START CONCRETE DAM

Water Power Co. to Replace Present Dam with Improvements.

The Little Falls Water Power company at present has a crew of men at work cleaning up the sluiceway and neck of the island preparatory to some extensive improvements to be made. Engineers connected with the Minneapolis power company were in the city Sunday, making a preliminary survey on which they will submit, within a month, an estimate for the construction of a concrete dam to be put in immediately below the present dam. It has not as yet been decided whether to build the new concrete structure in five or six sections, but work on the first section of 150 feet, covering that portion of the dam between the east end of the east wing and the west end of the sluiceway, was commenced the first of the week, and one section will be constructed each year until the work is completed. Within another week it is expected to have between 15 and 20 men at work on this first section which will be completed some time before December 1.

The present sluiceway is to be deepened at the mouth so that it can be used as a waste gate. Another sluiceway is to be constructed west of the present one, at the end of the west wing. The new dam will be same height as the old but in addition will probably have flash-boards that can be raised and lowered by machinery.

A diamond drill is to be used for the purpose of ascertaining the depth and extent of the rock ledge on which the new concrete dam is to be constructed. Though the present dam is in good shape and will be left intact, the concrete dam will be of a permanent nature and when completed will be as substantial a structure as could be wished for, and will take care of the future demand that will be made on it by the Greater Little Falls.

It is expected that the crushed rock for the concrete dam will be purchased from the state's quarry at the St. Cloud reformatory.

He was generally known here, having for years been employed at the local hotels. He was a faithful worker, whole hearted and of a genial disposition and was well liked by those he associated with. He was a member of the I. O. R. M.

His nephew and a sister, both of Cincinnati, survive him. The funeral was held Saturday morning in Cincinnati.

The proposition, which was made by Mr. Landahl, calls for an easement of the lot, however, while the city would want warranty deed for it, free of delinquent taxes. PRESIDENT VINCENT INAGURATED.

President Vincent of the University of Minnesota was inaugurated Wednesday. John Lind, president of the board of regents, presided. Other speakers besides the president, who delivered his inaugural address, were Governor Eberhardt, Former President Cyrus Northrup and Wm. W. Folwell, the first president of the university. President Vincent's address was in part as follows:

"A university should aim to serve the commonwealth through individuals, rather than to offer personal privileges and advancement to a few individuals at state expense.

"The other philosophy would reduce the university to a machine equipped for turning out persons prepared at public expense forgetting a living out of the citizens who had already been taxed to train their exploiters.

After paying a high tribute to Former President Cyrus Northrup, the speaker painted an ideal university.

"The first president of John Hopkins university was fond of saying that buildings are but the shell of the university, its real life lies in the men. Better inspired investigators and teachers in barracks than a staff of industrious mediocrity in marble palaces.

"Best of all, alert, well trained, high minded scholars in serviceable buildings with adequate equipment. The university which is to remain true to its ideals, will draw and hold an able staff by salaries that banish petty anxieties, by freedom from drudgery, by opportunities for research and public service and by dignifying recognitions."
