FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

PURPOSE OF EXERCISE.

Exercise should be taken to increase the circulation and tissue change; to stimulate the elimination of waste products; to develop the muscles; to promote healthy action of the digestive organs, and to clear the brain and head, thus fitting us to do more work and better work than we would otherwise be able to perform.

LaFollette, the Wisconsin Napoleon, speaks in St. Paul tomorrow night on the tariff, and will get more real applause than Taft did.

Governor Eberhart has made a good beginning. Loyal citizens cannot but wish him good luck and persistence along the lines laid out.

There was but one John A. Johnson, but the democracy has many men fit to carry its standard in this state, men who would make great and conscientious executives. And when the time comes the right man will be found.

The president has come out strongly for ship subsidy, which isn't strange, for if you believe in a tariff which takes the means of the many to put into the pockets of the few, you naturally believe in ship subsidy, which does the same.

Taft's tour can scarcely be called triumphal. It is marked by the bleeding bodies of the Roosevelt policies scattered along the highway, and has left behind a feeling of surprise and resentment among progressive republicans.

Madison, county seat of Lac Qui Parle county, is reported by traveling men to have made absolutely no attempt to show any sorrow over the death of Governor Johnson. Madison is the home of J. F. Jacobson. We don't like to believe this story, and hope it isn't true.

The Red Wing Free-Press comes to our table, under the management of N. P. Olson, formerly editor of the Anoka Free-Press. The paper is really a continuation of the Goodhue County News, but certainly not as to the subject matter it contains. The improvement is very refreshing. We wish Brother Olson unbounded success.

Republican Minnesota had two republican senators vote against the republican tariff bill, and democratic Louisiana had two democratic senators vote for it. But it was sugar, and not democracy, that cost those votes. The Louisiana delegation to the next democratic national convention should bring an apology with them.

The fund for a monument to Governor Johnson is growing rapidly. There is a question whether, if the fund gathered is large enough, it could not be appropriately used to found some charity. It seems to us that John A. Johnson would have preferred such a thing to a statue. Statues are plenty. From time immemorial the world has honored its heroes in bronze or marble, and rightly so. But a charity from which flows a lasting stream of beneficence, which can save youth or educate it, or assuage the ills of humanity, or care for the aged and infirm, is a monument such as any man could wish to be remembered by. The committee in charge, however, is an unusually able one, and the people will feel that their decision will be a correct and just one.

It may not please certain southern democrats, but Bryan is telling the truth about the tariff. The democrats who went back on party declarations in order to help Aldrich and his crew to fasten an iniquitous tariff law on the American people, deserve to be shown the error of their ways. When the great majority of people in all parties are aroused on this vital question, and feeling is intense, it is reserved for a score of alleged democrats to pervert party principle on behalf of the corporate interests and child-labor-using manufacturers of the South. There is nothing in such a record to point to with pride. One man like Congressman Kitchin, who boldly declared he would vote in the interests of all the people in all congressional districts, rather than the behest of the manufacturers of his district, is now truly representative of the best ideals of the South than twenty Baileys or McEmerys.

THE JOHNSON MEMORIAL.

The Johnson Memorial Commission has fixed $25,000 as the sum needed to erect a fitting memorial to the late governor. Nov. 1 is made the date to close the lists, and it is the desire of the commission that all who desire to give, will kindly do so as soon as possible. The nature of the monument will not be considered until the funds are raised.

Although the list is not growing as fast here as in some of the other communities, a number of names have been added since our last issue. It is to be hoped, however, that when the lists close that we will show as well as the other cities of the state of the same size.

Governor Eberhart's new private secretary, Ralph Wheelock, is a good man and a bright man. The appointment is not a Dunn proposition and every indication points to a great contest for the gubernatorial nomination next year.

The efforts of the people of Bemidji toward raising the $30,000 necessary to purchase the right-of-way for the Soo's entrance to Bemidji are bearing fruit. There is still considerable money to raise, but the hustlers of the northern town will bring home the "bacon."

The Swanville News is now printed and issued from the office in Swanville, and is a neat little sheet. Brother Anderson, who is in charge, is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and should be successful. Mr. Anderson was some time ago editor of the Ogivee Sentinel.

The Catholic cathedral at St. Paul will be built of Minnesota granite. The great archbishop of St. Paul and his committee are such loyal Minnesotans that they have not allowed the somewhat greater cost of the local product to prevent the magnificent temple being constructed of Minnesota stone.

A. M. Welles is again in charge of the Sauk Centre Herald, which he leased some months ago to E. H. Pierce. Brother Welles' old friends will be glad to know that his health is again such that he is able to again get into the harness. The Herald has, especially of late years, been one of the most welcome of our exchanges.

The Litchfield News-Ledger approves Lindbergh's non-partisanship, and in the next breath advises Gov. Eberhart to remove the democratic officeholders. The governor has already announced his intention of following Governor Johnson's policy. There are but a very few office-holders subject to removal at the governor's pleasure. The men who serve fixed terms cannot be touched unless guilty of malfeasance or non-feasance, which must be proved. The News-Ledger and others may desire wholesale execution, but it isn't going to occur.

Harvey Grimmer showed good judgment and wisdom in giving up the position of executive clerk. Mr. Grimmer had been so close an adviser of the late governor and identified in many ways with political activity in the democratic party, that to remain with the new governor would have put him in an awkward position. Grimmer "created," one might say, the position he occupied, and elevated it from a mere clerkship to the dignity of a counselor of the chief executive. He will continue to be heard from.

FAKE WRESTLER SHORES.

A number of our people still remember the fake wrestling match pulled off at the opera house a couple of years ago, in which Bert Shores participated, and succeeded in pulling the legs of a number of Long Prairie "sports."

The following from the St. Paul Dispatch shows some more of Shores' crooked work: "Thomas K. Kane, former county attorney of Ramsey county, has reopened the famous Mabray wrestling swindle in an effort to secure, in Seattle, Wash., the receipts of a match pulled off there recently between Bert Shores, alias 'Young Hackenschmidt,' and Dr. Roller, a wrestler of some note on the Pacific coast."

Mr. Kane has a client in the Mabray case William McGrath of Minneapolis, who lost $10,000 in one of the alleged fake matches, and he secured in the Ramsey county district court a judgment against Young Hackenschmidt for that sum, which he has never been able to serve.

Discussing the case today Mr. Kane said that Young Hackenschmidt has been wrestling in Seattle this summer under the name of Bert Warner and J. C. Maynard. He says that, although the officers at Council Bluffs, Iowa, have indictments of Young Hackenschmidt, J. C. Mabray, a promoter; Gorman, Bennett and Hamilton alleged accessories, they have not been served.

The scheme was to get those swindled to bet on wrestling matches that were supposed to be 'fixed' for 'Young Hackenschmidt,' to win. In the course of the match Hackenschmidt would pretend that he had been killed and the victim would be hustled out of town and told to keep quiet about the affair, on the theory that he would be arrested for murder, as a participant in the event that had caused the wrestler's supposed death.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars were gathered in by the alleged swindlers before the game was exposed.

BULL DISPUTES THE ROAD.

While on a trip through Buckman town in his automobile Sunday G. F. Kircher ran into a bull, which attempted to cross the road in front of the machine. The collision almost made the car go into the ditch and knocked the front axle back about three inches. The bull was not hurt much as it quickly picked itself up, snorted, and was soon seen in the distance.

A MOTHERS' MEETING.

A mothers' meeting will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Congregational church. Mrs. C. A. Billig will sing and Mrs. R. D. Musser will give instrumental selections. All mothers and friends of the children are requested to attend.

Constantine Droszkowki has resigned his position as clerk in the Pantzke Bros. grocery store, and succeeds Julius Ehmman in the baggage and freight depot, half day and half night work, the latter having left for Montana, where he will take another railroad position.

The annual distribution of state aid to high and graded schools has been announced. The total amount distributed is $498,482. In all 210 schools and 151 graded schools participate, the high schools receiving $1,750 and the graded schools $60 each. An additional $500 is given to fifteen high schools as special aid. This is the first time in fifteen years that the schools of the state have received the full amount of the state aid authorized them under the law.

Governors of Minnesota

WILLIS A. GORMAN—1853-1857.

Willis A. Gorman, the second territorial governor, was born near Flemingsburg, Ky., Jan. 12, 1816. He was graduated from the law department of Indiana university in 1836, and he was elected to the state legislature in Indiana and served five or six terms. He enlisted as a private in the Third Indiana regiment for service in the Mexican war in 1846 and was chosen major. He was at the battle of Buena Vista, where his horse was shot under him, and he received permanent injury from the fall. A year later he raised the Fourth regiment, Indiana volunteers, became its colonel and served until the close of the Mexican war. In 1848 Gorman was elected to congress and served until March 4, 1853. The following May he was appointed governor of the territory of Minnesota by President Pierce to succeed Alexander Ramsey. Governor Gorman served as colonel of the First Minnesota volunteers during the civil war and was made brigadier general of volunteers. He was the first Democratic governor of Minnesota.
