JURY DECIDES DEFENDANT NOT GUILTY.

John Hohn of Freedhem, a minor, was arraigned before Justice Gerritz's court yesterday afternoon on the complaint of B. Lindberg of Freedhem, charging defendant with pointing a gun at his minor son, Emery Lindberg, and shooting in close proximity to the latter's head with a 22-calibre rifle.

The defendant claimed that he and his brother were making fire-wood when he saw a bird flying by and took a shot at it, and that he did not aim the gun at young Lindberg.

Butler carried both Bellevue and Motley, strong republican towns, in spite of the desperate work done against him. Mr. Butler faced an opposition which used every possible weapon against him, circulated stories of all kinds, used money in large quantities. His victory is therefore a most notable one.

DIED

Wheaton M. Fuller, editor of the Transcript, and for several years postmaster of the local postoffice, died Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the hospital in St. Peter, where he had gone to secure relief from a nervous breakdown.

Mr. Fuller was born in Little Falls July 23, 1862, and has made this place his home during his life-time, with the exception of a short time. He attended the local schools when a boy, later learning the printing trade under H. C. Stivers, founder of the Transcript, and acquired the Transcript at the early age of 19 years, ever since which time he had been publisher of the paper.

Mr. Fuller was a politician of great ability and took active part in the politics and welfare of the county. He served a term each in the state legislature and state senate, and was one of the leading republicans of the state.

Mr. Fuller was married to Miss Clara E. Kingsley in 1894. He is survived by his wife and his sister, Miss Sadie Fuller.

The deceased was a man of strong constitution, but for a few years had been troubled with defective eyesight, later resulting in practically total blindness. A nervous trouble came on him, and it was hoped that rest would restore him, but his strong frame was gradually undermined. He bore with fortitude his great affliction.

Mr. Fuller was a member of the Elks, the Maccabees and the Masonic lodges, and of the fire department for many years.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Congregational church, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, Rev. W. H. North officiating. Interment was in Oakland cemetery. A large number of friends and acquaintances accompanied the remains to their last resting place. Members of the Elks, the Maccabees and the Fire department attended the obsequies.

MINKS AND MUSKRATS

Season Opens Nov. 15--Severe Penalty If Trapped Prior to that Date

There has been some controversy, of late, relative to the season for trapping muskrats and minks, says the Bemidji Pioneer, and it is very evident that many residents of this north country are ignorant of the provisions of the law relative to these fur-bearing animals.

The law in vogue at the present time is that which has always prevailed and is as follows:

Sec. 38—Mink-Muskraat—(As amended 1907).—No person shall take, catch or kill any mink or muskrat between the fifteenth day of April and the fifteenth day of November following. Provided, that when any of the animals mentioned in this section are doing damage to or destroying any property, the persons whose property is being damaged or destroyed may kill them at any time.

The penalty of violation of this section of the law relating to muskrats and minks is covered by the "blanket penalty" of the law, which provides a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $50, and cost of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days, or more than sixty days in case of conviction.

CITY COUNCIL

A regular meeting of the city council was held Monday night, all the aldermen, with the exception of Alderman Germain being present. Miss Elsie Burkel, who recently accepted a position in a Minneapolis dry goods store, resigned the position, and has returned here, accepting her former position in the St. Paul Dry Goods store.

WIN A MAJORITY

Most of the Democratic County Candidates Were Successful Tuesday

The election resulted in some very gratifying results for the democratic ticket in this county, with some exceptions.

Wm. A. Butler is re-elected county auditor for the fourth time. An unusually fierce and desperate fight was made against him, and although he has not his usual majority, his election is a splendid thing, considering the character of the fight made against him.

S. P. Casey was defeated by a large majority. He ran against a man personally very likable, who never had mixed in any factional fight, and it was a hard proposition from the start. Mr. Casey made a gentlemanly campaign, and deserved a better showing. His opponent also conducted a clean campaign.

Judge Shaw's election was never doubted by anyone, and it was from the start only a question of majority. It will reach around 800, which is certainly decisive.

Frank Armstrong's election was a great victory. He ran against a strong campaigner, who had many loyal friends, and effective work was done. But Mr. Armstrong carried Little Falls city, Bellevue (his home town) by 181, and the strong republican town of Elmdale by 20. Mr. Armstrong proved a fine campaigner. His majority is around 250, and he will be one of the most popular sheriffs Morrison county has ever known.

County Attorney Cameron's re-election is certainly good news. He had incurred the hostility of some people by his prosecution of certain cases, and a determined effort was made against him. It luckily failed, and the people are to be congratulated on having endorsed a fearless and competent officer. His majority will be between 400 and 500.

Register of Deeds Vasaly, as usual, ran against many crossfires. Nevertheless, he has been elected by over 400. He came within 4 votes of carrying Motley and 6 of carrying Bellevue, which more than compensates for funny work elsewhere.

Supt. Barnes is re-elected by a large majority. Circumstances prevented Mr. Brandt from making the active campaign he had intended to, yet it is apparent that Mr. Barnes would have been very hard to tackle, anyway.

Dr. Brown is elected coroner. Dr. Seguin made no campaign, yet received a good vote.

County Surveyor Fenn had no opposition, and L. Gaudet was elected court commissioner without opposition.

Peter Virnig has a very large majority for commissioner. His district suitably appreciated his services. Andrew Johnson's defeat for commissioner is regrettable. No better or more honest man ever served this county. Certain large interests fought him bitterly, and Mr. Rocheleau made a strong campaign. Our regrets are not so much at the defeat as that a man who has been so conscientious and faithful should be turned down. There is no reflection on Mr. Johnson in a defeat under such circumstances.

Governor Johnson will probably have 800 or more plurality, a very good endorsement in view of the unusually bitter fight made on him.

SMALL WRECK MONDAY.

A small wreck occurred at the local station Monday morning, shortly after 11 o'clock, when the Winnipeg Flyer which was thirteen minutes late, in coming into the station, ran into a dinky freight engine that was standing on track No. 2. As a result of the collision the tender of the freight engine was punctured in several places, a truck was torn from its position, and the cow-catcher of the passenger engine was badly twisted and bent up. The fireman of the smaller engine jumped out, but the engineer remained in the cab, and although he was thrown against the boiler head, did not sustain any injuries. The passengers received a bad jolt, but otherwise were unharmed.

Dell LaBlanc left for Starbuck Thursday afternoon on a duck-hunting trip.

Mrs. Clara E. Fuller has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband.

Thomas Wagner was taken to the local hospital Monday to receive treatment for typhoid fever.

Miss Helen Larson underwent an operation for appendicitis at the local hospital Tuesday. She is doing nicely.

Street Commissioner Heroux has a crew of men grading that part of Third street between Broadway and First avenue southeast.

The local high eleven goes to Brainerd tomorrow to meet the high school squad of that city on the Brainerd gridiron. The boys will do their best to capture a much-wanted scalp.

An exhibition of importance of the coming live stock show to be given at South St. Paul, Nov. 17th to 30th, having as it does the object of raising the standard of livestock production, naturally meets with favorable notice and the management of the show is now predicting an attendance at the coming exhibition far in excess of that which marked the initial venture last year.

The large attendance will be justified by the fact that the show this year will surpass in every way the opening exhibition given last year, which in itself was conceded to be superior to any initial exhibition of a similar character in the country.

Lectures and demonstrations will be a valuable part of the program of the show. Included in this feature of the show will be a talk on "Tuberculosis" by Dr. O. E. Dyson, Dr. M. H. Reynolds will speak on Hog Cholera and G. E. McKerrow on Sheep Raising.

Prof. M. D. Mayne is on the program for an illustrated lecture on "Agricultural Farming." Prof. Geo. Day of Guelph, Ontario, will deliver a lecture on some interesting topic. Other discourses of equal interest have been provided.

An exhibition of Percheron, Belgian and French coach horses will be an added attraction this year and this feature will be prominent in all future shows.

The program will contain attractions in the amusement line which have been added with a view to making the show popular with all classes.

WINTER SHEEP FEEDS.

(Furnished by the Minnesota Farmers' Institutes, St. Anthony Park, St. Paul, Minn.)

According to the make-up of a sheep's stomach, it is an animal designed for the consumption of rough feeds such as various sorts of hay and fodder. To keep up the fertility of our soil and to keep our land clean it is necessary to grow hay crops containing some clover and crops that may be cultivated, such as fodder corn or shock corn. Such feeds have no particular market value and should be valued according to the cost of producing them. Grains have a market value and may be disposed of. A dollar invested in producing rough feeds will produce more feed than a dollar invested in gain at market price. Rough feeds, therefore, should be grown and used as feed for sheep.

Breeding ewes, if in fair condition when put into winter quarters in fall, need no grain more than from 15 to 25 pounds per head. This grain allows for the development of the unborn lamb and the wool crop.

Rations to make the ewe gain slightly and yet keep her thrifty, must be carefully made. Some rough feeds contain considerable fibre. With them it is necessary to feed succulent or oily feeds. For example, with oat straw, timothy or oat hay, roots or oil cake should be fed. With clover, which is naturally laxative in effect, such supplement is not needed. Exercise for the ewes, regularity in feeding, watering and salting, are factors that count in sheep feeding.

Rations for ewes in lamb: A few rations that have been fed to ewes in lamb with good results follow. They are the daily feed per 100 lbs. live weight.

- 1. 2nd crop clover hay alone, 3.5 to 3.7 lbs.
2. Corn fodder in which are nubbins, 3.7 lbs.
3. 2nd crop clover hay, 1.6 lbs., roots, 1.5 lbs., shelled corn, .3 lb.
4. 2nd crop clover hay, 1.5 lbs., corn fodder, 1 lb., oats and corn, 3 lb., .55 lb.
5. 2nd crop clover, 2.5 lbs., barley 1.5 lbs., oats and corn, 3 lb.
6. Oat hay, 1.5 lbs., and (barley 98, flax seed 2) .7 lb.
7. Oat straw, 2 lbs., roots, 1.6 lbs., (oats and bran) .6 lb.

BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY.

Dan Johnson was arraigned before Justice Gaudet's court Saturday afternoon for his failure to return to its owner $30 in bills, made up of one $20 bill and one $10 bill, which were lost by Albert Andrews Thursday morning of last week while he was going from the bank to the court house to pay his taxes, and which it is alleged was found shortly afterward by Johnson. He was bound over to the grand jury, and bail was fixed at $100.
