Most all the Darling farmers took in the fair at Little Falls last week.

Hunters have been all around here, and shot a lot of tame chickens of August Blomquist's. Better keep off of August's place. One of the hunters shot a big blue crane.

BUCKMAN

An item in the Buckman correspon-dence dated September 2, which came out in the issue of September 3, which referred to a holdup by a man and his son, we are reliably informed is al-together away from the truth; that there was only a condition whereby there might have been a fight on account of the action of the person named in the article. While the article did not name the gentleman and his son, we understand that it is, or has been circulated about as to those meant, and is a gross injustice to people who are honorable. A paper depends on the reliability of its cor-respondent, and he in turn on the re-liability of the one that gives the item. The matter of wilfully inserting an untruth, especially where it has to do with the character of a person, is of no small moment and the manage-ment of this paper will always be pleased to learn when its correspon-dents are using its columns for what might be termed a "smart joke," or used for spite. While we do not believe that the friends who know the people referred to, take any stock in the story, we are glad to draw their attention to the correction.—Editor.

WILEY UPHELD BY PRESIDENT

Pure Food Expert Praised by Chief Executive.

SHAKEUP SEEMS PROBABLE

Mr. Taft Admits Lack of Harmony in Department of Agriculture and Hints at Future Action.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 18.—Dr. Har-vey W. Wiley, federal pure food ex-pert, has been upheld by President Taft in his findings upon the charges preferred against the pure food expert by the personnel board of the depart-ment.

In his review of the case the pres-ident praises Dr. Wiley and holds Dr. Rusby guiltless also. The recommen-dation of Attorney General Wickersham that "condign" punishment be visited upon Dr. Wiley is passed over by the chief executive with the re-mark that at the time he made it Mr. Wickersham was not in possession of as much data as is now available.

The executive admits that there has been a lack of harmony in the depart-ment of agriculture and hints that ac-tion upon it will follow later.

This is taken to mean, by some, that there will be a general shakeup, involving, perhaps, the retirement of Secretary Wilson.

The action of the president fulfills a promise made when he left Wash-ington to settle the famous case, which has already extended over sev-eral months, before leaving Beverly.

In his decision, which is in the form of a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, the president declares that Dr. Wiley was justified in all that he did in the matter of employment of Dr. H. Rusby as an expert chemist; that he was no party to the correspondence involved in the case; that Dr. Wiley acted in accordance with numerous precedents and that he cannot but command the sympathy of every one for his earnest effort to maintain the pure food law.

The president also recommends the retention of Dr. H. H. Rusby in the government service and rules ad-versely to the decision of the person-nel board of the department, which advised that besides Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, Dr. L. F. Keblor, chief of the drug laboratory of the bureau, be "allowed to resign."
