THE USE OF SAWDUST MADE IN TO A KIND OF "FLOUR" IN MANY EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

St. Cloud Times: Sawdust is one of the puzzling wastes in lumbering operations. The waste is serious, too, for the kerf—the part cut out by the saw in the mill and transformed into sawdust—always bears a rather high ratio to the boards obtained. In cutting thin stuff, one fourth of the log, or even more, may be kerf.

Efforts to turn sawdust into pulp for the paper mill have usually been unsuccessful of mechanical difficulties in handling. In several European countries, however, a new way has been found of turning sawdust to account. The sawdust, chiefly pine and fir, is ground with millstone, exactly as old time mills made cornmeal, or wheat or rye flour. Expensive machinery is not required, but it is necessary to take special precaution against fires which might start from sparks between the millstone.

The sawdust flour is sold to the dynamite factories to be mixed with nitroglycerine and form the body or absorbent for that high explosive. It is also in demand for the manufacture of cheap blotting paper. The mills in the Harz mountains, in Germany, an important manufacturing center, are kept busy meeting this demand.

The price of the "flour" in Germany ranges from $7.50 to $12.50 a ton. It is shipped in bags, like meal, or in bales of about 40 cubic feet, made by means of high pressure.

PIERZ

July 29.—The base ball game that was advertised to be played by the Record Breakers of Little Falls and the Pierz seniors, or regulars, on the diamond in Pierz, came off as announced at 3:30 last Sunday. It was a very hot day and at one time it seemed as if the game would not be played. A shower threatened, but passed west of Pierz and the game went on. It was one of the best games played on the Pierz diamond so far this season, and was watched with much interest by the audience. Our boys lost by a score of 3 to 2, after a hotly contested game on both sides. An accident gave the visitors the game which score by rights should have been counted for Pierz. However the Pierz seniors are a good clean bunch of ball players and lost the game like true sportsmen. Fritz Recke umpired the game satisfactory, although, when the collision between Jos. Rathburn and catcher Berg of the visiting team happened in the ninth inning, his decision might have been different. But our boys say that if Jesse Leigh, who played in Onamia that day, had been here, there would have been a different game. Jesse is one of the best pitchers in this part of the country. With three of their best players missing, as Jesse Leigh, Eugene Gravel and Harry Leigh, our team was working under disadvantages. The Pierz Juniors will play the Vawter team a game on the Pierz diamond next Sunday afternoon.

Sunday the 19th, the children of the St. John's church in Lastrup received First Communion. There were eight boys and seven girls. Father Sand had made all preparations to make the occasion one long to be remembered by the children. Many people from Pierz attended the ceremonies.

Mrs. Grell may visit other places in Stearns county before returning home. Miss Annie Hennen, daughter of our postmaster, Nick Hennen, is visiting at home for a few days. Miss Hennen is employed as clerk and stenographer in a wholesale house in St. Paul. She stays with her brother, Jos. H. Hennen, who is in real estate business in that city.

For the month of July Prof. Hicks had predicted fearful electric storms and heavy windstorms alternating with heat and at the end of the month a hot wave. His prediction could not have been better, as far as Pierz is concerned. For the last five or six days the heat has been very oppressive, the thermometer ranging from 86 to 98 in the shade. Our farmers who were out making hay were compelled to quit, the heat being too intense for man and beast, during the midday hours.

The building of the new Soo depot was begun last Monday. The lumber used in the construction is all sawed and matched before it gets here, therefore it will not take long to erect same. It will be 100 feet long and 50 wide.

Another hail storm passed over a part of northern Buh and a small strip of southern Platte last week Thursday afternoon, but the damage done is not so serious as the last week's storm. Those living in the path of the storm are: Math Valentine, grain partly damaged; H. Froelich, Otto Boser, Geo. Boser, damaged, but not very bad. Mrs. Math Valentine had about 50 half-grown chickens; 23 of them were killed by this hail.

The Pierz fire department practiced in the north end last Saturday evening. The main object of the practice was to test the hoses and to get the yellow dirty water out of the mains.

M. Lockowitch, who a few years ago, bought the old Westerbock house in the village, is getting a fine wide porch put around two sides of the building, which improves the place very much.

School district No. 55, in the town of Granite, re-elected Joseph Gross treasurer for the next three years. The meeting voted to raise $325 and hold school nine months. Miss Elizabeth Hoerner, who taught school last year, was hired again for the coming year.

WOMAN WAS LOST IN SWAMP.

Mrs. Edward McSve, who, with her husband and children, had only recently moved from South Dakota, to a farm which they had bought near Foley, Benton county, was lost in a swamp near the farm last Sunday afternoon, and could not be found until the next morning, according to a St. Cloud paper. On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McSve and children had gone on a tour of inspection about their newly acquired farm. A storm came up, and Mr. McSve hurried to the farm buildings to see that certain articles were under cover. Mrs. McSve told the children to follow their father so as to get home before the heavy rain, as being lame she could not walk very fast. She finally lost her bearings and wandered into a swamp, which is about one mile wide and three long. Although Mr. McSve and neighbors searched for her all night, no trace of her could be found. In the morning the services of the man, who sold them the farm, were solicited, who, after a thorough search, found her in the swamp in a stupefied condition. She was taken home and will recover.

His Pleasant Expression.

Discussing the training of dogs at a recent club meeting an authority on canines said: "Yes, training is an art. The simplest appearing of canine performances is, properly understood, a difficult thing. It looks easy, but it is hard, and thus it is like the man at the photographer's. This man, sitting for his portrait, said impatiently to the artist, 'Well, have I got now the pleasant expression you desire?' 'Yes, thank you,' said the photographer, 'that will do nicely.' 'Then hurry up,' growled the man. 'It hurts my face.'"

A Slander Resented.

He could not stay away long from the abode of his ladylove and called to make inquiries about her on one occasion. She had charge of the dairy, but her master answered his timid knock. "How is the milkmaid?" asked the bashful one faintly. "But the farmer angrily replied as he shut the door in the stranger's face: "Our milk isn't made. It's got from the cow!"—Pearson's Weekly.

JUSTICE COURT

The case of State of Minnesota vs. John Foldinski, Joseph Nowak, John Grodzetzke, Anton Polak, Joe Polak, Theodore Wiherski, John Nowak, and Frank Kurovski, Jos. Trutwin complaining witness, in which defendants were charged with using obscene language, throwing stones, and otherwise breaking up a party, came up before Justice Gerritz's court Tuesday afternoon. Five of the defendants were present, the others having gone to work in the Dakotas. A change of venue was taken to Justice Gaudet's court, after which the case was dismissed, on motion of state's attorney, as it became apparent that the complaining witnesses were also at fault.

John Rassier, who, at a hearing Saturday before Justice Gerritz, pleaded not guilty to the charge of breaking into the pound and liberating his horse—which the poundmaster had run in, having caught it wandering about the city—changed his plea to guilty Tuesday, and was let off by paying the costs of the proceedings.

THE FINE WAS PAID.

C. E. Edwards, alias Thompson, a traveling photographer, who was arraigned in justice court Thursday of last week on complaint of Robert Kaestner, charged with using obscene and threatening language, was found guilty of the charge and fined $5 and costs, amounting to $32, shortly after six o'clock that afternoon.

He did not have money on his person wherewith to pay the fine and costs of the case at the time, and at first said he would appeal the case. Later, however, he asked to be allowed to go and get the money to pay the fine, and his request was granted. Taking advantage of this, he left the city without paying even so much as his attorney's fees. When the young fellow failed to show up and square himself with the representatives of the law, the authorities began to look him up. The result was that on Wednesday Sheriff Long brought Mr. Photographer back to this city, and he was given the choice of either paying up or serving it out behind the bars. Things did look real bad for Edwards and he pleaded for liberty in seven different ways, but without success. Finally the manager of the Twin City Photo company, for which the man was traveling, telephoned that his company would stand good for the fine and costs, whereupon Edwards was given his freedom after receiving an excellent lesson.
