and produces wonderful crops of potatoes, onions, sugar beets, small fruits and all kinds of garden vegetables, as well as the field crops before mentioned. The country is fast developing into a dairy country—nearly every farmer milking from 8 to 20 cows, from which he realizes a sure cash income each monthly pay day. Such a country and such a people have built such a city as Little Falls, and still the country has only just begun to develop.

It is only a comparatively short time before every acre will be tilled, and as valuable to owners as Clinton county land is today. At present the opportunities for getting possession of a farm in Morrison county are plentiful; but if you have any intention of purchasing a farm of your own, don't wait until "the other fellows" get there first. Go look at the country and go at a time when you can see the crops for yourself and then you won't feel that the land man is "stringing" you with his stories of what they raise. Go now while prices are right. Go while the big land syndicates are pushing, pulling, hauling, driving and rushing home-seekers past such opportunities as Minnesota offers, and on the bare prairies of the far west, where they must take chances with droughts, the green bug and the humberg.

CAN RIDE ON NOS. 1 AND 2 AGAIN.

Nos. 1 and 2, the through trains on the Northern Pacific known as the North Coast Limited, are taking passengers at this station again. The points for which these trains take passengers are St. Cloud and Minneapolis going south, and Staples, Wadena, Detroit City and other points further west, going west. A communication to this effect was received by Agent F. Ruth the latter part of last week. This decision by the company gives Little Falls one of the best services obtainable, which will be greatly appreciated by the traveling public.

HEREDITARY ILL HUMOR.

Herbert Bismark had none of his father's bright wit in conversation but had his overbearing temper. Bismark in anger was as ferocious as a ferocious mastiff and he grew worse in the evening before his dinner hour. Most men are in better humor after a good meal, especially if they have had a glass or two of golden grain belt beer, which is famous for its soothing tonic effect.

VALUE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS FOR 1907 ESTIMATED AT $4,000,000.

The value of Minnesota Creamery products for the year 1907 is estimated at $4,000,000 by the secretary of the state dairy and food department, W. W. Wall, more than doubling in the last six years. There are now 885 creameries in the state, 700 of which are co-operative.

An operation was performed on Miss Amanda Schimanski Monday afternoon at the local hospital. The girl had hurt a leg about two months ago, and a running sore developed, which necessitated an operation. The patient is doing fine.

MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Richard Casey, an Employee on the Soo Has Feet Badly Mangled

An accident occurred to Richard Casey, an employe on the Soo extension in Bellevue town near Royalton, while at work on the grading machine. It is said that through carelessness he had his feet caught and badly smashed and cut in the gearing of the grader. He was taken to this city Monday noon and placed in the hospital for treatment. Mr. Casey was found that his mind had also been affected by the accident, and some bruises about his face and head showed that he had been knocked about considerably. The attending physician expresses some hope of saving his feet, the saving of the right one of which it was at first despaired of.

PARALYSIS FROM FALL.
Wm. Roff, living across the river from Ft. Ripley, has been suffering greatly from a severe attack of paralysis which came on as a result of a fall he received from a rig while he was standing on it. The fall he fell on his shoulders and as a result his spine was affected at the attack. The paralysis followed. He was taken to this city Sunday and placed in the hospital for treatment. Mr. Roff is well known in this locality and has the sympathy of the community in his great affliction.

PAROLED PRISONER SKIPPED.
A reward of $25 has been offered by the state prison authorities for the capture of George Kelley, a convict who was let out on parole last Friday, but who almost immediately broke it by not reporting to his employer. A good description of the man has been furnished the local authorities, as it was thought he was headed this way.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fuller returned Sunday from a three weeks' stay in Milwaukee at which place Mr. Fuller was taking treatment for his eyes from specialists.

"Dutch" Raesch of Sartell visited in the city Saturday and Sunday, and incidentally went out on a chicken hunt in company with J. Greisch and Wm. Batters, the party securing three of the feathered game.

The plaintiff withdrew his complaint and the defendant paid the costs of the action, according to agreement, in the assault and battery case of Joe. Dinner vs. Joe. Danielski which came up before Justice Gerrits Saturday afternoon.

A party of young ladies were entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. W. E. Farrell at her home on Second avenue northwest. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party, the young ladies being some that are going to teach school during the coming term. Music and games were the pastime and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

LINCOLN

Sept. 17.—Mark Cottingham, night operator, and Chas. Love, station helper at Philbrook, made this village a pleasant call last Wednesday. Jay Bartholomew left last Friday for Deer River, where he expects to stay for some time.

Miss Nannie Brinegar, who has been visiting at the home of John Randall, left last Thursday for her home in Motley. Nels Sorenson shipped a car load of cattle last Friday. Maurice Warner spent Saturday in Little Falls. C. D. Taylor spent Thursday night in Staples. E. H. Tuttle was a Little Falls visitor last Wednesday. Rev. Nordstrom left Saturday to hold sermons at Aldrich Sunday. Mrs. I. Franks spent Saturday and Sunday visiting at Cushing. Frank Johnson left Sunday for Minneapolis, where he will work in his brother's meat market. His family will join him later. M. A. Warner and F. O. Swanson were business visitors in Little Falls last Saturday. Miss Maggie Franks, who has been visiting relatives in this village, returned to Cushing last Tuesday. Dr. Allen and family left Tuesday for Staples, where he will visit a few weeks before returning to his home in Wisconsin. Mrs. E. E. Tuttle left Tuesday for Minneapolis, where she expects to stay indefinitely. C. D. Taylor, our station agent, has tendered his resignation to Div. Supt. M. M. Fowler, and will leave this village as soon as he is relieved. He is uncertain as to where he will go, as he has several positions offered him in Minneapolis, and another in an agency on the Soo line. Mr. Taylor has been here for some time and people regret to see him go, as he has given excellent satisfaction as agent here.

RICE LAKE

Sept. 17.—Mrs. Peter Pratt returned from Little Falls Tuesday, where she went to visit her mother, Mrs. J. Lamb. A crew of men were making repairs on the Platte River bridge a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Love, A. P. Carlson and John Lamb were Royalton visitors Saturday. John Lamb took some cattle to Royalton Monday, where he disposed of them. Mrs. J. F. McNally carried mail Monday on Route 8 for her husband. Wash. Love is visiting in Pierz with his son, James, and family. Some of the farmers around here are plowing now after the rain of the first of the week. Mr. Moran of East Bellevue is threshing in this vicinity. Henry Jackson, who has taken the contract to finish filling in across the little lake of the Soo track. Lightning struck a tree on Henry Love's farm about 10 rods from the house Friday morning. It also struck one of Mr. Love's hay stacks on the meadow but little or no damage was done.

ROBBERY AT STAPLES.

A thief entered Miller's store in Staples Sunday morning and carried off a long list of articles of considerable value. Sheriff Long has received a communication from that city asking him to co-operate with the Staples authorities in the running down of the thief and the goods. The list of stolen articles includes six ladies' coats, one of which is fur and two fur lined, a gray cravenette, three silk petticoats and four leather suitcases, one black, two dark brown and one light brown with straps. A reward of $50 has been offered for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party.

Thos. C. Scollen of St. Cloud died Thursday last week. His death recalls to the reader the awful attack made on the deceased about three years ago in which he was so badly injured that he never recovered from its effect, and his death is supposed to be a result of the same.
